PRESIDENT GETS ALL HONORS DUE FOREIGN RULER

Canadians Cheer His Speech in French.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on Back Page.)

QUEBEC, July 31.—[Special.]—On the history steeped battlements of this city the United States and Canada today joined through their chief magistrates in presenting to the arming old world an example of understanding on both sides of 3,000 miles of unfortified border.

Against a background of military pageantry President Roosevelt, Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King pledged themselves to further the example of friendship by tightening the bonds of good will.

The pledge was made on Dufferin terrace overlooking the St. Lawrence river before a shaft raised jointly to the French Montcalm and the British Wolfe, commanders who fell in the battle on the Plains of Abraham which shifted the dominion to the British flag.

Held a Fitting Symbol.

The shaft, which carries the Latin inscription, "Valor Gave Them a Common Death, History a Common Fame, and Posterity a Common Monument," was held by the speakers to be symbolic of the international unity of North America.

To emphasize the unity, Mr. Roosevelt spoke in both English and French and received a spirited reception from 5,000 listeners at the foot of the terrace. He gave his salutation, "My friends and neighbors of Canada," a few yards from the spot where Richard Montgomery was killed when he and Benedict Arnold, then without treasonable thought, led American troops against British forces in 1775.

"There is a nobler monument; for on these fields of battle was born the living miracle we are privileged to see today—two great national stocks residing side by side in peace and friendship, each contributing its particular genius to the molding of a nation," he said. "This is a monument worthy of those who gave their lives; this is an example from which all thinking men draw deep satisfaction and inspiration."

Rebels at Word "Foreigner."

In a lighter vein the President said he read in a newspaper during his cruise that he was to be received with all the honors customarily accorded a foreign potentate. Turning to Lord Tweedsmuir, who was resplendent in a silver encrusted blue uniform, Mr. Roosevelt said he was grateful for the honors but that "something within me rebelled at the word foreign."

"I say this because when I have been in Canada I have never heard a Canadian refer to an American as a foreigner," he added. "He is just an American. And, in the same way in the United States, Canadians are not 'foreigners,' they are 'Canadians.' That simple little distinction illustrates to me better than anything else the relationship between our two countries."

Mr. Roosevelt pointed to the common heritage of democratic government in the United States, Canada, and the British empire, and asserted grave problems before the world need for solution frank dealing, coöperation, and give and take.

Pays Tribute to George V.

The President paid tribute to the late King George, as "a friend whose voice had penetrated into almost every home in the United States—a great king and a great gentleman." He added that he was also privileged to know King Edward VIII. and continued: "We look forward to the day when, finding it possible to come again to the dominion, he may also visit with his neighbors in the United States."

Mr. Roosevelt also extended an invitation to Lord Tweedsmuir, who is better known in the United States as John Buchan, author of adventure and mystery novels, to visit the White House with Lady Tweedsmuir. At the same time he asked Premier Mackenzie King, a White House visitor in negotiation of the reciprocal trade treaty, to retrace his route to Washington.

His French Brings Cheers.

Just before this conclusion Mr. Roosevelt addressed himself in French to the prime minister of Quebec province and the mayor of Quebec,

INCREASES LAID TO DROUTH AND CROP 'CONTROL'

New Deal Tinkering Assailed.

The evil effects of the drouth that has lain over the central west and the plains states for months—coupled with New Deal regimentation of crops—have now become apparent to consumers. The prices of grains, foodstuffs, and common vegetables and fruits have advanced tremendously and, in the opinion of experts, the cost of living will go still higher in the near future.

Corn, the golden staple that makes the Mississippi valley the world's greatest food producing region, climbed on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday to $1.02 a bushel for the September delivery. Not since late 1930 has dollar corn been traded in.

Fear Smallest Yield in 55 Years.

Traders fought to buy at that price. Reports from the corn belt were that the 1936 yield would be the smallest in 55 years, unless heavy rains come in a short time. Generally speaking, the statisticians look for a smaller corn crop than the 1,380,000,000 bushels that set a new low record for modern times in 1934.

Since July 1 the price of corn on the future market has risen 35⅝ cents a bushel. No such upturn was ever recorded in a single month before. The price of wheat also had advanced sharply, September closing yesterday at $1.10¾, or more than 10 cents higher than the price a month ago.

High Meat Next Fall.

That is important. A small corn crop means high meat prices a few months later. But the Chicago housewife, or any American housewife, has not been granted a breathing spell before the high price era sets in. A new high price for the last six years was set yesterday in the butter market—and in the egg market—and in the potato market.

Spuds are higher now than at any time since trading in them began on the Mercantile exchange. Cheese futures are at a record high, and lard is selling higher than at any time this season.

New Signs at Greengrocer's.

Retail vegetable markets have scant supplies of the greenstuffs that are usually taken for granted on Aug. 1. Roasting ears are to be had in meager numbers and retail at a nickel apiece. Tomatoes are high. The supply of dairy products is small and growing smaller, and increased retail prices are threatened.

The following tabulations, which do not yet reflect fully the developments in the wholesale markets, show how the cost of living has risen in the last year. The quotations are averages of prices furnished by retail stores:

Butter [lb.]	$ .39	$ .29
Milk [qt.]	.12	.11
Eggs [doz.]	.35	.33
Cheese [American, lb.]	.25	.22
Sugar [10 lbs.]	.54	.57
Potatoes [peck]	.55	.23
Cabbage [lb.]	.07	.02
Carrots [bunch]	.05	.02½
Green beans [qt.]	.15	.05
Fresh peas [lb.]	.08	.09
Bread [1 lb. loaf]	.05	.06

Housewives already know that oranges, lemons, and grapefruit are dear and scarce. Meat prices have been kept down largely because farmers in the drouth regions have been marketing unusually large supplies. They have no feed to carry their animals longer.

From New York came the discour-

SHIRLEY TEMPLE THREAT TARGET; BOY IS ARRESTED

Los Angeles, Cal., July 31.—(AP)—Department of justice agents announced here today the arrest in Grant, Neb., of Sterling Walrod Powell, 16 year old boy, on a charge of attempting to extort $25,000 from the father of Shirley Temple, child film actress. Powell sent a letter threatening Shirley's life, agents said.

Federal officials said that the letter, which the youth admitted writing, said:

"Unless $25,000 is dropped from an airplane near Grant, Neb., on May 15, the life of Shirley Temple will be endangered."

Agents quoted George Temple, the little actress' father, as saying the letter apparently was lost in her fan mail and was not opened until May 18, three days after the deadline set in the letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Temple and their famous daughter are now touring the northwest.

The boy told department of justice agents that he sent the letter on impulse after seeing a ransom plot motion picture and "didn't mean to go through with it."

Angelo Waits Too Long to See the Fire Carts

Angelo Lumbardo, 31 years old, 162 North Clinton street, likes to see fire engines rushing about. Last night he turned in an alarm at Jefferson street and Washington boulevard and was still there when thirteen pieces of apparatus arrived. There was no fire. Some bystanders pointed out Lumbardo to Police Sergeant Archie Cooper, who arrested him.

St. Paul, Minn., July 31.—[Special.]—John F. Peifer, former night club proprietor, killed himself by taking poison in his cell today two hours after he was sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment for his part as the alleged "fingerman" in the $100,000 kidnaping of William Hamm Jr., St. Paul brewer.

Physicians said Peifer apparently had been dead about half an hour when he was found by Emory Clewett, chief jailer. He had been alone in his cell less than an hour. Police Surgeon E. W. Miller said the prisoner had "some sort of a gum" in his mouth.

Jailer Clewett immediately summoned a police ambulance, a fire department rescue squad, and a physician. They worked on him for some time in an effort to restore heart action and breathing, but failed.

Taken Back to Cell.

Peifer was taken to his cell shortly before noon, after he had been sentenced by Federal Judge M. M. Joyce. Edmund C. Bartholmey, convicted Hamm kidnaper, and Jack Seger, held on a postoffice robbery charge, occupied adjacent cells in the same cell block.

Seger said lunch was served immediately after Peifer was brought in. A few minutes later, Seger related, Peifer appeared to be weeping. Bartholmey said Peifer did not eat as the other two men began partaking of their meal.

A little later, the prisoners said, Peifer fell back on his cot as if in convulsions. When the chief jailer and Deputy Sherif Jerome Fournell arrived at the cell they found the former night club owner lying on his side on the cot.

Poison in His Gum.

Dr. W. D. Kelly, physician for the federal government, expressed the belief that some sort of poison had been mixed with the gum found in Peifer's mouth.

Jail authorities said they found only $1.31 in the dead man's pockets as his body was moved to the county morgue, where a postmortem was to be held. Peifer had furnished $100,000 bail for his liberty before his trial.

The suicide's attractive young widow, Mrs. Violet Peifer, reached the jail half an hour after her husband's death occurred.

During his two weeks trial Peifer had strongly protested his innocence. He took the stand in his own defense and emphatically denied he had brought the Barker-Karpis kidnap gang here, as charged, or that he had received $10,000 of the ransom money for "fingering" Hamm.

A federal court jury convicted him Saturday and he was sentenced this morning after Judge Joyce had denied a motion for a new trial. In passing sentence the judge sternly lectured Peifer and emphasized the enormity of the crime of which he was convicted.

"When you have paid your debt to society," Judge Joyce said, "you may come back, and by an application of some of the lessons which you learned on your mother's knee at Litchfield, and with the aid of your brothers who have so devoutedly stood by you, you may still pick up the broken strands and resume a position in society."

Peifer's death was the second in the county jail here under similar circumstances. Willie Sharkey, member of the Touhy gang of Chicago, hanged himself in his cell with a necktie while awaiting trial for the Hamm kidnaping.

U. S. Envoy to Spain Again Flees Danger

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, from his "floating embassy" on the United States coast guard cutter Cayuga, reported to the state department tonight that he had had a hairbreadth escape from bombardment in the port of Gijon in war torn Spain.

Bowers said only a precipitous flight from the harbor saved him from a shelling by a rebel warship. Bowers had gone to Gijon to see whether any Americans wished to be evacuated, but the appearance of the belligerent ship drove him away.

Fears "False Impression."

"Before the ambassador could go ashore," the state department's announcement said, "the rebel ship Cervera, which yesterday shelled the town three times, was seen steaming back.

"As nothing could be accomplished during a shelling, and the appearance of the Cayuga at the same time as the Cervera might create false impressions in Gijon, the Cayuga is proceeding to Vigo, where it is due Saturday morning. The Cayuga will stop at Creunna and Ferrol on the return trip."

Bowers' flight was the latest episode in the career of America's floating envoy. Two days ago he left the resort town of San Sebastian for the safety of the sea. Bowers had been vacationing at his summer home, Feunterrabia, five miles from San Sebastian, when the revolt began.

Getting Americans Out.

Meanwhile Eric C. Wendelin, third secretary, who had been left at the embassy in Madrid while his superiors were summering on the seacoast, was striving to send out American nationals by train to the coast towns and safety on ships.

So far 106 Americans have left the Spanish capital and all are reported to have reached Valencia, where they will be taken aboard the United States cruiser Quincy. Five more were to leave Madrid tonight. Seventy-four persons were left at the embassy, some of them Filipinos. In addition there are about 100 Americans living in their homes who have not expressed a desire to leave.

Ten Americans Quit Palma.

The Quincy evacuated ten Americans from Palma, in the Balearic Islands, and suggested that the Exochorda of the American Export Line put in at the port for further evacuation. The Exochorda later reported that it had taken 92 persons from Palma. Their nationality was not reported. The foreigners were evacuated just before Spanish government planes bombed Palma.

Among the Americans who left Madrid was one Illinoisan, Lucile K. Delano of East St. Louis. Minna Korkowsky of 4459 Woodlawn avenue, Chicago, arrived at Marseilles from Barcelona on a British ship.

MR. DILG MISSES SIGNAL IN TAVERN LICENSE HUDDLE

Village President Herbert A. Dilg of Morton Grove announced Thursday night that a meeting of the village liquor commission would be held last night to consider the revocation of the license of the Lincoln tavern, a notorious gambling resort that was recently raided by the state's attorney's police but is still operating as a dining and drinking place. A meeting of the village council was held last night, but Dilg was absent. Trustee Peter F. Gebel said that Dilg was chairman of the liquor commission, but had not appointed any members and that if anything was done about the license Dilg was the only one who could do it. The Lincoln tavern still has its papers.

700 Men Battle Michigan Forest Fire; Families Flee

Marquette, Mich., July 31.—(AP)—Ten families prepared tonight to abandon their farm homes, which are in the path of a forest fire burning out of control near Traunik, in Alger county. Seven hundred men were fighting the fire, which has burned over 1,000 acres of tinder dry slashings and cut-over land, and calls went out tonight for 300 additional CCC camp enrolees as the flames continued to sweep forward.

Carrier Pigeons Soar Over Air Corps Officer's Grave

San Antonio, Tex., July 31.—(AP)—Sergt. Harry Waters, nationally known army air corps pigeon handler, was buried here today. Forty pigeons were released at the grave, winging skyward in widening circles before heading back to the loft on the military reservation. Sergt. Waters died Wednesday.

BARCELONA IN GRIP OF TERROR; NUNS SHOT DOWN

Leftist 'Purifiers' Also Kill Fascists.

SPANISH PHOTOS.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BARCELONA, Spain, July 31.—The anti-Fascist reaction in Barcelona and the Catalan region has entered the stage of a reign of terror. Barcelona is outwardly calm, but underneath the surface lurks a terrible story of house searches by leftist "purification squads," the seizure of individuals or whole families and their subsequent assassination in lonely spots, and the murder of nuns and priests.

This has been done in obedience to the watchword, "It is necessary to stamp out Fascism and its friends."

These acts are not openly sanctioned by the anti-Fascist military committee of fifteen which is in supreme control. The committee has even announced its determination to end them and punish the responsible persons.

"Excesses to Be Expected."

However, one of the leftist leaders shrugged his shoulders with the remark:

"These excesses are to be expected in retaliation by persons who have been the victims of the terrible and merciless repressions by the rightist government following the 1934 revolts in Asturias and Catalonia."

The Catalan government, headed by President Luis Companys, still exists. It issues decrees, but the military committee is the supreme authority. Indeed, four members of the government parties are on the committee.

"The government does no more than sanction what we have done," one of the members of the committee said. "Communists have seized the public utilities, industries and land, and the government is obliged to sanction accomplished facts."

A Tale of Horror.

Near Barcelona rises a mountain famous in Catalan lore, known as Tididado. Across its shoulder, through forests, goes a winding road known as La Rabassado, where there are many lonely spots. There every morning for a week or longer have been found the bodies of a dozen or more persons who had disappeared from their homes or had been taken from them by search committees.

An example: Last Monday morning the local revolutionary committee at the suburb of Vallvidrea tried unsuccessfully to halt an automobile that sped through containing three armed men and six women.

When the automobile returned later without the women, a search was made for them. The bodies of four who had been shot dead were found in a lonely spot on the mountain. Another was too seriously wounded to be moved, while the sixth, still conscious, could be transported to the local Red Cross hospital.

Four Nuns Found Slain.

The women, nuns of the Dominican convent in Barcelona, had been taken out of the convent on the pretext that they were being led to safety. The dead victims lay on the ground all night and were brought to Barcelona next day.

As for the other side of the picture, leftist newspapers charge that in Saragossa and adjacent territory workers have been killed en masse. Indeed, it seems to be a frequent conclusion that the civil war now raging will be both attended and followed by bloody reprisals, whichever side wins.

The leftist newspaper La Solidaridad Obrera tells of "twenty or thirty Fascists appearing before the revolutionary committee after Popular Front troops entered Caspe Saturday. Monday morning nearly all were executed without a tribunal to judge them. Popular justice prevailed. The people, remembering their excesses, demanded their lives. When an innocent one was brought by mistake, the people cried out, 'Not that one!'"

MARCH ON MADRID

MADRID, July 31.—(AP)—The Spanish rebels announced tonight they were marching against Madrid and it appeared a crucial battle in the two weeks old revolt was near.

Broadcasts from Fascist stations said four columns of rebel forces were converging on the city in a new offensive. The offensive against Madrid last week failed.

One column, headed by Gen. Herrera, was said to have occupied El Pardo, 15 miles from the capital.

A third, under Col. Sanador, captured Navasenada, 20 miles distant, the radio reports said.

Gen. Ponte led the fourth, moving from Leon through the mountains, on Pueblo and Guadarrama.

Claim Loyalists Retreat.

There was little resistance, the radio dispatches said. Loyalists were said to be withdrawing.

The rebels asserted the government suffered lack of properly trained aviation officers, was poorly equipped with bombs, and that most planes were piloted by sergeants and privates.

Miners bolstered loyalist troops for a new siege of the northern city of Oviedo, but delayed direct attack to spare the city further damage. The city had changed hands at least twice during heavy fighting of the last three days.

Thrust at Saragossa.

Catalan troops thrust at Saragossa in a series of encounters. "Many casualties" were reported.

Advices from Navalperal said a loyalist column headed by Col. Mangader routed a rebel force, killing sixty-three and taking a number of prisoners.

Leonardo Santos Moraes, Portuguese newspaper man who is a political exile from his own country, died of wounds while reporting for a Spanish newspaper.

The government today began investigating affairs of the Anglo-South American bank. It was not indicated in what connection the investigation was being made.

Rebels Bombard Highway.

HENDAYE, France, July 31.—(AP)—Rebels bombarded the highway between San Sebastian and Irun tonight while refugees reported thousands of rebel troops gathered for a drive to the sea.

The government's loyal troops and leftist militiamen dug in at Renteria, in front of which gathered thousands of rebel soldiers preparing for their seaward dash.

Leftist artillery bombarded Oyarzun, which has changed hands several times in the last few days, from Fort Guadelupe.

Thousands of thrill seekers gathered on the frontier in the hope of seeing a battle, but Irun and other Spanish towns along the border remained quiet.

Lisbon Hears of Atrocities.

LISBON, Portugal, July 31.—(AP)—A dispatch from the correspondent of the Lisbon newspaper Seculo Salamanca, from Avila, Spain, today said communists had gouged out the eyes of an aged priest, Basilio Sanchez, dragging him through the streets while they sang the "Internationale." Then they burned him to death after dousing him with gasoline, the dispatch added. Fascists, taking over the town, were reported to have taken strong reprisals, lynching those communists responsible for the affair.

The Spanish chargé d'affaires and first secretary of the Spanish embassy here resigned and, with the ambassador away, the embassy closed down.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 1.—[Saturday.]—Reliable reports from Rabat, French Morocco, that fourteen Italian planes had been delivered to Spanish rebels at Nador, near Melilla, Spanish Morocco, spread consternation through this morning's Paris newspapers. Italian intervention was accepted as a fact, both by right and left wing organs, but none suggested retaliation.

The government, meantime, awaited a report by Gen. Victor Denain, former air minister, on two Italian planes which were forced down near Oran, Algeria, on a flight from Sardinia to Spanish Morocco. It was predicted generally, however, that Premier Leon Blume's régime would be forced by diplomatic considerations to whitewash the Italian government and blame private aviation companies.

The two planes forced down apparently started out with the fourteen reported to have landed at Nador. The Italian consul at Oran declared the machines belonged to the Savoia Marchetti factory and that the flyers were reserve officers and noncoms employed by the firm.

SPANISH BOURBON FAMILY GATHERS TO SEE NEW BABY

CANNES, France, July 31.—(AP)—Spanish members of the Bourbon family hurried to Cannes today to visit the princess of the Asturias and her new born daughter. The eight pound baby was born last night to the wife of Prince Juan, heir presumptive to the former throne of Spain.

The former heads of the Spanish royal family were en route to France, Queen Victoria from Cap Martin and King Alfonso from Czechoslovakia.

A Bourbon family custom calls for presentation of a new born child before the assembled members of the royal family. This procedure raised the possibility of a meeting between the estranged former king and queen.

The princess is the former Maria Mercedes of Bourbon-Sicily. Her husband is the third son of Alfonso.

Spanish Envoy to Hungary Goes Over to Rebel Side

[Rebel leaders recently formed a "junta of national defense" at Burgos, Spain, with Gen. Miguel Cabanellas as president and other military leaders as members.]

SPANISH TROOPS INVADE SOUTHERN REBEL TERRITORY

Cross Mountains; Menace Hold on Andalusia.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, July 31.—From the southern slopes of the Sierra Morena mountains, down which he was advancing rapidly in a motorized column into the rebel stronghold of Andalusia, Gen. Miaja, loyal commander who is fighting the army-Fascist revolt, last night got Gen. Orgaz, rebel war lord at Cordoba, on the telephone.

Gen. Miaja summoned Gen. Orgaz to surrender and avoid bloodshed and possible destruction of the ancient city on the banks of the Quadalquivir river, where Roman palaces are stretched for miles, where the Spanish caliphate ruled for centuries, and where today the Moors again are garrisoned. Gen. Orgaz has a historic name. He made a historic reply.

Answers with Single Word.

"The gallant soldier," according to Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano, another rebel, who is just now in Seville, "answered with a word which I cannot very well use on the radio."

It was the word Gen. Cambronne used at Waterloo.

But. Gen. Miaja, apparently undeterred, is moving implacably forward through the olive groves. It is interesting to note, since Gen. Orgaz invoked the Napoleonic general's defiance, that he is near Bailen, where the great Bonaparte suffered his first defeat, and that at the hands of the Spaniards fighting to save their country from an invader.

Madrid tonight was silent on the Miaja advance for obvious reasons, and Seville, rebel stronghold, for equally obvious reasons was not explicit about the nature of the defense.

Valencia Still Loyal.

Here in the south the government's broadcasts from Madrid cannot be heard in the daytime. It was thus a bad day for government supporters here when reports from London announced the fall of Valencia, citadel of republicanism.

But tonight not only did Gen. Martinez Monge, commander of the Valencia garrison, broadcast a declaration of loyalty to the republic, but Col. Yague, rebel Foreign legion commander at Ceuta, who was given command of the column that was to advance upon Madrid from the south, radioed from Ceuta, where he is still bottled up by the loyal fleet, that Monge's betrayal of the army's cause was "due to his being a Mason and thus under the thumb of Diego Martinez-Barrio," former leftist premier.

The latter, it was revealed tonight, was sent to Valencia to organize a second republican government in event Madrid fell.

Spurns Any Compromise.

Queipo de Llano in a broadcast said Martinez-Barrio is urging the government to hold a conference with the rebel generals. Martinez-Barrio replied that there are many conservative republicans in Seville and that it would not be surprising if Queipo hoped thus to save the Andalusian capital from the wrath of the left extremists which is inevitable should the uprising of the generals collapse. The Popular Fronters [government supporters] declare any republican who tried to compromise with the generals now would be committing suicide.

Spirits rose giddily in towns and villages of the south, which have been living nightmares before the threat of invasion by the Foreign legion and the Moors, when the government announced the fall of Villaneuva de la Serena, last rebel garrison holding out in the important province of Badajoz.

I talked tonight with one of the Popular Front committeemen from Malaga who had just arrived from there. He insisted that Malaga not only still resists any advance by the rebels, but is preparing to send a flying column of troops and militia, backed by planes, to wrest Granada from the insurgents.

Garrison Commander Seized.

I was informed at Algeciras that the rebel commanders, most of whom are officers of Moroccan troops, are mounting special guards over the local garrison of the Spanish infantry lest they attempt to declare for the government.

The removal of the garrison's commander, Col. March, who was taken as a prisoner to Ceuta, is considered significant. All lights were out at Algeciras. Popular Front refugees here are prepared to cross the bay at the first sign of trouble to lend a hand in the extermination of the invaders.

Nervousness reigns at La Linea. The frontier was sealed to newspaper men and camera men. The Moors began a house to house search for boys of 18 to 21 to impress them into service for the vanguard of the proposed attack on Malaga, which never seems to materialize. Many youths fled to Gibraltar.

Moors Hold Hostages.

One, with tears of rage in his eyes, protested to me:

"What right have they got to call us up? Only the government can call us and our government is in Madrid, not Tetuan" [Spanish Morocco].

Two hundred Popular Front supporters are held in barracks at La Linea virtually as hostages and may be insurance that the Moors again will see their native hills.

Even the Gibraltar Chronicle and official gazette here, which has persistently referred to the government troops and ships as "Red," and has printed only rebel broadcasts, now has begun to acknowledge the existence of a republican government in Madrid.

A copy of the Seville edition of the monarchist A. B. C., whose Madrid plant was confiscated, came to my hands tonight. A headline, "Absolute Normality in Seville," covers a series of brief accounts of mopping up in outlying towns in the provinces of Seville and Cordoba which, in the first days of the revolt, had thwarted the local military and Fascists. Each of these is a thumbnail sketch that could be expanded into a novel of horrors.

Find 16 Corpses in Jail.

Here is a typical brief: "One of the mopping up columns reached La Palma del Condado. In the jail they found sixteen corpses. The leading citizens of the right were rounded up [when the local plotters failed] in a tiny patio, where they underwent the savage fury of the Marxist hordes. Shots were fired and bombs tossed in from upper windows while the prisoners tried to find shelter in the corners.

"The torture lasted thirteen days, when a liberating column arrived. Among the dead were—[there followed a typical list, including a priest, a colonel, a tax collector, and the managers of certain estates]. The troops punished those responsible."

This laconic announcement referred to the activities of a firing squad which, just as the "Reds" had done, rounded up the leading citizens of the government camp and shot them forthwith.

More "Horrors" Listed.

As the foreign legion entered Utrera "singing," Gen. Queipo reported, the "Reds" executed seven leading citizens, including a priest and a sacristan. A college of Salesian monks where children of the poor are educated free was untouched during the "Red" domination, although a monk was murdered in the streets.

A famous bullfighter, Pepe el Algabeno, once the idol of the duchesses of Madrid society, distinguished himself, said Queipo, tracking down and executing members of the People's Front who tried to blow up a bridge at Lacartuja.

"Pepe was less afraid of the Marxists than he is of bulls," said Queipo jovially.

In the same breath the rebel war lord invited the populations of El Arahal, Moron, Utrera, and other towns punished by the troops who apparently took to the fields and hills to escape the legionnaires, to return.

"I pardon your madness," he said, "but if any of you is caught with arms I will shoot you pitilessly."

The quarrel continued in the hallway of her home, she said, and he threatened to kill himself. Miss Zygmunt said she had started to search Wojcieszek's pockets to see if he was armed when he suddenly displayed a pistol and shot himself. He was dead when the police arrived.

HUNDREDS SLAIN IN ETHIOPIAN RAID ON ADDIS ABABA

ADDIS ABABA, July 31.—(AP)—Bullets flew around the United States legation for three hours while Italians repulsed Ethiopian "bandit groups," it was disclosed today.

[An official communique to Rome said the incident took place Tuesday and the attackers were speedily dispersed, suffering "very severe losses."]

The attack came from the west of the city, where the American legation is located. As soon as the alarm was given part of a strong guard stationed around the American Presbyterian hospital was rushed to reinforce the legation. No Americans were hurt.

The enemy column was wiped out in a furious battle to the northeast in which new formations of Ethiopian volunteers fused into native Ascri troops gave a good account of themselves.

Britain Avoids Ethiopian Action.

LONDON, July 31.—(AP)—The first parliament of King Edward VIII. of England ended its summer session today as the parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs drew cheers with the announcement: "Great Britain has no current intention of recognizing the annexation of Ethiopia." The statement was made by Viscount Robert Cranborne during debate in which the foreign relations of his majesty's government were comprehensively surveyed.

EX-NEW YORKER LEADS FASCISTS IN SPAIN'S REVOLT

OBLEGARDO, Northern Rebel Headquarters, Spain, July 31.—(AP)—A former New York schoolboy is leading Spain's Fascist fighters on the northern front.

José Sainz, whose father once owned a garage in the Bronx, led his blue shirted Fascists into battle today side by side with regular army troops.

Sainz is the only Fascist chief still accounted for in the present revolt. José Primo de Rivera, blue shirt leader and son of the former dictator, is missing "somewhere in Spain."

GREEN ASSAILS LEWIS; WILLING TO RESIGN POST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 31.—[Special.]—In a speech marked by intense emotion, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today charged that John L. Lewis, czar of the United Mine Workers, and his followers had substituted "jungle law" for democracy in their attempts to organize the steel industry.

Green asserted that the issue in the greatest civil strife organized labor has ever suffered in this country was not between the plans of the twelve rebel unions for organization along mass or industrial lines as against the traditional craft unionism, but whether the majority should rule in the A. F. of L.

Ready to Give Up Leadership.

Prepared to make any personal sacrifice, even to his own resignation, Green said that he would do all within his power to "bind up the wounds."

The actions of Lewis and the unions leagued with him as the Committee for Industrial Organization will be weighed by the A. F. of L. executive council Monday, in a trial on charges of "fomenting insurrection," at which the recalcitrant leaders have refused to appear. A majority of the council is in favor of suspending the CIO unions.

Green did not mention Lewis by name in his speech, which was delivered at the National Press club. He referred to his adversary as a man "with a consuming desire for glory." The mass industrial organization plans of this man had been voted down by a majority at the Atlantic City convention of the A. F. of L. last year, Green recalled.

Majority or Minority Rule?

"Shall the A. F. of L. follow the democratic procedure of government by majority, or shall the minority rule?" demanded Green. "Shall the majority rule be substituted for the law of the jungle—the survival of the fittest?

"There is only one answer. Either the decision of the majority is the supreme law of the A. F. of L. or chaos and disorder will follow. We can't have two governments in the United States, nor two congresses."

The A. F. of L. as a united body had served labor for more than a half century, Green declared, and was deeply imbedded in the economic structure of the nation.

"We depend upon our success for those who are devoted to the movement," said Green. "With some it is a religion. The strength of our men and women is weakened in proportion just as the federation is divided by family quarrels and internal dissension. This other organization is a constant menace to our strength."

Humans Not Like Sacks.

As for the oft-repeated charge of the CIO unions that the A. F. of L. leadership had failed to organize the unorganized, Green asserted that you couldn't "move human beings like sacks of salt or pounds of sugar."

"And why hasn't Great Britain organized all its workers?" asked Green. "Our federation was patterned after the labor movement in England. And, may I ask, why hasn't the church saved all the sinners?"

LLOYDS REFUSES TO INSURE SAFETY OF CASH IN SPAIN

LONDON, July 31.—(AP)—Large volumes of business have come to Lloyds, underwriters dealing in risks, against losses of money and property in the Spanish rebellion, it was reported tonight.

Insurance against confiscation of money and securities in Spain, which earlier cost 5 per cent, is no longer being written. Rates for insurance against property loss vary according to the district in which the holdings are situated and to the portent of information emanating from those vicinities. The cost, however, ranges between $10 and $15 monthly for each $500.

Some underwriters said the rates for coverage against property losses due to the civil war are changing hourly according to the news from Spain. Others said risks are being underwritten only "when the underwriter considers the news fairly favorable."

4 CONVICTS FROM DEVIL'S ISLAND REACH TRINIDAD

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, July 31.—(AP)—Four exhausted fugitives from the French penal colony at Cayenne, French Guiana, gained a few days' respite here today when one of their number disappeared just when police were about to set them adrift again in their open boat.

An island-wide search was undertaken for the missing man, Jean Liotard. A few hours later police found him lying unconscious in the city hospital, where he had been taken after he collapsed in a street. Hospital authorities said he was exhausted. The police decided upon a complete investigation and postponed deportation of the other fugitives until Monday.

The escaped convicts dragged their little boat up on the shore near Port of Spain this morning.

NAZIS AND ITALY ACCEPT BID FOR A NEW LOCARNO

Will Seek Pact with Britain and France.

LONDON, July 31.—(AP)—A fresh attempt to write a new pact guaranteeing the peace of uneasy Europe was launched tonight with German and Italian acceptance of invitations to participate in a five power Locarno conference this fall.

Almost simultaneously, the Nazi and Fascist nations announced they had agreed to sit down with France, Great Britain, and Belgium in an effort to work out a substitute for the Locarno treaty entered into in 1925 and denounced by Reichsfuehrer Hitler March 7 when he marched troops into the Rhineland.

Acceptances of the invitations, which were extended last week following a meeting of representatives of France, Belgium, and Britain in London, were received with deep satisfaction in London's official circles.

Stress Need for Preparation.

No date for the conference has been set, but it was expected to be held either before or after the meeting of the league of nations assembly in Geneva in September.

Both Germany and Italy stressed the need that it be preceded by careful diplomatic negotiations.

Britain's parliament adjourned tonight after hearing a government assertion that the prospective Locarno talks would ease the tense European situation. Provisions were made, however, for the lawmakers to be recalled in special session if necessary.

Nazis Bar "Outsiders."

BERLIN, July 31.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath tonight informed the British and French ambassadors and the Belgian minister that Germany has accepted the invitation for a five power conference to discuss a new western European pact.

Amplifying the official communique of acceptance, the Nazi foreign office comment left no doubt Germany will not feel the conference is being properly prepared until all possibility of "outsiders" mixing in, directly or indirectly, has been excluded. By outsiders, observers said, Russia primarily was meant.

Permitting the inclusion of other questions, such as the problems of Eastern Europe, would only—in the words of a foreign office spokesman—give outsiders not directly interested in or virtually hostile toward the successful conclusion of a western pact an opportunity to frustrate sincere efforts of those directly interested.

Italy Accepts in Principle.

ROME, July 31.—(AP)—Italy tonight accepted in principle an invitation to participate in a five power Locarno conference next fall. Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, received the French ambassador and the British and Belgian chargé d'affaires and gave them the government reply.

Spanish Prince Reported in Conference with Rebels

CANNES, France, July 31.—(AP)—Prince Carlos of Spain was believed tonight by persons close to the family to be talking with rebel leaders in Pamplona to determine their attitude on the restoration of former King Alfonso. Prince Carlos is the brother-in-law of Prince Juan of the Asturias, heir to the nonexistent Spanish throne abandoned by King Alfonso when he fled the country in 1931.

ONE DEAD, 2 SHOT IN THREE HOUR RIOT AT PRISON

Oregon Revolt Is Started by Court Ruling.

Salem, Ore., July 31.—(AP)—A thrice convicted murderer was killed and two other prisoners were wounded when inmates of the Oregon penitentiary rioted nearly three hours today in protest against a court's refusal of freedom to a prisoner.

Threats of a tear gas attack by 20 state policemen finally forced surrender of the 700 convicts, who had created pandemonium in the prison yard half the afternoon.

Under the cover of rifles held by state police on the walls, guards walked out to the prisoners and signaled them to line up. Sullenly the men fell into ranks and filed back to their cells.

Leader of Rush Slain.

Thomas Baughn, 50 year old convict, paid with his life as he and several others had led nearly 100 yelling prisoners in a dash for the walls.

Then the yard again was a milling mass of angry prisoners. The leaders appeared to organize and sent a message to Warden Lewis:

Warden Lewis replied:

"They are."

The slain convict died an hour after a rifle bullet pierced his lungs. Wounded were James J. Hamilton, 36, murderer serving a life sentence, shot through the back and in serious condition, and Joseph Dupray, 24, serving a two year sentence for burglary, shot through the hand.

Fires in Attack on Walls.

Guard Corey said he fired when the three ran for the walls, ignoring his warning to "halt!"

So far as could be learned the demonstration began when cooks in the commissary struck. Prison officials said they began carrying food into the yard.

The demonstration started after the convicts learned Judge Arlie G. Walker had refused the plea of Roy Lamar for full release upon serving a minimum term, good behavior credits deducted.

Sought to Seize Food.

Apparently well planned to meet an adverse decision, the plot appeared to be to seize the food stores and remain in the yard until prisoners who would have been freed under the old procedure gained their freedom.

As the convicts continued to mill around the yard, the guards stood their places on the walls, rifles in hand, watching every move to prevent a mass rush.

Baughn was regarded as one of the most hardened criminals in the penitentiary, officials said. He was serving his third term for murder. He escaped prison in Alabama, deserted from the navy, shot, captured and imprisoned in Oklahoma, where he was paroled in 1923.

FAGIN FATHER FORCES GIRL TO STEAL; JAILED

11 Year Old Tells Year of Shoplifting.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Albert Fink, 45 years old, 1966 North Halsted street, former truck driver, heard himself described as "the most miserable man ever to come before me" by Judge Leon Edelman in Domestic Relations court yesterday. The judge sentenced him to a year in the Bridewell and fined him $200 for teaching his 11 year old daughter to steal. The formal charge was contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The sentence was imposed after Fink's daughter, Rosemary, a pretty little girl with large blue eyes and straight ash-blonde hair, testified hesitantly, occasionally watching her father fearfuly. When she began damaging testimony he attempted to step on her toes, but was prevented by a bailif.

Steals While He Waits.

The technique in thievery which he taught her, according to the child, was as follows: He would wait across the street safely and she would enter a store armed with a shopping bag. When a clerk was busy waiting on another customer Rosemary would back up to the shelves of stock behind a counter, reach her hand behind her, take a box or package off a shelf, and drop it into her bag.

Fink's wife, Martha, mother of Rosemary, said that she did not learn what the father was doing with the child until last July 14 when Rosemary was arrested and confessed that she had been committing thefts with her father as guide for more than a year. Fink always took the merchandise from the child and traded it for liquor at a Halsted street liquor flat. Mrs. Fink said the child told her after the arrest.

Threatens to Beat Her.

Rosemary told Judge Green yesterday that she had not told her mother what she was doing at her father's orders because Fink had threatened to beat her if she did.

"Do you think he should be punished?" asked Judge Edelman.

"Yes, I do," she replied. "He's been bad to me."

"I'm giving you the maximum, and I wish I could give you more," Judge Edelman then said to Fink.

The family has been on relief since 1931, except when Fink worked for the WPA. In their second floor rear home, Mrs. Fink and Rosemary, a 4 year old girl, Betty Lou, and Mrs. Fink's mother were visited after the sentence. The rooms were immaculate. On the walls were many religious pictures and a photograph of Rosemary and her two older brothers after they had their first communion. She is in the sixth grade in St. Teresa academy where her scholastic marks are high.

"He won't chase me with a butcher knife any more like he did the other night when he had been drinking," said Rosemary of her father. "I'm glad he's been sent away."

STRANGER GETS A PAIN; ROBERT'S $1,800 CURES IT

Robert Daniel, 231 DeKoven place, asked the Hudson avenue police last night to search for two smooth strangers who defrauded him of $1,800.

"I met one of the men in Lincoln park on Thursday," said Daniel. "He said he needed a partner who spoke Italian to go into a rooming house business with him, and showed me a roll that he claimed had $2,400 in it.

"When I said I had $1,800 he told me to get it and meet him in the park today. When I got there my friend had another man with him and we talked over the proposition. They were counting my money when one of the men said he had a headache and would I get some tablets for it. While I was gone the men left with my money. Now I'm the one with the headache."

Boy, 14, Goes Out Boating on Diamond Lake; Drowns

John Newmann Jr., 14 years old, of Glen Ellyn, drowned late yesterday in Diamond lake, near Mundelein. The boy, who had been visiting his uncle, G. J. The body was found, after a search of several hours in a weedbed in only four feet of water.

Handcuffed Killers Hear Accusers.

Handcuffed to their chairs, three young men sat in the courtroom of Judge John C. Lewe yesterday and listened intently while a parade of witnesses gave testimony tending to show that they are guilty of the murder of Policeman Jerome McCauley.

The unusual procedure of keeping the defendants—Frank Korczykowski, Andrew Bogaci, and Paul Jenkot—manacled in the presence of the jury was the outgrowth of their sensational attempt to flee from the Criminal court building at 26th street and California avenue on Thursday after they had secretly armed themselves with crudely fashioned daggers. They were subdued and captured only after they had stabbed two guards, beaten two others, and thrown the entire building into an uproar.

Trio's Confessions Introduced.

Late yesterday afternoon the state introduced into evidence confessions signed by the trio after their arrest in June. In their statements the defendants admitted that they had fired on McCauley and Policeman Edward Brieske, who were pursuing them in Wood street near Bloomingdale road on May 29. The policemen had recognized the car in which the three men were riding as one that had been used a short time earlier in robberies of several north side stores.

One of the witnesses, Policeman Jack Hanrahan of the detective bureau, told of arresting Korczykowski after shooting him at Division street and Ashland avenue on June 16. Korczykowski's wound was serious, but after his recovery he confessed.

Jenkot and Bogaci were seized in a flat at 2765 Clybourn avenue on June 24. Policeman Daniel Madigan testified that he was one of the arresting detail and that the pair were placed in an automobile with Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan.

Taking the stand, Chief Sullivan said that he asked Bogaci if he knew what he was arrested for and that the latter said for stickups and also for the murder of McCauley.

Tells Bogaci Curse.

"Then Bogaci cursed Jenkot for his refusal to take a pistol and fight against arrest," continued the chief, "and told him he might as well confess. They both admitted that they had been with Korczykowski in the holdups and at the time McCauley was shot."

With the groundwork thus laid, the confessions were introduced and read to the jury. Before the close of the day the state asked Judge Lewe to be permitted to show that the defendants all had served prison terms—Jenkot for burglary and the other two for robbery—and that all had been paroled. The judge will rule on this point today. There was no indication as to what the defense would present.

A Busy Leap Year

For the second month in succession marriage licenses issued by the office of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn have set a new record, it was announced yesterday. There were 3,761 licenses issued last month, as compared with 3,692 in July, 1929, when the previous record for the month was established.

The all time high for any month in the history of the marriage license bureau was set in June of this year, when 5,762 licenses were issued. During the first seven months of this year 24,415 couples obtained licenses to wed. The comparable figure last year was 23,071.

MRS. COLE-AUDET, PIANIST, IS FOUND DEAD ON BEACH

Mrs. Viola Cole-Audet, 38 years old, a concert pianist and instructor of piano, was found dead of a heart attack yesterday on the lake shore at 78th place, where she had gone for an early morning swim. She was the wife of F. Emile Audet, 7861 South Shore drive, professor of French at De Paul university.

The body, clad only in a bathing suit, was unidentified until late in the day, and Prof. Audet did not learn of his wife's death until he returned home in the evening. He said his wife frequently went swimming in the early morning hours and that she might have been absent when he left home in the morning. Thinking she was asleep, he said, he did not try to speak to her before his departure.

For several years Mrs. Cole-Audet had been a teacher of piano at the Chicago Musical college, 64 East Van Buren street. She was the daughter of Mrs. Anna Cole, 7110 Eggleston avenue, who is the widow of F. F. Cale, former member of the Board of Trade.

JURY ASKS MORE LIFE GUARDS FOR EVANSTON SHORE

A coroner's jury investigating the drowning of John Thompson, 7 years old, at the Lee street beach in Evanston on Thursday recommended yesterday that the suburb station more life guards at its beaches. The boy, who was the son of David Thompson, 400 Ridge avenue, Evanston, leaped or fell into the lake from a pier. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Testimony was given at the inquest that the fire department inhalator squad did not arrive until 20 minutes after the body was recovered. Police asserted, however, that it was less than 10 minutes. Charles T. Byrnes, superintendent of the Evanston bureau of recreation, said that his budget permitted only one guard at each beach.

"Evanston is select and exclusive," Deputy Coroner Pasquale Ventucci said, "yet it does not provide adequate protection to life at its beaches."

SERGEANT FACES 3 CHARGES OVER BOOKIE HOLDUP

Charges have been filed with the city civil service commission against Sergt. Alfred H. Schuetz of the detective bureau as a result of the robbery last month of a race handbook den at 540 St. Clair street, Police Commissioner Allman revealed yesterday. Sergt. Schuetz will remain on duty pending a hearing of the charges on Aug. 5, it was indicated.

The sergeant is charged with neglect of duty, failure to report a robbery, and conduct unbecoming a policeman.

It was Sergt. Schuetz and his squad who on June 27 pursued the robbers' automobile after the gunmen had taken $200 from the handbook cashier. Duke Eyre, 40 years old, reputed operator of the handbook, clung to the car of the robbers as they fled but was pushed off, incurring fractures of the right arm and right leg. Albert Klautsch, 19 years old, 3651 Wabansia avenue, a telegraph messenger boy, was struck by the fleeing machine and died of his injuries next day. Records at the Chicago avenue police station made no mention of the robbery until reports of it were published.

WAUKEGAN WON'T PLAY ACCORDING TO HOYLE FAMILY

Glenn Hoyle, 36 years old, a relief client whose family, which includes seven children, has been supported by public funds since 1932, caused much talk yesterday when he pitched a tent in a vacant lot at Greenwood and North avenues, Waukegan. He announced that he intended to keep house there.

Harold E. Pillifant, township supervisor and poormaster, said that Hoyle had been drawing a food allowance of $43 a month and the township was willing to pay rent up to $25 a month for him, but that the client refused to make the effort of looking for a place.

"I paid his board in a hotel for three days after he was evicted from the house he had occupied," said Pillifant. "He has orders now to find a place to live. And next week Hoyle goes to work. Waukegan will have some projects ready."

TRIES TO PLEAD GUILTY; JURY SETS HIM FREE

CRIMINAL COURT.

Edward Sargent, indecent liberties, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Joseph F. Lavick, automobile theft, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; John C. Allen, manslaughter, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary, by Judge Donald S. McKinlay.

Robert Barnett and James Minson, robbery, sentenced to one year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

A jury in the Criminal court of Judge Robert C. O'Connell amazed the judge, prosecuters, and spectators yesterday by returning a verdict of not guilty in the case of John Valerno, alias Johnnie Sheets, 38 years old, a paroled convict with a thirteen year criminal record, who had offered to plead guilty if he were promised a light sentence.

JOHN VALERNO.

Valerno was on trial charged with participating in the $2,200 robbery of the Oak Lawn Trust and Savings bank on Feb. 8. He was indicted under the habitual criminal act and therefore faced a life term in the penitentiary if convicted.

State Refuses to Compromise.

With such a prospect, Valerno sent his attorneys to the state's attorney's office before the trial opened and offered to throw himself on the mercy of the court if the prosecutors would recommend a prison sentence of one year to life. They rejected the offer, in view of Valerno's bad record and because they thought their evidence would certainly bring a verdict of guilty.

At the trial the principal prosecution witness was Donald R. Brower, 21 years old, a former Detroit hairdresser who disguised himself as a priest and in this fashion gained entrance to the bank, after which he admitted three companion robbers. Two of these men, James Larsen, 35 years old, and Vasellos Adams, 32, were sentenced to one year to life in the penitentiary.

Calls Defendant the Leader.

The fake priest, because of his youth, got a sentence of one to ten years in Pontiac reformatory. Brought back from Pontiac to tell the story of the robbery, Brower pointed out Valerno as the leader of the gang and told how his clerical garb had gained for him the courteous attention of the bank cashier. He mentioned that two nuns curtsied to him just before he bluntly announced that his presence in the bank meant a holdup.

Brower's flippant manner on the witness stand apparently offended members of the jury, courtroom spectators said, and the not guilty verdict was returned after half an hour of deliberation.

Judge O'Connell Astonished.

When Judge O'Connell heard the verdict he said, "I'm amazed."

Valerno's only defense was to declare he did not take part in the robbery and that he could not remember where he was at the time it took place. He admitted knowing the three robbers who are now in prison.

Valerno was paroled from the Joliet penitentiary last August after serving seven years of a one year to life term for a roadhouse holdup in Niles. He was arrested on May 25 in a police raid on an apartment at 4909 Sheridan road.

MR. HOCK LOSES HIS GAL AND THAT ISN'T HALF OF IT

Martin Hock, 433 Sigel street, yesterday requested the Hudson avenue police to look for his fiancee, Mrs. Julia Sabo, 48 years old.

"She is a widow," said Hock, "and has been my housekeeper. I asked her to marry me on Thursday and showed her where I had hidden away $1,500 for hard times. Mrs. Sabo said she would think it over.

"When I got home today my fiancee was gone. And when I looked in the trunk where I kept my money that was gone too."

GAINS IN HOUSE ARE SEEN AFTER TOPEKA PARLEY

Rep. Bolton Confers with Gov. Landon.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., July 31.—[Special.]—Congressman Chester Bolton of Ohio, chairman of the congressional campaign committee, conferred with Gov. Alf M. Landon today over coördination of the Republican national and congressional committee in the campaign.

"The two committees are working together more closely than ever before," said Bolton.

"There are certain types of activities which each will carry out in coöperation.

"It is too early to prognosticate, but the outlook today for a Republican majority in the house is very encouraging. Only one third of the primaries have been held, but it is significant that the sitting Republicans in these contests have practically all been renominated, while several Democrats have been unseated.

Proud of National Ticket.

"My observation is that the Republicans are proud of the national ticket. They are just as anxious this year, however, to elect a Republican congress as a Republican President. It is realized all over the country that what is needed is a congress that will exercise its prerogatives and not turn over all power to the executive. The people do not want a yes man congress.

"There is a general undertone of resentment at what is going on at Washington. This is against the tremendous increase in expenditures as well as the surrender of the legislative power. The man in the street realizes that the relief program as it is now conducted cannot be kept up indefinitly, and that relief money is being used for political purposes. Even those on relief think they are not getting a full dollar's worth of relief. There is much inequality here.

"Gov. Landon is liked because he speaks his honest convictions. The idea of a real, straight from the shoulder American from a prairie state is appealing. The people have been told so many things that have not turned out well that they would welcome a change."

Predicts Victory in Ohio.

Mr. Bolton said that the Union party would take many votes away from Roosevelt in Ohio and that the Republican national ticket would win there.

Hugh Barclay, Pulaski, New York, farmer and guernsey breeder called on Gov. Landon and urged him to make a speech or at least a train platform appearance in upstate New York.

"The farmers and dairymen of upstate New York are united almost 100 per cent behind Gov. Landon," he said.

"We believe he will give the nation an administration that will prove attractive to the farmer as well as the businessman, and New York state depends on the success of both.

Farmers Back Landon.

"I found Gov. Landon a man with a practicable attitude on the issues that confront the country today. New York farmers have rallied to his support because they are confident he will approach our problems in a common sense manner, void of attempts at magic and wizardry. I am for him lock, stock and barrel."

Gov. Landon is still unable to make public the itinerary of his first eastern trip, which will include West Middlesex, Pa., Chautauqua, and Buffalo, N. Y. Extension of this trip is being urged by some of his advisers and it is being coördinated with the second eastern trip which will follow in September.

The governor will make his annual inspection trip to the national guard encampment at Fort Riley tomorrow. Most governors have made a speech to the soldiers, but Landon will not talk tomorrow.

Landon Will Vote Tuesday.

On next Tuesday the governor will go to his home town of Independence to vote in the primary. His former secretary, Will G. West, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for governor, while the Democrats are in a struggle between Jonathan Davis, former governor, and Walter Huxman, who has the support of the New Deal organization.

Gov. Landon attended a meeting today of the executive committee of the trustees of Baker university of which he is a member. On motion of the governor the board decided to restore pay cuts made in 1932 to 67 professors and instructors. The increase will be at least 10 per cent. Baker university is a Methodist endowed institution at Baldwin, Kas., the oldest institution of learning west of the Mississippi river. Henry J. Allen, who is also a trustee, made the announcement of the action.

SEARCHERS FIND BODY OF YOUTH SLAIN BY CHUM

Iron River, Wis., July 31.—[Special.]—The body of Robert Bernstein, 24, slain by his chum in an "impulse" killing on July 13, was found late this afternoon about six miles east of here by volunteer searchers.

The discovery followed a telephone conversation between Sherif Arthur Sedin of Superior and Laverne Marks, 19, a Clintonville minister's son, who has been held in Tacoma, Wash., following his confession to authorities there that he shot Bernstein with a .22 caliber rifle.

Finding of the body ended a search of several days that had been conducted by authorities of Douglas, Shawano, and Bayfield counties. Among the party that discovered the crude grave was Pat Earnshaw, a Chicago woman vacationing near here.

FARLEY ON LEAVE OF 3 MONTHS TO PUSH CAMPAIGN

Other Chiefs Predict House Gains.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 31.—[Special.]—Postmaster General James A. Farley departed from that office on a three months' leave of absence tonight to devote his entire time as chairman of the Democratic committee to direct President Roosevelt's campaign.

While Farley was outlining the "most extensive campaign in the party's history," other Democratic leaders predicted gains, instead of losses, in the house of representatives, and George L. Berry, president of the so-called "labor nonpartisan league," announced plans to enlist farmers, white collar workers, and 3,500,000 labor union members in their campaign to reëlect Mr. Roosevelt.

Hits Landon Statement.

Berry assailed Gov. Alf M. Landon's statement, contained in a letter to Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, that the right of labor to organize "free of interference from any source" includes the right to send an organizer into an unorganized industry.

"Our analysis of Candidate Landon's labor record stands without qualification, regardless of his attempt to convince Mr. Norman Thomas of his purity of intentions regarding the effort of wage earners to bring about self-organization and improvement in their conditions," Berry said.

He said it was noteworthy that Gov. Landon expounded his position in a letter to Mr. Thomas, whom he denounced as a representative of "extreme revolutionary socialism," but one step removed "from the Communists," and declared that it was significant also that the governor did not use the term "collective bargaining."

Sees Company Union Stand.

"We know that Candidate Landon meant exactly what he said when, in his acceptance speech, he declared that men must be free from coercion, even by their fellow employés," Berry stated. "He meant there must be an absolutely clear road for the formation of company unions."

Chairman Farley said national headquarters would be set up in New York City during the next week and that speakers would be sent out to campaign "in every county of every state."

"Our radio program will depend upon our financial situation," Farley said. "We will try to keep our budget to $2,000,000 and will try to run our campaign within that figure."

Farley professed not to be worried at all about the proposed meeting of anti-New Deal Democrats in New York, and prophesied that the secession of "the so-called constitutional Democrats will have positively no effect."

Bankhead Predicts Gains.

William B. Bankhead of Alabama, speaker of the house, and Representative John J. O'Connor of New York, acting majority leader, conferred today and predicted that, instead of losing a substantial part of their unwieldy majority the Democrats would make even further gains.

O'Connor attacked the acceptance speech of Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential nominee, in the phraseology used generally by Democrats in commenting on Gov. Landon's speech of acceptance. It was "meaningless," there were no "specifications," O'Connor said.

"To paraphrase the colonel's statement that 'the American people want recovery, not rhetoric,'" O'Connor declared, "one could say, 'the people want to decide on issues, not generalities.'"

FARLEY NEVER USES OFFICE SHOWER BATH; 'AREN'T ANY TOWELS'

Washington, D. C., July 31.—(AP)—Retiring temporarily as postmaster general to devote himself to being national Democratic chairman, James A. Farley disclosed today that he never had used the shower bath that is a part of his office suite.

After telling a press conference that his successor, William W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, would have the privilege of using the "front office" if he desires, Farley was asked if the shower also would be available to Howes.

"O, yes," Farley said smilingly. "But if he uses it, it will be the first time it has been used. The trouble is there aren't any towels."

GUARD CAPTAIN DISCIPLINED IF HE IS GOVERNOR

Lincoln, Neb., July 31.—[Special.]—The acting governor of Nebraska, Walter H. Jurgensen, Democrat, today was disciplined at the Nebraska National Guard camp at Ashland for disobedience of orders. Lieut. Gov. Jurgensen, who became acting governor today in the absence of Gov. R. L. Cochran in Washington, is a captain in the guard.

Maj. Gen. H. J. Paul, adjutant general of the guard, said, "I have taken disciplinary action against Capt. Walter Jurgensen for wilful disobedience of my orders with reference to the use of intoxicating liquor in camp and with reference to bringing liquor upon the reservation."

Although Paul would not tell Jurgensen's punishment, he asserted it would not deprive him of his rank.

Jurgensen will also not be prevented from acting as governor, in which position he is commander in chief of the state troops. However, he must take orders from the adjutant general under federal authority prevailing during the encampment.

Jurgensen was confined to the post grounds at the camp three days ago for what was described as a "minor infraction of the rules."

PICKS CELLURA AS THE KILLER OF 2 GANGSTERS

Detroit, Mich., July 31.—(AP)—Mike Stitzel, held as a police witness, was taken before Prosecutor Duncan McCrea today to make a formal statement after he picked out Leonard [Black Leo] Cellura in a showup as the slayer of William Cannon and George Collins, Chicago gangsters.

Stitzel was wounded by the shooting that killed his friends in front of the La Salle hotel in 1930.

Cellura, night life figure here in prohibition days, surrendered to police Thursday after being sought six years for questioning about several crimes.

Two men, Angelo Livecchi and Ted Pizzino, now are serving life terms for shooting Cannon and Collins. Convicted of second degree murder, they were sentenced in June, 1931.

HUNT PLANE WITH 10 ABOARD LOST IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

ST. HELIER, Jersey, England, July 31.—(AP)—An airplane carrying eight passengers, a pilot, and a radio operator was missing tonight in stormy weather on a short hop from Guernsey to Jersey Island in the English channel.

The Jersey Airways amphibian plane took off at 7 p. m. on a flight normally requiring twenty minutes, but had not arrived here at 10 p. m.

A lifeboat put out from St. Helier to make a search despite the heavy seas. The machine was last seen flying over the northeast of the island of Sark shortly after it took off. Later a flickering light was seen on the sea off the dangerous Casquet rocks, but a ship which altered its course to investigate found no trace.

NEW DEALER AID SENT TO MAINE TO EDIT PAPER

Portland Publication Gets "New Money."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 31.—[Special.]—In its efforts to make a good showing in Maine, the traditional weather vane state because it is the first to vote, the New Deal has entered upon its second venture in the control of the American press. This was disclosed today when the Democratic national committee confirmed reports that Norman Baxter, former chief of public relations and special assistant to RFC Chairman Jesse Jones, had been sent up to become editor in chief of the Portland Eveing News, which is being financed with "new money."

The revivified Portland newspaper, which suspended publication for a time last spring, is to become virtually the official organ of the New Deal, according to reports here.

Follows Quoddy Pledge.

Disclosure that Mr. Baxter, at the instance of the Democratic national committee, had gone to take over the editorial management of the newspaper followed President Roosevelt's promise to the people of Maine that "Quoddy will be completed." The President, in making this promise, was defying congress, which affirmatively rejected the $42,000,000 tide harnessing scheme after it had been started with $7,000,000 of relief funds, but he was coming to the aid of his good friend Gov. Louis Brann, candidate for the senate against Republican Senator Wallace White Jr.

Baxter was given the editorial management of the newspaper after Philip Chapman, president of the Maine Publishing company which issues the newspaper had told of his desire to revive the publication and his need of somebody to run it. Baxter was recommended by Charles Michelson, national publicity director for the Democratic committee, who disclaimed knowledge of the source of the "new money."

Recommended by Committee.

Mr. Baxter admitted that he had been recommended by the Democratic national committee for the editorial position but he also professed not to be familiar with the source of the "new money." He also denied that his stay in Maine would necessarily be limited to the duration of the presidential campaign.

There were reports here that the Democratic committee had been instrumental in securing the new capital for the newspaper but they could not be confirmed. Mr. Chapman, reached by telephone, said the new financing was "being handled locally" but refused to say how much was being raised.

"Are you getting anything from the RFC or the Democratic national committee," Mr. Chapman was asked. He hesitated for some moments and then replied:

"Well, we won't refuse if they want to throw any advertising our way. We're trying to run a newspaper."

Former Capital Editor.

Baxter left his RFC position about three months ago to join the publicity staf of the Democratic national committee. Before going to the RFC he had been managing editor of the Washington Post and had done campaign work for the late Albert C. Ritchie, governor of Maryland.

The New Deal's first venture in the control of the press occurred last year when the RFC acquired $250,000 in bonds of the Nashville Tennesseean which gave it control of that paper, and then sold the bonds to Paul Davis, president of the American National bank at Nashville and brother of Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's ambassador at large.

A storm of criticism, with demands for a senatorial investigation was raised when it was disclosed that RFC Chairman Jones had informed Davis of the amount of a competitor's bid and thus enabled him to secure the bonds.

The $250,000 in bonds, part of a $750,000 issue sold by Col. Luke Lea, former owner of the Tennessean, were bought for $200,000 by the Central Bank and Trust company of New Orleans. This bank went into receivership after borrowing $45,000,000 from the RFC, and when the receiver submitted a proposal to sell the newspaper bonds to James Hammond, publisher of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, RFC Chairman Jones asked Paul Davis whether he thought a "better price could be obtained." Davis offered $250,000, represented by an unsecured, 4 per cent demand note, and obtained the bonds. Mr. Hammond was never told that his rival had raised his bid.

RASKOB LEAVES IDAHO HOSPITAL AFTER 3 WEEKS

Idaho Falls, Idaho, July 31.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, New York financier and former Democratic national committee chairman, left today for New York City after being carried to the train on a stretcher. Raskob came to Idaho Falls nearly three weeks ago from Yellowstone park following an attack of knee arthritis. He had been in the hospital since. None would comment on his condition today. Raskob boarded the transcontinental Union Pacific Portland Rose at Pocatello, Idaho, tonight.

Chicago War Veteran Kills Himself at Grave of Wife

Charles B. Gurke, 46 years old, a world war veteran of Chicago, shot himself, to death yesterday at the grave of his wife, Della, in Red Bank, Tenn., a suburb of Chattanooga, according to a dispatch last night. Relatives in Red Bank said he had been despondent since the death of his wife three weeks ago. He left a will directing that his property be given to his mother, Mrs. Joseph Kirby, 1114 South Harvey avenue, Oak Park.

ROOSEVELT GETS ALL HONORS DUE FOREIGN RULER

Canadians Cheer His Speech in French.

who had preceded him in short speeches in that language. He expressed thanks for his warm welcome.

At the first syllable of the prevailing tongue of the city the crowd cheered, then laughed at its own enthusiasm only to cheer again. The conclusion of the speech, which with the others was broadcast to the United States, Canada, and the British empire, was followed by prolonged applause.

Lord Tweedsmuir, who opened the program as the personal representative of the king, extended the welcome of Canada as an old acquaintance to the head of a country "to whose people she is bound by ties of kinship and tradition; a country whose problems she shares, and whose future deeply concerns her own."

Greeted by Dignitaries.

"The honors extended to a foreign ruler" began when Mr. Roosevelt boarded his special train at St. Andrews, N. B. A detachment of royal Canadian mounted police, under command of Supt. T. V. Sandys Wunsch, who was made special aid to the President, was aboard the train until it entered American territory in sweeping across Maine, and another detachment was put on early in the morning when the province of Quebec was entered.

On his arrival at Quebec at 8:55 a. m. the President was greeted by dominion dignitaries and American diplomats. Drawn up beside his private cars were an escort of royal Canadian dragoons in scarlet, gold splashed uniforms with brass helmets, topped by flowing horse hair plumes. The escort and a guard of the royal Canadian naval volunteer reserve saluted and a band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner."

On the terrace the escort deployed to the right of the speakers' stand. Behind it were drawn up the regiment de Quebec in black uniforms with red facings and a shako with a cropped red horsehair plume, and the Royal 22d regiment in the scarlet British uniform.

Roosevelts in Morning Suits.

The platform was bright with colorful uniforms besprinkled with medals. Mr. Roosevelt, and his son, James, on whose arm he made his way to his seat, stood out in contrast. Both wore conventional morning attire. From the terrace Mr. Roosevelt drove to the citadel, ancient fortress of the city, which for the first time flew the American flag. There he lunched in the governor general's quarters.

After luncheon he went for a short drive about Quebec. He returned to the citadel for tea and left with another military display at the station at 5 o'clock.

The train will carry Mr. Roosevelt to Montreal where it will leave early for his flood tour of Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts tomorrow.

SNOWSTORM IN JULY SIGHTED BY AIR TRAVELERS

New York, July 31.—(AP)—The Transcontinental and Western Airways told today of a July snowstorm over New Jersey, encountered by an airliner swooping to a landing at Newark, N. J.

The ship, the Sky Ranger, made its run from Chicago in weather so cold it was necessary to turn on the plane's heating apparatus, the line's offices said.

Pilot and passengers reported that frost covered the windows at the 12,000 foot level over Newark and, as the plane eased downward, they sighted a dense snowstorm swirling between two layers of clouds to the northward.

S. S. Kresge of New York, chairman of the board of The Fair store, was given a surprise party yesterday by store executives when he stopped off in Chicago on his 69th birthday. D. F. YOUTH, OUT OF 'IRON LUNG,' TRIES TO GASP 'MOTHER'

PEIPING, July 31.—(AP)—Frederick Snite, who has lived four solid months in an "iron lung," was removed tonight on his 26th birthday and struggled unsuccessfully to gasp "mother."

Snite, the son of a Chicago businessman, was stricken with infantile paralysis while here on a tour, and was placed in the respiratory apparatus at Rockefeller hospital.

He was removed from the apparatus with difficulty. Slowly his lips moved and he uttered one word—"God"—then he attempted to call his mother, but failed. At the bedside prayed a group of Christian Chinese doctors and nurses. A Catholic priest administered the sacrament. The father, who has hardly left the bedside since his son was taken to the hospital, expects him to recover, but fears his arms may be paralyzed permanently.

FIND GUN LINKED TO ST. CHARLES GIRL'S SLAYING

A .38 caliber revolver, believed to be the weapon used in the slaying of Miss Nella Panunzi, 23 years old, manager of a tearoom at St. Charles, on June 13, was found yesterday beside Dunham road near the Dunham Riding club, about four miles northeast of St. Charles. The revolver, rusted from the weather, was picked up in a clump of bushes about two miles from the place where her body was found in her automobile.

The weapon was turned over to Deputy Sherif Curtis Lyman of Kane county by Walter Fry of Hampshire, an employé of the club, who found it. Ballistics experts will examine it.

Rinaldo di Pietro, 55 years old, a former roomer at the Panunzi home, who was rejected by the girl as a suitor, is being sought as her slayer. He was seen in the vicinity about the time of the murder.

RAND WORKERS STONED IN NEW STRIKE DISORDER

Cincinnati, O., July 31.—(AP)—The most serious disorder since an attempt was made four weeks ago to reopen the strike-closed Remington Rand plant in Norwood occurred today as workers continued the task of dismantling one division of the plant.

George Kail, general superintendent, reported a group of strikers and sympathizers hurled stones at three automobiles and groups of workers approaching the plant. None was reported injured.

A detail of police and a score of deputy sherifs escorted workers dismantling the Powers division from the plant at the close of the day.

Sergt. Charles Fritz said a crowd gathered near the plant booed and hissed as the ten automobiles loaded with employés were driven away.

STATE RESTS IN BLACK LEGION KIDNAP TRIAL

3 Terrorists Deny They Saw Member Flogged.

Detroit, Mich., July 31.—[Special.]—The state rested its case today against six members of the Black Legion charged with kidnaping Robert Penland, Ecorse steel worker. Ten witnesses had taken the stand during the day, four of them members of the terrorist organization.

Three of the Black Legionnaires who testified admitted they attended the meeting to which the state claims Penland was taken by force and flogged for laxity in his duties as a member of the order. All denied seeing any one whipped at the gathering.

Tells of a Dozen Lashes.

Formal statements previously made by three of the men on trial were read into the record, however, and in two of these, made by a defendant, Frederick A. Gulley, it was declared that Penland was given "about a dozen" lashes by a hooded officer of the Black Legion.

The case will resume Monday afternoon before Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan.

Meantime, Prosecutor McCrea announced that a Black Legion defendant claimed that the society once hatched a plot to infect a large number of Detroit Jews with typhoid fever by putting germs in milk and cottage cheese delivered to them.

Chemist Is Questioned.

The prosecutor said his investigators obtained the statement from William Guthrie, a Black Legion printer, who named a high ranking legion officer already under arrest and another man whom he described as a chemist and bacteriologist and who is being questioned by the prosecutor's office.

Guthrie said the plot failed because he threatened to notify police and refused to let the two men breed germs in his basement, where he operated a bath and massage place.

Newark, O., July 31.—[Special.]—Mrs. Anna Buxton, 48, wife of Robert B. Buxton, former head of the Buxton Investment company here, drowned in Raccoon creek today. She had been missing from her home several hours before relatives and neighbors found her body.

KENTUCKY TO VOTE IN PRIMARY TODAY; 10 IN SENATE RACE

Louisville, Ky., July 31.—(AP)—Tomorrow's primaries will indicate the political trend in Kentucky as well as determining what candidates will represent their parties in the November election.

Under a new law, permanent registration of voters, hitherto provided for only in Louisville, goes into effect throughout the state. Voters in giving their political affiliations, are expected to show the strength of the political parties.

The three cornered fight among two veterans and a younger man for the Democratic nomination for the United States senate has provided the chief interest and divided the Democraic party into three camps.

Robert H. Lucas, former executive director of the Republican national committee, has the backing of his party leaders for the Republican nomination. Though he has four opponents, he has not campaigned, nor have they, to any extent.

But in the Democratic race, M. M. Logan, 62, incumbent, is opposed vigorously by J. C. W. Beckham, 67, who succeeded the assassinated William Gobel as governor 36 years ago and later served in the senate, and John Young Brown, 36, former state senator and congressman for one term. Two others, also are seeking the nomination but have not campaigned.

FAILS TO APPLY BONUS ON DEBT; GETS 60 DAYS

Oscar H. Nelson, 39 years old, was sentenced by Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski in the Circuit court yesterday to 60 days in the county jail for contempt of court. The citation arose out of his failure to apply any of his $600 soldier's bonus to a $4,000 debt to his divorced wife, Frances, 35 years old, 1950 Otto street, for the support of their two sons.

On orders of Judge Leon Edelman in the Domestic Relations court Louis Reffke, 47 years old, 223 West 31st street, a war veteran, yesterday turned over $75 of his $600 bonus for the support of his wife, Ida, 39 years old, and their son, Louis Jr., 9 years old. Reffke agreed to pay $10 a month to his wife until he has paid a total of $300. Judge Edelman then dismissed a nonsupport charge against Reffke.

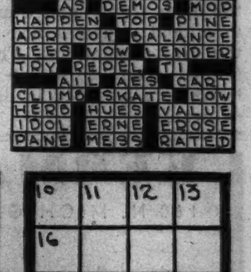
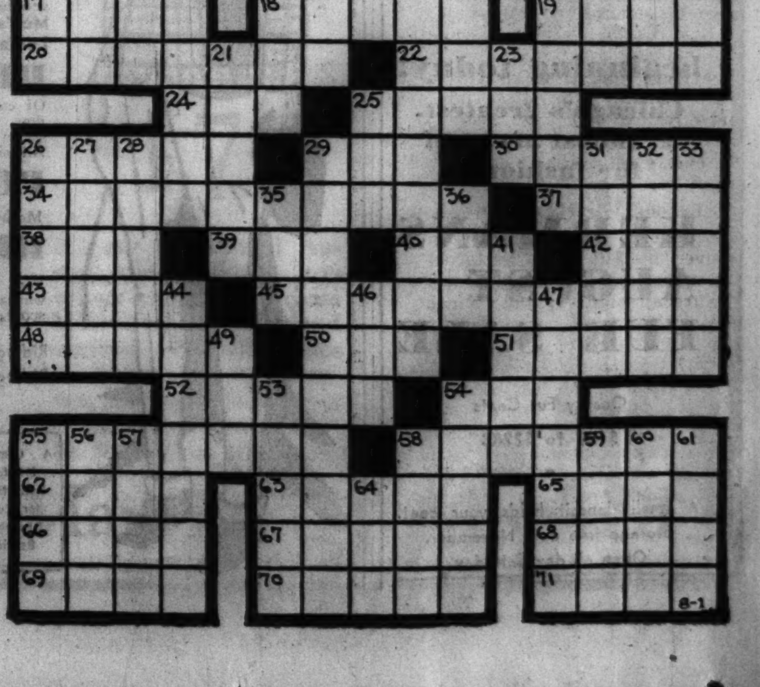
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





G. O. P. LEADERS MAP CAMPAIGN SPEAKING TOURS

Hamilton to Visit Western States by Air.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The notification ceremonials having been held, Republican national headquarters yesterday centered attention upon plans for a platform campaign which will get into full blast around Labor day.

Dates for the first speeches of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, presidential nominee, have not yet been determined. His first eastern appearance is expected to be in Middlesex, Pa., his birthplace, this month. Later he may speak in New York, Buffalo, N. Y., Des Moines, Boston, and Chicago, these places still being tentative.

Knox to Open Indiana Drive.

Frank Knox, running mate of Gov. Landon, is to open the Indiana state campaign, Aug. 8, with an address at Connersville. On Aug. 13, he is to be in West Virginia, Aug. 27, in Hampton Beach, N. H., and before Labor day he is to appear in Maine. After Labor day he is to head out from Chicago on a trip that will take him to the Pacific coast and back through Arizona, New Mexico, and Oklahoma.

On Monday morning, John Hamilton, national chairman, is to start an airplane tour of the west to get down to the grass roots of party organization. The trip, which will cover 6,746 miles, will take him to sixteen states. Mr. Hamilton expects to meet nearly every county chairman in the area.

Will Spur Party Workers.

Attention will be most largely devoted to organization affairs down into the precincts, to get the party workers all set for the big drive which will open in September. Issues will be elaborated by the chairman in speeches. After his return to Chicago Aug. 20, Mr. Hamilton is to spend most of his time at headquarters here, with occasional dashes into other states. He will go into Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota, and when this is done he will have covered every state west of the Mississippi except Arkansas and Louisiana.

Myers Y. Cooper, former governor of Ohio, is to join the executive staf at national headquarters Tuesday. He is to assist the national chairman in maintaining contacts with party leaders who visit headquarters and who advise with the chairman regarding the political situation.

Dickinson Is Confident.

Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, after a conference at the senatorial committee rooms here, summed up his opinion of the New Deal and predicted the Landon-Knox ticket would be elected.

"In this campaign," he said, "the determining factor is the curtailment of production in the Mississippi valley under the New Deal.

"We are now witnessing the greatest volume of imports of meats, grains, and other produce, such as dairy products, the middle west has ever seen.

"Under the Roosevelt policy, in certain sections, if you want to buy a ham they sell you Polish ham. On the Atlantic coast, if you want bacon, they sell you Irish bacon.

"Farmers of the Mississippi valley now realize that AAA cash will not take the place of something to eat. They are not going to stand for such stuff any longer."

Landon Wires Congratulations.

Hundreds of telegrams were received by Mr. Knox yesterday commenting on his acceptance speech Thursday night at the Chicago Stadium. From Gov. Landon came the following:

"My earnest congratulations upon your eloquent address of acceptance. It is a comprehensive survey of the grave problems which challenge us. Its strong conclusions are justified by the review it phrases of the last three and a half years. In my judgment the American people will accept it as added proof of your spirit and your statesmanship, and as a loyal pledge of your high service."

DIVERS RECOVER 9 BODIES FROM LAKE DEATH SHIP

Those of 6 Other Sinking Victims Missing.

Divers recovered yesterday the bodies of nine members of the crew of the motorship Material Service who were drowned early Wednesday morning when the vessel sank in a pounding sea in Lake Michigan, a half mile north of the South Chicago breakwater lighthouse opposite 87th street. The bodies of six other men who perished have not yet been found. The seven remaining members of the crew of 22 were rescued.

Six of the bodies brought to the surface have been identified. They are those of Melvin Tufts, 34 years old, the second mate; Harry Meurer, 29 years old, an oiler; Leif Olson, 32 years old, a sand scraper; Anthony Casty, 45 years old, a steward; Elmer Bergsland, 28 years old, a boom man, all of Lockport, and Michael McEvoy, 27 years old, 1925½ Hancock street, Chicago, a deckhand. Another body has been identified tentatively as that of Charles Bergstead, 30 years old, 156 West Grand avenue, an oiler.

Lodge Emblems Clews.

Masonic emblems were found on the other two bodies. One of these is believed to be that of Capt. Charles D. Brown of Port Huron, Mich., master of the ill fated boat, who was a Mason. The other body, it was thought, may be that of Marshall Oberlin, 28 years old, of Lockport, a cook.

The divers who brought up the bodies are Edward Knudsen and William Lehndorf, who were hired by the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company.

Six of the bodies were found in the hull of the sunken boat and the other three were floating in the lake nearby. A tenth body is believed to be in the engine room of the Material Service, but the divers are unable to reach it. The divers said they believed the other five bodies have floated away from the wreck.

Hold Hatches Open.

The divers reported the steel hatches on the hold of the boat to be open. Whether they were torn open by waves or had been open before has not yet been determined. One theory of the cause of the tragedy is that water poured into the hatches, reached the cargo of 2,000 tons of sand and gravel and weighted down the ship.

Two of the seven survivors testified yesterday at a hearing before the bureau of marine inspection and navigation of the department of commerce in the United States courthouse here.

These witnesses, Holger Hansen, of Lockport, a wheelman, and Elton Washburn, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., a handyman, said they believed the hatches were fastened although the tarpaulin covers might not have been on. The other survivors, who testified Wednesday and Thursday, said the tarpaulins were not in position.

TEST MAN'S HAIR AS LATEST CLEW IN CO-ED KILLING

Asheville, N. C., July 31.—(AP)—Four strands of hair from a man's head, found on a towel in the slain Helen Clevenger's hotel bathroom, today gave officers their newest hope of tracking down the killer of the pretty 18 year old Staten Island co-ed.

Described as dark and straight, the hairs took their place beside a pistol bullet and an exploded shell as physical clews to the intruder who entered the girl's room during a thunderstorm at 1 a. m., July 16, tried to rape her, shot her through the body, viciously battered her face, and then escaped.

Chief of Police William J. Everett revealed that the strands of hair had been examined by federal bureau of investigation chemists in Washington, D. C. The tests showed the hairs did not come from the head of Daniel H. Gaddy, hotel night watchman who is held incommunicado.

Elevator Near Elwin Burns; Grain Destroyed

Pana, Ill., July 31.—[Special.]—A grain elevator at Elwin, north of Macon, owned by the Elwin Elevator company, was burned and several thousand bushels of wheat and corn destroyed, it was learned here today. The loss was estimated at $25,000. Fire departments from Moweaqua, Decatur, Blue Mound and Macon saved the Illinois Central depot and prevented the flames from wiping out the village.

GOVERNOR TO CONFER HERE TODAY WITH HIS FELLOW CANDIDATES

Gov. Henry Horner left Springfield last night for Chicago for a conference this morning with other Democratic state candidates. Plans for the impending campaign are to be discussed. One question is whether the candidates are to make a tour of downstate in a single caravan, as suggested by the governor. Another item concerns the downstate campaign manager. The governor has selected F. Lynden Smith of Pontiac, his primary campaign manager, for this post.

The meeting today is the outcome of a conference a few days ago between Gov. Horner and Pat A. Nash, national committeeman, in which old feuds growing out of the primaries were buried for the campaign. The governor plans to go to Dallas, Tex., next Wednesday for Illinois day at the Texas Centennial exposition.

John Stelle, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, predicted in a speech to 200 persons last night at Waukegan that the Democratic state and national tickets—factional differences buried—would be victorious in November. A second speaker was Mr. Smith.

3D PARTY DRAWS PLANS AT SITE OF LINCOLN PARLEYS

Campaign plans for the third party were laid yesterday at a conference between Congressman William Lemke of North Dakota, candidate for president, Thomas O. O'Brien of Boston, his running mate, and John Nystul, campaign manager. The meeting was at third party headquarters in the Steuben building, 188 West Randolph street, which occupies the site of the old Briggs house, once a gathering place of politicians.

"Here was the headquarters of Lincoln's campaign committee in 1860," said Mr. Lemke. "It is highly significant we should be meeting here today in the exact place Mr. Lincoln and his friends occupied when they laid the final plans for the campaign that brought about the restoration of the union."

Mr. Lemke criticized the acceptance speeches of President Roosevelt, Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican nominee for President, and Col. Frank Knox, Landon's ticket mate. He said Roosevelt's speech was "self laudation and unfulfilled promises;" Landon's address was "filled with platitudes;" and Knox' speech was a "conglomeration of parrot-like expressions that sounded like Hoover."

At a press conference Mr. Lemke said he thought about $500,000 would suit as the limit the third party's platform says it would put on annual incomes." The late Senator John J. Ingalls of Kansas," he remarked, "said no man can earn honestly any more than $500,000 a year."

PICK COMMITTEE HEADS FOR LAKE CARNIVAL HERE

Chicago park district officials in charge of the Carnival of the Lakes, which the district will conduct in Burnham park from Aug. 17 to 23, yesterday named heads of committees to direct various divisions of the event at a meeting in the Burnham park administration building. Commander Eugene F. McDonald Jr. was placed in charge of yachting, George Getz of floats, and Rear Admiral John Downs, comandant of the Ninth naval district, and Maj. Chester Fordney, United States marine corps reserves, of naval participation. Thomas B. Hogan, John T. Pirie, and Maurice L. Rothschild were appointed members of the committee on transportation, and Henry C. Lytton and G. R. Schaeffer, members of the committee on advertising and publicity.

13,260 Foot Canadian Peak Conquered by 2 Americans

KNIGHT INLET, B. C., July 31.—(AP)—The conquest of Mount Waddington, 13,260 feet of perilous rock and ice, was revealed here today. Fritz H. Wiessner of New York and William P. House of Pittsburgh reached the lofty summit of the mountain on July 21. Sixteen previous attempts by various climbers had been unsuccessful. One person lost his life in an attempt to scale the peak.

GRANTHAM, England, July 31.—(AP)—Margaret Webster, American born British actress, suffered a severe concussion and a fractured collar bone tonight in an automobile accident.

HE PEELS JAIL SPUDS WITH EYE ON HORNER'S JOB

Independent Aspirant a Bit Handicapped.

Willard A. Maxwell, 65 years old, admitted that he was in a predicament as he sat in the kitchen of the Bridewell yesterday peeling potatoes for the supper meal of his fellow prisoners. Maxwell, who was arrested on July 2 in front of the county building for selling pamphlets advocating his independent candidacy for governor, was ordered to the Bridewell by Municipal Judge Charles S. Dougherty on July 22 when he refused to pay a fine of $100.

While his inexperienced fingers struggled with the task of paring the potatoes Mr. Maxwell insisted that he would not permit lawyers to appear in the courts in his behalf. "I represented myself in the court hearing and I will act as my own attorney in an appeal of this case," he asserted.

He Wants His Rights.

"I could leave here right now if I did what the politicians wanted, but this is a matter of principle with me," he declared. "I won't leave here until my constitutional rights are recognized."

When it was pointed out that he would have to serve until Sept. 15 unless his fine was paid or he was liberated by the courts, he asserted he would serve the time rather than pay one penny of the fine.

"How about your candidacy for governor?" he was asked.

"I may be a little handicapped, but if necessary I will conduct it from my present address, cell No. 116 A, house of correction," he replied.

Maxwell added that his regular address is 720 North Leclaire avenue, where he lives with four of six children. He is a clerk and a widower.

Dishes to Wash, Too.

After he had finished peeling, a guard informed him that he would have to return to the kitchen after supper and help wash the dishes.

"It seems I'll be on 'kitchen police' until I change my address," Maxwell sighed as he left for other duties.

$20 WEEK MAN PAYS THIRD IN TAXES: BROOKS

Blandinsville, Ill., July 31.—[Special.]—Criticizing the present high cost of government, Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, speaking at the annual Blandinsville picnic today, cited a case in which a worker receiving $20 a week was assessed $6.50 for taxes, leaving only $13.50 for the necessities of life.

Comparing the current high cost of government with other years, he pointed out that in 1931 only $1 out of every $15 was spent for local, state, and national governments, and in 1932 the rate was $1 out of $5, but today every third dollar earned goes for the upkeep of government.

"The people of Great Britain no longer are the most highly taxed in the world," Mr. Brooks said. "The tax burden for each United States citizen during the next twelve months will be $95 compared with $93.50 for Great Britain, and $76 for France."

PEACE PARADE TODAY TO HONOR JANE ADDAMS

Arrangements were completed at Hull house last night for the Jane Addams memorial and peace parade this afternoon. More than 100 labor, civic, and other organizations will participate. The parade will start at 2 p. m. in La Salle street near Grand avenue. It will proceed to Monroe street, then east to Michigan avenue and south to 11th street, where it will march east to the band shell in Grant park. At the band shell a pageant will be presented, with symbolic and folk dances portraying the forces of war and peace.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 31.—The steel auxiliary three masted motor vessel Alembic was wrecked today at Cape Freels. The crew of nine, including Capt. Coward, was landed safely. The ship in the latter part of June took a cargo of seal oil to Great Lakes ports and was returning to this port.

NEW DIVISIONS OF VOLUNTEERS TAKE UP FIGHT

95 Days Remain to Save the Nation.

Yesterday was the second day for THE VOLUNTEERS. Today there remain only 95 days in which to save your country. What are YOU going to do to save it?

Here is one specific answer. You can go to the 17th floor of Tribune Tower. There you will find an organization of people with exactly your motives. You will find some one to tell you how you can coöperate to save your country from waste, from boondoggling, from ruinous taxation, from communism, and dictatorship.

Here is a sample of what happened yesterday in the music bureau. This bureau is conducted by Phil Maxwell, who has had such a world of experience in organizing the Chicagoland Music Festival which pulls its hundred thousand into Soldiers' field each summer. Well, the Emerson Abernathy chorus of 45 voices was one of the first to report during the morning. You will be hearing this fine chorus in many a place over Chicago during the next couple of months.

An Orchestra Volunteers.

And here is another, which gives you an idea of how you can be a VOLUNTEER. A twelve piece amateur orchestra volunteered to cut loose on every possible occasion with instrumental and vocal music. And if you think you've heard Landon songs, wait until this organization of Dick Alexander's gets under way. Another of the early callers was Frank Bennett, the celebrated Chicago singer, who led the music in the Chicago Stadium on Thursday evening when Frank Knox was notified of his nomination for the vice presidency. Mr. Bennett is going to start off a score of duets, trios, and quartets to sing for Landon.

Another early caller was Luke Thomas, a tenor of renown, who is going to sing Landon into the hearts of his countrymen. These are only a few of those who have brought their musical talents to the aid of THE VOLUNTEERS.

Create Debater Division.

A new activity came to light. One young man said he couldn't make speeches nor could he sing. "But," said he, "I can argue like hell. Turn me loose and I'll break into every group I see and argue about running this idiotic New Deal off the map."

So THE VOLUNTEERS now has the new activity of "debater." To be a debater you need only have some convincing facts on the utter foolishness of the last three years in national administration. You may have these by calling at the headquarters of THE VOLUNTEERS. It won't take you a minute to get your service button and your campaign facts.

Among the visitors yesterday were Otis Glenn, Republican nominee for United States senator, and Edward A. Hayes of Decatur, former national commander of the American Legion. Mr. Hayes was accompanied by Edward F. McGinnis. Mr. McGinnis is former commander of the Cook County Council of the American Legion. All were delighted with the plan of volunteer service and were resolved to extend an appeal to all ex-service men to take up the work of THE VOLUNTEERS.

Quick Response from Speakers.

In the bureau of speakers and general service conducted by Julius Miner there was quick response. Among the early visitors to Mr. Miner's office was George A. Crowden of 4406 North Paulina street. Mr. Crowden was among the first to enlist as a speaker. He was supplied with material which will enable him to speak for one minute or one hour and he is the kind of a volunteer to take advantage of every opportunity.

A swing into the field of engineers was put under organization by Gordon McI. Proudfoot, a consulting engineer at 185 North Wabash avenue. Mr. Proudfoot declared he would make it his business to organize all the engineers he can reach. Ben Kallis, 36 South State street, announced his determination to go after the furniture men. Mr. Kallis spent a few moments with Julius Miner and went out a full fledged Volunteer.

Taxes Change Poet's Mind.

Harold S. Fischer created one of the explosions of the day. Mr. Fischer explained that he had been once so enthusiastic about the New Deal that he wrote poetry about it. But now he has been so harassed by taxes and the prospect of a never ending burden of national debt that he has completely changed his ideas.

"I can't stand it any longer," said Mr. Fischer. "I am sorry about the poetry I wrote and I am going to write more poetry to cancel the New Deal verse and build votes for Landon."

So THE VOLUNTEERS now has a division of poetry.

A division can be made for any endeavor. It is an easy thing to do, being a VOLUNTEER. Come to the 17th floor of Tribune Tower and in five minutes you will be on your way to serving your country.

SHOOTS BEER THIEF.

CITY SCHOOL COSTS PER CHILD REPORTED $6.90 UNDER AVERAGE

Chicago spent $6.90 less per child for its public schools during the 1934-1935 term than the average for 73 other cities of the country with 100,000 or more population, J. W. Studebaker, United States commissioner of education, reported yesterday in Washington.

Chicago's expenditure per child, based on an average daily attendance in full time day schools, was given as $94.27, as compared with the nation's average of $101.17 for large cities.

Chicago spent $3.03 per child for school administration, Mr. Studebaker reported, or 3.2 per cent of the total school cost, as compared with 3 per cent of the total cost spent in other cities. Administration costs include the expenses of the board and all administrative officials, school medical attention, and compulsory attendance expenses. The instruction costs in Chicago were 70.3 per cent of the total, as compared with 78.1 per cent for the average.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE TUTORS TO TRAIN POLLS WATCHERS

Plan to Aid in Honest Election System.

With the first day of permanent registration of voters set for Tuesday at the office of the Chicago board of election commissioners in the city hall, civic organizations announced yesterday their plans to coöperate with the new system which is expected to assure honest elections.

The registration will continue at the board's offices until Oct. 5, except on Sept. 19. On that date and on Oct. 6 voters may register in their own precincts.

Sign Duplicate Cards.

The voters sign duplicate cards when they register. One card will be kept permanently on file with the election board and the other will be taken to the precinct polling place on election days for comparison with the voter's signature.

The committee of 50 of the Citizens' Civic league met yesterday in the Hotel La Salle and announced that within the next three weeks it will establish schools to train polls watchers in each ward to prevent fraud in the November elections. The first school will be opened Monday in the 29th ward and later in the week schools will be started in the 30th, 33d, and 37th wards.

Will Open Bureau in Loop.

In addition to the schools, the Civic league will establish a central bureau in the loop. The league combines the efforts of 26 civic groups which are working together to avoid duplication of effort.

Six representatives of the Chicago Association of Commerce have been selected to make the first registrations under the new law. They will record their names on the city's new poll cards when the election board offices open Tuesday morning.

Mark B. O'Leary, for the last 12 years chief investigator for the Chicago board of election commissioners, tendered his resignation yesterday to Mabel G. Reinecke, secretary of the board. He announced that he wishes to return to private work as an accountant and income tax expert. His successor will be appointed by County Judge Jarecki.

HORNER SPEAKS AT HOMECOMING FETE IN TUSCOLA

Tuscola, Ill., July 31.—[Special.]—Gov. Henry Horner and a party of state and local politicians attended the Tuscola homecoming today.

The governor was introduced by D. C. Dobbins. Representative Lewis Long of Sandwich, Ill., candidate for congressman at large, and Hugh L. Rigney of Arthur, candidate for congress also spoke and Victor McDonald of Arthur, J. M. Turner of Marshall were present.

The governor paid a tribute to Stephen A. Douglas, for whom Douglas county was named, and praised him for leaving the Democrats and supporting Lincoln.

He boasted that no state taxes are now paid on real estate and referred with pride to the old age pension for which he took credit. He has spent 4½ millions for the farmers, paid 53 millions to the school fund, and balanced the budget, he declared. He said that no state bonds had been issued under his administration.

Baby Drinks Cupful of Gasoline; Grins About It

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 31.—(AP)—Charles Bert Cowden, 13 months old, tipped up a tincup of gasoline and drained it before his surprised parents could stop him today. He lapsed into unconsciousness, but on the way to a hospital he opened his eyes, hiccoughed a couple of times and smiled. Soon he was happily drinking milk.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

FREEDOM

By CALEB

NO week should pass without our saying thanksgivings for this free country of ours. Many places in the world where once a man could freely speak his mind, he is now forbidden to utter aloud the commonest thoughts lest he offend the "state."

There are places where once the power flowed from the people, where now power directs the people. It tells them what work they can do—and what things they can make. It tells them what they may eat and what they may buy and where they may travel and how. It tells them what they may read and what they may not. It tells them what music they may listen to—and even what words they may speak.

There are nations wherein youth may hardly laugh aloud.

When next you gather at table with your friends—pause. Consider that you are free to appraise or disparage—as loudly as you please—the eminent men who head our government and the candidates who challenge their continuance in office. Appreciate that there are no secret agents of the government unknown to you, waiting to hear a word of criticism for which you can be seized and fined heavily, if not smashed economically.

When you open your paper or magazine, consider a moment! On one page you may read what the Socialists and Communists say. On another you may read excerpts from Republican and Democratic speeches. If these items are not to your liking, you may pick up another publication, which will speak opposite opinions. Do you want facts, on both sides? There are many countries where only one side may be heard.

In news reels you may hear one man expound an idea—and the next moment another man flay the same. If you applaud the first, there are others near you who will applaud the second.

This priceless freedom of the individual is threatened on this earth. We Americans won it at great cost. We have dearly maintained it. It is the greatest heritage of every citizen, regardless of ancestry or position in life.

In this country we permit political factions and parties to propose their palliatives. If times are bad, we even let them experiment. Each American generation has the heart and courage to push further into the idealistic realms of sharing itself with its fellows. So long as initiative and individualism and industry are free to assert themselves, to challenge and correct mistakes, we work out of experiment's failures and embrace the successes. But with one thing it is dangerous for politicians to tamper. That is our freedom—our recourse to condemning and correcting mistakes.

CORN HITS $1 AS FOOD PRICES GO SHARPLY HIGHER

Drouth, New Deal Crop Tinkering Blamed.

aging report that prices of canned goods are soaring, largely because many canneries, usually feverishly at work at this time, are closed for lack of supplies. The largest canners assert that they will have small packs of peas, beans, corn, and tomatoes.

As a precautionary measure, packers and wholesalers have ceased future sales; they will not guarantee prices for the goods now being packed. Sauerkraut in cans is twice as expensive as it was last year—already.

Tax Respite Shows Effect.

Moving along with the drouth as a cause of the increases in prices have been the government policies of restricted production and rewards for not producing. Flour, at retail, is cheaper than it was a year ago, but that is because the United States Supreme court held AAA processing taxes illegal. Marketwise grain experts are sure that regimentation and drouth combined will carry on the current upturns in the flour and bread industries.

B. W. Snow, a recognized economist and grain forecaster, said yesterday that normal surpluses have been wiped out under the government's "rule of thumb" reduction system, under which acreage is cut everywhere without regard to weather possibilities.

Burocrats Scorn Warnings.

"No heed was taken either in 1934 or 1936," he said, "of warnings that there were indications of drouth conditions in certain areas. The world is facing a serious shortage of breadstuffs as a result of drouths and of the American acreage reduction program. The results will not become fully apparent for some months. But one of these results will be increased American imports of grain and meats."

Even the official organs of the government have pointed out the severity of recent price increases. The rise in farm prices in July, according to the bureau of agricultural economics, was the greatest of any month in two years. The present level is higher than for any month since September, 1930, and is 15 per cent above the pre-war average.

Family Pocketbook Is Hit.

The New Deal can point with pride, if it wishes, to the fact that it has made living much higher for the American family. Department of agriculture reports stated that the typical American paid $264 to feed his family in 1933 and $331 in 1935.

The same authority pointed out that food prices last month were 30 per cent above those of three years ago. If the week's food used to cost $10, it now costs $13—and is going to cost more.

FORCED TO SPREAD RELIEF

In Washington agricultural officials were busy again yesterday planning relief measures for the devastated areas in the drouth belt. They added 35 Iowa counties to the "emergency drouth" list. They also added 11 in Kentucky and three in Montana.

It was decided that in these areas distressed farmers would be granted loans and, in many cases, would be given jobs on government projects. No one pointed out the anomaly of agriculturists, many of whom drew benefit checks for not producing all they could, drawing relief because they haven't produced enough to live.

More Loans and Grants.

The Federal Resettlement administration [Tugwell unit] announced additional loans of $975,000 and free grants of $512,000 for drouth relief in southern and central states.

Officials were pondering the problem of extending help to large dairy owners and ranchmen whose herds are in distress, but who cannot qualify as fully destitute. Many of these big operators are unable to raise funds to feed their herds, which are slowly starving. The officials indicated that, as regulations now stand, nothing can be done for the big farmers except to have freight rates on foodstuffs and feed reduced.

It was announced, further, that at the request of President Roosevelt 16 heads of federal agencies had begun anew the study of "long range" drouth control. Long range in this sense means over a long period, and there was some talk that the project of planting a big tree belt across the country would be revived. What would have been the fate of young trees this summer in the drouth belt was not made clear.

Montana's railroad commission yesterday asked Washington to have freight rates of concentrated foodstuffs reduced 50 per cent to "save the state's live stock industry."

Landon Goes to Front Door.

Gov. Landon of Kansas, seeking lower freight rates on cattle shipped out of the dry regions, took a different method. He requested E. B. Boyd, chairman of the western trunk lines committee, to confer in Chicago next Monday with representatives of Kansas and of the interstate commerce commission, with a view to having the railroads agree to emergency rates.

The extent of the drouth became more apparent yesterday when it was reported at Rock Island that the Mississippi there was as low as it was on Aug. 31, 1934. On no other days was the river so shrunken at this point.

JULY SETS NEW DRY RECORD; RAINFALL IS ONLY .22 OF AN INCH

Forecaster C. A. Donnel said last night that the month just past would stand in the records of the weather bureau as the dryest July in history. Total rainfall in Chicago [official] was only .22 of an inch during the month. The next dryest July was in 1934, when precipitation was .42 of an inch. Normal rainfall for the month is 3.33 inches.

July's temperatures were unusually high. For thirty days—yesterday not included—the average temperature was 77.2 degrees, or 4.8 degrees above normal. The hottest July in Chicago was that of 1921, when the average was 79.4, and the second hottest that of 1901, when 77.7 was registered. It was expected that low temperatures yesterday would reduce the average below the 77 mark for the thirty-one days. That figure was the average in 1916, and Mr. Donnel said he believed July of 1936 would be the fourth warmest on record. Yesterday's low was 58 and the high 78.

Fair weather, with somewhat higher temperatures, was forecast for today.

ALBERTA PLANS FIRST ISSUE OF PROSPERITY SCRIP

Road Workers to Get Certificates.

EDMONTON, Alta., July 31.—(AP)—Alberta's social credit government expected today to issue $250,000 in prosperity certificates and begin registration for payment of basic dividends by Aug. 6 or 7.

Premier Aberhart announced yesterday the certificates would be issued to workers employed on provincial road projects.

The original plan for scrip called for stamp certificates. Holders must affix each week stamps of 1 per cent of the face value of the two year certificates, to be in $1 and $5 denominations.

Temporary Relief Measure.

The issue will be followed by scrip requiring no stamps when a sufficient reserve in cash has been stored up by the government from stamp collections.

"The scheme is only a temporary relief measure and will merge into a system of social credit which we expect to inaugurate shortly," W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, said in a letter to the Canadian Labor party.

The issue of $250,000 in certificates might be expected to bring additional business of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, Aberhart said.

The government planned to set up clearing houses to redeem certificates turned in by wholesalers during a certain period of each month. This scrip, established as another medium of exchange, then would be reissued.

Beneficiaries to Be Quizzed.

Forms released under the plan for social credit contained many questions to be answered by persons wishing to receive dividends. They are expected to disclose the province's consumption and each citizen's purchasing power through income and the decrease of purchasing power through debt.

Other forms were provided for producers and farmers, manufacturers and processors, and retailers. Comparison of production and consumption was expected to give a basis for payment of dividends.

The "covenant" contained promises and agreements between the government and the individual. The individual would promise coöperation in the social credit plan and acceptance of "remuneration in Alberta credit" for work.

The main government promise would give monthly dividends to all registered Alberta citizens.

Norman Demetracakis, 21 years old, 4749 North Clark street, was arrested by the town hall police yesterday after he had fraudulently cashed a check for $20 with the Collins & Weiss Coal company, 3637 North Clark street. He admitted that he had stolen the check from a real estate office and added that he had looted more than 50 apartment mail boxes recently. Demetracakis has served terms for swindling in the Leavenworth federal prison and in the penitentiary at Chillicothe, O.

He died later in Henrotin hospital. The bartender, William Pacelli, 1512 North La Salle street, said Madeski complained of being unable to sleep.

'Scarlet Sin' Slayer of Family Taken to Court

Erie, Pa., July 31.—(AP)—Samuel C. Weed, 40, Sunday school superintendent, admitted at a court hearing today that he killed his wife and two small sons with a hammer last July 18. Weed came to court from a hospital, where he has been since shortly after the killings, when police said he jumped into the path of an automobile in an attempt to end his life. He said then that he killed the three because he committed a "scarlet sin."

DODD ANSWERS WIFE'S SUIT FOR TWO CHILDREN

Safety of Boy and Girl at Stake, He Alleges.

Attorney Walter F. Dodd, 56 years old, an authority on constitutional law, filed in the Superior court yesterday his answer to a petition of his wife, Sue Hutchison Dodd, 48 years old, for custody of their children, Walter Jr., 9 years old, and Laura, 6. The children are with Dodd's sister, Mrs. B. L. Bugg, in Atlanta, Ga.

The answer, drawn for Dodd by Attorney Albert Jenner, asks an immediate hearing, both on Mrs. Dodd's separate maintenance suit and on her child custody petition.

The document requests that the two issues be joined and disposed of at a single hearing, declaring that "the primary issue in this case is the safety and welfare of the children." It asserts he was convinced on competent advice that they would not be safe in her care, and accordingly urges that no order be issued in the custody action until all the evidence is heard in the two suits.

Mrs. Dodd brought her maintenance suit last Jan. 30 and on June 15 filed a supplementary petition alleging that her husband, heeding suggestions made by Winnetka school officials, had accused her of insanity despite contrary declarations by four physicians and psychiatrists.

Dodd's answer of yesterday terms the school references irrelevant.

Mrs. Dodd's attorney, Robert N. Golding, said Dodd had not kept an agreement made before Judge Joseph Sabath of the Superior court to permit the children to visit their mother pending disposition of the case.

STATE'S AUGUST RELIEF SHORTAGE NEAR 1½ MILLION

Seek Legislative Aid as Needs Increase.

When the Illinois Emergency Relief commission performed its new monthly task of prorating $2,000,000 in state relief funds yesterday, it was shown that the local governments now administering relief will be at least $1,484,944 short of their needs for August. Hope persisted that the legislature, which reconvenes in special session next Tuesday, will increase the amount [one-third] of the state sales revenue which is now devoted to relief.

Total relief needs in the state for August were placed at $4,775,374, reflecting an increase due to 4,311 families expected to go on relief rolls in downstate communities. In addition to the state's $2,000,000, there will be perhaps $1,290,430 raised by townships to apply against this total.

Estimate Yield from Warants.

Aside from previous poor relief funds on hand in some communities, $938,409 is accounted for by the estimated yield from the sale of tax anticipation warants by 538 governmental units. The warants, based on a property tax of up to 30 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, may not be sold readily, in which case the shortage would be more serious.

Chief Statistician E. E. Ferebee reported that up to July 20 541 governmental units out of 1,458, which are now responsible for relief, had levied the special relief tax. One was the city of Chicago, where the 30 cent tax totals $6,600,000.

The city will be $707,188 short in August, even if it succeeds in obtaining $649,540 by selling relief tax warants. To Chicago the IERC allocated $1,300,817 in state funds, about the same amount as for July, which was the first month of the new system.

County Townships Short.

Townships outside of the city in Cook county are to receive $101,710 in August, which will leave them about $56,000 short of their requirements. Two of the thirty townships, New Trier and Palos, will not get any state funds because local poor relief moneys will meet their needs.

The number of relief cases in the state in August was estimated at 162,788, compared with 158,897 in June, although in Cook county there is a decrease of 620 cases. July cannot be used for comparison because of the confusion resulting from the change-over from state to local relief. Most of the increase, relief officials say, is due to the dismissal of some 20,000 persons by the Works Progress administration in the last several months.

$200,000 for Workers.

To help 2,000 former IERC employés who have been working for a month for the new city relief administration without pay, the IERC made $200,000 available to be loaned to local governments for relief worker salaries. Present legislation makes it impossible for these units to use sales tax funds or money raised by the 30 cent levy for administration.

City Relief Commissioner Leo M. Lyons said that salaries will be paid after the city council takes action to assure the IERC that it will be reimbursed for the loan. The payless employés are now preparing August relief orders to be mailed to the city's 83,379 indigent families.

I. C. C. Approves Alton Bus System; Trolleys Out

The substitution of motor coaches for street cars in Alton was approved yesterday by the Illinois commerce commission. The commission authorized the Illinois Terminal company to cease operating street cars and issued a certificate to the Citizens' Coach company to operate buses. The change is to be effected within one month.

Vatican Jail, 5 Months Old, Gets Its First Customer

Winners in West Side Music Festival Preliminaries

TEACHER'S HIGH A WINS TRIAL FOR MUSIC FESTIVAL

West Siders Qualify for Aug. 15 Event.

BY MARCIA WINN.

The rich musical heritage of the Welsh, Ukrainian and Finnish peoples led a representative of each of those countries to victory last night in the west side preliminaries for mezzos, bassos and sopranos for the seventh annual Chicagoland Music festival sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. The festival will be held in Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 15.

A music teacher, Hannah Millicent Morgan, 1140 Pleasant street, Oak Park, who was born in Durham, England, of Welsh parentage, won first place among 12 mezzo sopranos. Out of eight who sang Ronald's "O, Lovely Night" she was the only one to attempt high A at the end—and make it. Blonde and plump, she has a two and a half octave vocal range.

From Singing Family.

"I don't know why I sing, except because God gave me a voice," she said. "And then I came of a singing family. My father was a minister's son, and at one time they had nine children in the choir. You see, we are a choral people."

Miss Jo Nessel, 1537 North Leamington avenue, a stenographer who erased her age from the application blank, won second place among the mezzos. She has been studying music less than two years, she said. She, too, sang "O, Lovely Night." Miss Loretta Todd, 1134 North Mason avenue, who gave her age only as "adult," won third place with the "O, Harp Immortal" aria from Gounod's "Sappho." She has been studying music since she was 6 years old, has a three range voice, and is herself a music teacher and actress.

Engineer Leads Bassos.

Alexander Kulpak, 541 North Harvey street, Oak Park, a 23 year old mechanical engineer, won first place among 11 bassos with his rich rendition of "Even Bravest Heart" from Gounod's "Faust." The son of Ukrainian parents, he has been singing since he was a child, is a member of the colorful Ukrainian chorus of Chicago, and won first place among west side bassos in the 1935 festival preliminaries.

Second place among the bassos went to Roger Carl Biede, 26 years old, a meat salesman who lives at 4734 Montana street. Biede, who has been singing four years, was west side winner in 1934. Third place went to a bridegroom of nine days, Harold G. Werness, 29 years old, who moved with his bride to 2046 Hood avenue, on the north side, after entering the contest from his west side address at 3028 Linder avenue. Werness, a correspondence engineer, sang "The Trumpeter," by Dix, as did Biede.

Blonde Soprano Wins.

Marie Saviemi, who is 21 and the shiningly blonde daughter of Finnish parents, won the first place over 29 sopranos. Her home is in Hancock, Mich., but for the last year she has lived in LaGrange while attending the Sherwood Music school here. She plays the violin and piano and has a coloratura voice, which she demonstrated to advantage in the "A fors e lui" aria from Verdi's "Traviata."

Dorothea Drake, a lyric soprano, was second. She is 28 years old, a legal stenographer, living at 539 North Waller avenue, and sang "Bird of the Wilderness" by Horsman. Laura Howardsen, 3313 South Kenilworth avenue, Berwyn, 22, a coloratura who is a stenographer, was third.

Judges at the trials last night which were held in the Chicago Woman's Club theater, were Mark Love, Ellen Kinsman Mann and Mary Ann Kaufman. West side winners will compete against those of other districts in the Cook county finals.

FISH ON WEDNESDAY KEEPS 1,500 WORKERS FROM DRAWING PAY

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—Westchester county's employés, numbering more than 1,500, failed to get their pay checks today because yesterday seemed just like Saturday to a clerk in the White Plains office of William S. Coffey, county treasurer. The trouble was that he had had fish for dinner Wednesday, which gave him the idea it was Friday.

It fell to the clerk's lot to lock up the safe yesterday and ,still tasting the fish which he imagined to have been Friday's, he set the time lock two days ahead instead of one.

It was not until he woke up this morning that he discovered his error.

Somebody called up Mosler Safe company, in New Haven, Conn., manufacturers of the safe, to find out how much it would cost to have it opened by force. The Mosler company said it would cost $500, might take most of the day and then, of course, there would be the cost of repairs besides.

That idea was abandoned.

FARMER ADMITS MUTILATING SELF IN FLORIDA CASE

Tampa, Fla., July 31.—(AP)—Deputy Sherif L. M. Hatton said that Clarence L. Sullivan, backwoods farmer on whom a mutilation operation had been performed, confessed tonight that he had emasculated himself.

The confession, Hatton said, was made to Dr. Henry J. Jensen, assistant county physician, who examined him.

Hatton said the confession came after officers sought vainly all day to break down Sullivan's story he had been kidnaped, robbed, and operated on by five rowdy drunks. He was brought to a Tampa hospital late last night by two passing motorists who saw him writhing in agony by the roadside.

Officers said Sullivan told them he was tubercular and worried over the welfare of his wife and four children in a small flatwoods shanty.

"Something just kept a-tellin' me to do it," he was quoted. "I can't tell you what it was. It was just a feeling I had. The more I thought about it the worse it got."

Hatton said Sullivan had been picked up on the roadside several times before, apparently feigning injury.

Team Balks on Track, Saving Farm Boy's Life

Valparaiso, Ind., July 31.—[Special.]—Charles Koeppen Jr., 17, farm youth of Wheeler, Ind., today owed his life to a team of horses that balked suddenly. The horses, driven by Koeppen, were killed by a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train when they refused to move from the tracks as the train neared. Koeppen, unaware of the danger, fell backward to safety from the wagon, which was demolished.

Edward Lundy, 21 years old, 10710 South Albany avenue, charged with malicious mischief for breaking a window at 673 South State street, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Joseph Graber on his promise to attend church regularly.

POPE TAKES NO ACTION TO CURB FATHER COUGHLIN

Radio Priest Unmentioned in Talk with Bishop.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, July 31.—(AP)—Father Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, may continue his political activity without Vatican interference, it appeared tonight.

The radio priest was not discussed by name during the audience, and prelates tonight said this meant the pope would take no action.

Leaves Question to Bishop.

The pontiff would, the prelates asserted, leave the question to Bishop Gallagher. There was no doubt, they added, but that the bishop would permit Father Coughlin to continue his work.

The pope expressed his hope "that amidst actual universal troubles, America may stand as a nation of peace and, respecting human rights, may decide controversial questions by ballot, not by bullets."

Bishop Gallagher's audience lasted twelve minutes.

[Father Coughlin's assertion that President Roosevelt was a "liar," later retracted by public apology, had led to reports the meeting might deal with disciplinary action for the priest. Bishop Gallagher, defending Father Coughlin's right to voice political thought, had asserted he would not bring up the matter.]

Asserts Pope's Pleasure with U. S.

The bishop issued a written statement at the end of his visit here asserting the pope's gratification at the "peaceful attitude of the American people, the strong faith of Catholics in the United States and their perfect loyalty toward the holy see."

Bishop Joseph Schrembs of Cleveland, O., also a visitor today, reported the pontiff's pleasure at the asserted improvement in the moral quality of American motion pictures.

Maywood Gets Ambulance for Trafic Crash Victims

The Maywood police department yesterday acquired a combination ambulance and squad car such as has been successfully used by the county highway police for the last year. The machine contains space for a stretcher and is particularly designed for use in removing injured persons to hospitals after trafic accidents.

COL. KNOX ATTACKS.

Col. Frank Knox in his formal acceptance of the Republican nomination for Vice President took it as a commission in the combat forces in the fight to preserve the republic. With more felicity and truth than Mr. Roosevelt he could have said: "I accept the commission you tendered me. I join with you. I am enlisted for the duration of the war."

As a veteran of the Spanish war and, with Gov. Landon, of the world war, Col. Knox is commissioned in a third. In the traditions and practices of American political action the man in second place on the ticket frequently is given the front line work. He can go into the thick of the mêlée. The man in first place does not labor under restraints, but the dignity which attaches to the office he seeks or which as a candidate he may have is to be considered.

There is a propriety in this. Gov. Landon respected it. He asked for the gift of simple and straightforward speech and used it well. A candidate for President is a political leader, but as President, to be worthy of his trust, he must measure above partisanship. Gov. Landon would not have felt at the moment of his accepting the nomination that he could assail the work of the Roosevelt administration with the vigor Col. Knox was free to use.

Landon will have the responsibility for reconstruction. It is not to be done in anger. The people who will resist the Republican candidate have as much at stake as the people who will support him. None of the Americans who will vote for Roosevelt can escape the consequences of a continuance of what Col. Knox calls "a series of hysterical experiments on the economic life of a burdened people."

The experiments have been hysterical, but the basic plan has been calculated. The experiments and the plan have been worked out to the accompaniment of bitter indictments which have covered the customs, practices and ideas of nearly all living Americans and the people from whom they descended. At one time or another every one in the country has had his morals and manners denounced by some vituperative reformist in Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt is by no means the least of these orators whose defamation of their country is eloquent and false. Col. Knox took up that fight. If what the Rooseveltians say of the American system were true the people would have abandoned the country long ago. No bondage could have held them. They are not that kind of people. They would have been on their way. For a while they may be imposed upon, the reformists telling them how wicked or stupid they've been, but they'll go back of the voice to the facts.

They do not believe that they are all either crooks or dupes or that the government which they create under laws which they support was intended, before Roosevelt, to deliver nearly all of them to powerful and unscrupulous knaves. The Rooseveltians have stretched the long bow too far. It will snap on them.

The purpose of the defamation is as apparent as is its untruthfulness. A system of free government is to be damned that a system of unfree society may be substituted in its place.

Col. Knox, having studied the slave societies of Europe and being aware of the Rooseveltian purposes here, takes up the fight on this line.

AIR FREIGHT.

The announcement of Transcontinental Western Air, Inc., that it will convert its Ford trimotored planes into freight carriers recalls that over a year ago, when one air line after another was announcing the purchase of new planes, THE TRIBUNE suggested that the very serviceable machines that were being outmoded should be used for "air box cars." The equipment has been fully depreciated and therefore can be flown at a lesser cost per mile than the newer ships. The development is logical. When the railways were being constructed the builders expected to derive most of their earnings from the carriage of passengers and mail. Now these services furnish less than a third of the total earnings.

What trafic will seek airplane service? It must be developed on theories of "what the trafic will bear." When the railways were built prairie farm produce did not feed the east, nor were California and Florida fruits marketed in Chicago. This commerce was created by transportation men who worked on the principle that the whole country demanded the best that was produced within its borders. They banked on the American who "wants what he wants when he wants it."

The air companies should pursue the same theory. It is extremely doubtful if much of the present air travel actually competes with railway service. Many of the trips would be impossible if surface transportation only was available. Perhaps the air lines have drawn most heavily on the revenues of the long distance telephone. Parallel conditions will govern air freight. No attempt should be made to prey on existing commerce. The air lines can build a business of their own that competes with nothing now in existence.

COUNTING A FEW BLESSINGS.

Although some crops have suffered badly in this region and sun bake has browned much of the landscape the lake locality remains confirmed in its belief that its climate rates fancy in that commodity. Its old reliable does not take a licking often or long. The top soil stays where it is intended to be. There are no dust storms. House cleaning is not done with a shovel. The houses do not have to be anchored against the wind. High mists do not fill the basements and rowboats are seldom needed in the streets.

If temperatures go too high or too low the excess does not mean a siege. Twenty-four hours may change it for much the better. If it's only a whisper that comes off the lake it will offer relief. Insects are minor incidents. They do some damage and commit depredations, but they are not as devouring armies spreading havoc and leaving desolation in their wake. Even a brown summer mellows into August. Nature does not appear at any time as an active enemy. The elements appear for the most part as friendly gods with gifts and not requiring sacrifices. Not so bad for some people.

A PERFECT JOB.

The management of the ceremony of notification of the Republican vice presidential nominee, Col. Knox, was a triumph of efficiency for which all concerned deserve congratulations. We do not mention names, although directorship is always of prime importance, because the extraordinary success attained was made possible only by the loyal, tactful, and competent coöperation of the whole staf. Undoubtedly the fact that the Legion was the main factor in the arrangements gives it special credit for the perfect disposal of an enormous crowd. Legionnaires know how to command and how to obey and they have had experience of the movement of the masses of men. Another great factor was an adequate number of police and the courteous and efficient service they performed.

But the crowd, too, was responsible, inspired and unified by the great purpose to which the occasion was dedicated, and full of the spirit which has made American democracy a power in the world and the keeper of its highest hopes.

TRAVELERS IN EUROPE.

A former French official interested in the tourist industry has protested against the treatment of tourists in his country. His remarks will be seconded by many, if not all, Americans who have visited France in recent years. It seems not merely a matter of irritating regulations and petty exactions but of a rather unpleasant spirit which gives the stranger an accumulating impression that he is not wanted.

The regulations and exactions can be removed and no doubt they will be as the French government comes to realize that the very profitable tourist stream is turning away from France, as it has to some extent of late. Americans seem to be slow to resent them but they do, and with other countries making elaborate efforts to attract and please travelers, France will find her income affected increasingly.

But this is perhaps the least difficult aspect of her problem. The French are the most self-centered of the advanced peoples. Foreigners may well feel that they are not wanted, because they are not. Strangers probably are not loved for their own sake anywhere, except in the United States and some other naturally hospitable countries. Sweden is much like America in this respect, and in other smaller but highly civilized countries the foreigner, we believe, is really welcome. English reserve is not comforting, but the language of the country can be understood for all practical purposes. That removes a great difficulty for the modest or impatient traveler, and of late the English are out to make travel in Britain attractive, with observable success. Mussolini's régime has also carefully pursued a profitable policy toward turismo, and while the Hitler régime has lost a very profitable body of American tourists, it is doing its best to please the rest.

But the French people will not be easily brought to conceal their dislike of Americans or any other intruder. We have a certain sympathy for them. They love their own country with a special exclusiveness and our tourist ways are likely to annoy. We cannot blame them, but that doesn't make the situation any pleasanter and a good many Americans will wander elsewhere.

Editorial of the Day

[Kansas City Star.]

The competitive system of doing business often is condemned when the real criticism needs to be directed against individuals for a lack of enterprise. No system, of course, can or should guarantee everybody success regardless of competence, initiative, industry, and foresight.

Take the railroads, for example. For some years, unfortunately, these carriers were inclined to complain of certain forms of competition while doing little or nothing to meet it. Then, regardless of some justification for their attitude, the policy was radically changed. There was a general awakening to the fact that the best way to deal with competition was to meet it squarely. The carriers became alert and began a series of betterments that now are working a transformation in their service to the public.

And this enlightened policy is becoming profitable to the railroads without putting other forms of transportation out of the business. Air conditioning of passenger trains, together with a reduction of fares and other improvements, has brought a marked revival in rail travel. Just the other day a railroad operating in Iowa reported success with a new service, the "doorstep pickup and delivery" of its passengers at a small charge. This, along with the reduced fares, had brought a passenger revenue increase of 25 per cent. The same road several years ago had inaugurated a similar pickup and delivery service for freight, a system that has been adopted rather generally by railroads in the southern and western territories. Now the eastern railroads are petitioning the interstate commerce commission for permission to institute a similar freight service in their territory.

The whole experience is a valuable demonstration of the fact that the competitive system does not necessarily mean losses and destruction of business—when the system actually is made to work.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

WE USED TO BE very fond of the old saying that when a dog bites a man it's not news, but when a man bites a dog—ah, there is big news. But that's very different today in excited Chicago. When a dog bites a man it's news all over the front page and everybody who lives on the street where the biting took place rushes to take the serum treatment for rabies. The guilty dog is shot, electrocuted, hanged, poisoned, beheaded, and then buried fifty feet deep in the sands by the shore under great blocks of granite. And then the people who put the dog to death take the serum cure; so do the men who dug the grave and all the innocent bystanders who watched while the grave was dug. I'm afraid to go out on the street. Not that I'm afraid a dog will bite me; I've been bitten by dogs, horses, squirrels, mules, mosquitoes, fleas, bedbugs, and some of my best friends and I've never had rabies yet. Besides I belong to the old school that believes every dog is entitled to one bite. But I'm afraid that people are getting so excited over this thing that I might catch hay fever and sneeze and somebody would think I was barking and had gone mad and send for the dog catchers.

I DON'T SEE how the Spanish can be Soviets. The Soviets wear their shirt tails outside of their pants, which no Spaniard would think of doing, and the Soviets drink vodka while the Spaniards drink sherry and put it in the babies' milk bottle. Soviets, too, have terrible whiskers which Spaniards scorn and they use olive oil only to put in their hair while it is a principal article of diet in Spain. Then the Spanish love bullfighting, which the Russian Soviets would regard as a fearful waste of time, energy, and sirloin steaks. No, if Spain goes Soviet it will have to be on a new Spanish model and not after the Russian style.

THE HUT IN THE WOOD.

I.

That moon that's lying like a bellied sail,
Scarlet upon the water, is the moon
That rose, so colored, on another pale
And magic night like this and set as soon.
Not to a heart's great breaking comes this sight
For the first time remembered, but to love
That waits with trembling limbs within a night
That's stark with starlight, on a night whereof
The burdened heart has memory as it breaks.
Not in your throat will recollection lie
So sharply sweet, that dreams and burns and wakes,
Bitterly impotent to move or cry.

No sudden miracle can set you free

II.

Helen had this same sickness when she saw
Paris come down the path, striking the flowers
Flat with his sword. The heavy-fruited haw
Sheltered Elaine's brief fever. Carking hours
This is accustomed havoc that is wrought
When seasonally the vines cluster in leaf
And the tight bud to sudden bloom is brought.
Dido fell sick once; there were ploughs and salt.
Dark Cleopatra cured it with an asp.
Mary of Scotland had it to a fault;
The door to her heart's cupboard had no hasp.

What time has cured, I am not thinking of,
Sick as I am of green apples of love.

III.

Thirty pieces of silver Judas got,
A trinket's price for some slut girl of town,
But in his breast his heart stood tight and hot;
The wage gave Haceldama some renown.
No one can question Judas now or know
If the brief hour was worth the halter weight.
That was his price. He heard the rooster crow
And Cæsar's phalanx marching past the gate.
Judas remained. The dawn was red with shame
He had not meant to kiss a life away.
It was the silver! and he named a Name.
His passion and his fear were whips that day.

Thirty pieces of silver bought you both:
You—and the foreigner from Kerioth.

IV.

My dreams are cattle going out to feed
On sunny meadows where no grey wolf goes
Shadowy in the shadows. They give heed
To browsing grasses that the daisy knows,
And cress and purple plumes of water-aven
And drowsing rest beneath the casual rain
Until the twilight marks them to their haven,
Strung out in slow return along the lane.
Full-uddered now, they gather at the bars,
Heavy with milk, fragrant with smell of sun
And summer wind and dew from early stars,
Standing unthoughtfully by one and one,
Waiting the salted bins and turning over

V.

Let me say only this: not soon will come
Another angel to the broken wall
That guards my garden, where you carried some Slight messages from Heaven. That is all
The words I have for a clear miracle.
I do not think that you were Lucifer;
I dare not hope that you were Gabriel,
Coming alone without a trumpeter;
And if it was as Azrael you came,
With seeds of death, I would not even care,
Remembering you called me by my name
And how the sun was golden on your hair,
And that I worship you, angel or human,
Who brought me to my stature as a woman.

AND NOW IT'S AUGUST! About all August is good for is hot weather, hay fever, dust, goldenrod, cattails, and the doldrums. It's the hardest month to live through of the whole twelve. I've heard it said that if you live through August you're sure to live through the rest of the year. But after one lives through August he doesn't want to live the rest of the year. R. H. L.

PRESERVE SOUND TEETH.

WOULDN'T it be wonderful if we were all provided with indestructible teeth, permanent rustless bones, everlasting arteries and muscles, and hearts and kidneys that would never wear out? Well, yes, and again no! Such an organization would be out of tune with the general biological scheme that everything about the body is susceptible to decay.

Nature was rather wise, after all, in building our bodies with living elements; in providing as many varieties of personalities as there are individuals, and in planning survival so that dependence is placed upon effort, industry, and the exercise of intelligence. What a sorry day will dawn when we are required no longer to use our brains or brush our teeth.

Ah! that's it—good clean, white, strong "ivories" that can sink into a beefsteak without apologizing or emitting a cry of distress.

We all develop during a lifetime two sets of teeth. The first numbers 20, the second 32. By the time a child is a year old he possesses from 6 to 8; 16 when he is a year and a half, and all of the temporary set by the time he is 2½. This, of course, provided he is in normal health and has received an adequate supply of vitamins. Between the ages of 5 and 7 the first four permanent molars—the so-called 7 year affairs—arrive; and from that time on the baby set begins to fall out or is crowded out by the oncoming permanent structures.

Bad teeth are often painful; in addition, they may become a real menace to health. They may harbor infection and pour into the blood stream poisonous substances which will injure important organs, such as the heart and the kidneys. Furthermore, unless these foci of infection are removed, general changes in the arteries—arteriosclerosis—may be set up with great reduction in efficiency.

To what extent bacteria are responsible for decay is not quite clear. Certainly other factors are concerned. Even cleanliness is not an absolute guarantee against decay, and we probably have much to learn about the influence of the ductless glands. Some years ago almost every one was testing himself with litmus paper to see whether or not he had an acid mouth. Enough research has been done to show that slight variations in the acid or alkaline reactions of the saliva have been stressed too strongly. Much is lacking in our understanding of the causes of dental caries [destruction].

Probably the chief element in maintaining good teeth is diet. Soft foods are useful, but if employed exclusively have been shown to be detrimental. English research workers have brought on rapid decay of the teeth of experimental animals by feeding diets deficient in protein, calcium, and vitamins. Fortunately for most of us milk contains these properties, particularly if reënforced with vitamin D, and hence provides protection against deterioration.

Many observers believe that the possession of good teeth depends more upon the care of the mother during pregnancy than upon anything and everything that can be done thereafter. The development of the babe creates such a heavy drain upon the mother's stores of calcium and phosphorus that should her diet contain too little of these substances, and too few vitamins, the foundation for poor teeth in the child is established. Nowadays, since we are feeding orange juice with a plentiful supply of milk to infants, we have no fear that the child's requirements will not be fully met.

About the age of 2½ the child should make his first visit to the dentist and, after that, at least two visits each year. This is prevention in the best sense and is far cheaper than neglect.

As we grow older we are likely to become more careless. We may neglect entirely the necessity of calcium in the diet which was so carefully given us as children; and rare is the adult who will not require at least a pint of milk in each 24 hours. We must look upon milk, green vegetables, and fruits as teeth preserving foods.

GOLD INJECTIONS.

L. G. K. writes: Some months ago you mentioned the injection of gold salts in the treatment of arthritis. Has anything recent been published on the subject and is the plan considered effective?

REPLY.

In June of this year Hartfall and Garland of Leeds, England, set forth the results of their experience with the gold treatment of approximately 400 arthritis patients—most of whom were bedridden. They indicate that 8 per cent have been cured, apparently; while 69 per cent showed marked improvement. Toxic reactions to the injections occurred in 37 per cent of the cases. In other words, the patients were temporarily worse with increased joint swelling and pain.

In the light of their experience these authors recommend reduction in the dosage formerly employed in order to eliminate the poisonous effects. We must regard the use of gold salts as still experimental. If used at all, the dosage should be started at a very low level and the patient should be under hospital management.

IMMUNIZATION SHOTS.

Mrs. S. K. writes: Is it advisable to inject a child against diphtheria at 8 months and against whooping cough at 9 months? Which is more important and how much time should elapse between the two? She was vaccinated against smallpox at 7 months.

REPLY.

A child may be immunized against diphtheria by the time it is 9 months old. The results of diphtheria immunization are more reliable than those of whooping cough. Even though the whooping cough vaccine does not protect the child completely, it will probably lessen the severity of the disease. Follow the advice of your physician in the matter.

MILK MAY HELP.

W. L. C. writes: My husband has an ulcerated stomach. He drinks beer to make him sleep and is always sick. His abdomen is large. What can he take to make him sleep that will not make him sick?

REPLY.

Alcohol should not be used by one with stomach ulcers. Milk should be included in the diet. Sometimes a glass of warm milk at bedtime will aid sleep.

PROBABLY ULCER.

Mrs. B. B. writes: I am 34 years old and have had attacks of indigestion for several years. Recently I have had considerable pain and gas after eating. I am on a strict diet. X-ray of the stomach showed a bulbular deformity. Please explain what this is.

REPLY.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1, 1787.—[The convention in recess. The committee of detail at work. No report by Madison.] This article continues with the brief biographical sketches of the celebrities by Maj. William Pierce, a delegate from Georgia and a revolutionary soldier, who was an aid, with Capt. Dayton, a delegate from New Jersey, to Gen. Sullivan in the expedition against the Iroquois in 1779. The sketches follow:

More of Who's Who in the Convention

BY MAJ. PIERCE.

From Pennsylvania Benjamin Franklin. Dr. Franklin is well known to be the greatest philospher of the present age—all the operations of nature he seems to understand—the very heavens obey him, and the clouds yield up their lightning to be imprisoned in his rod. But what claim he has to the politician posterity must determine. It is certain he does not shine much in public council—he is no speaker, nor does he seem to let politics engage his attention. He is, however, a most extraordinary man and tells a story in a style more engaging than anything I ever heard. Let his biographer finish his character. He is 82 years old and possesses an activity of mind equal to a youth of 25 years of age.

Robert Morris is a merchant of great eminence and wealth, an able financier and a worthy patriot. He has an understanding equal to any public object and possesses an energy of mind that few men can boast of. Although he is not learned, yet he is as great as those who are. I am told that when he speaks in the assembly of Pennsylvania he bears down all before him. What could have been his reson for not speaking in the convention I know not—but he never once spoke on any point. This gentleman is about 50 years old.

James Wilson. [Maj. Pierce does not mention that Wilson was educated in law schools in Scotland, being Scot born.] Mr. Wilson ranks among the foremost in legal and political knowledge. He has joined to a fine genius everything that can set him off and show him to advantage. He is well acquainted with man and understands all the passions that influence him. Government seems to have been his particular study, all the political institutions of the world he knows in detail and can trace the causes and effects of every revolution from the earliest stages of the Grecian commonwealth down to the present time. No man is more clear, copious and comprehensive than Mr. Wilson, yet he is no great orator. He draws the attention not by the charm of his eloquence but by the force of his reasoning. He is about 45 years old.

Mr. Gouverneur Morris is one of those geniuses in whom every species of talents combine to render him conspicuous and flourishing in public debate. He winds through all the mazes of rhetoric and throws around him such a glare that he charms, captivates and leads away the senses of all who hear him. But with these powers he is fickle and inconstant, never pursuing one train of thinking, nor ever regular. He has gone through a very extensive course of reading and is acquainted with all the sciences. No man has more wit nor can any engage the attention more than Mr. Morris. He was bred to the law but I am told he disliked the profession and turned merchant. He is engaged in some great mercantile matters with his namesake, Mr. Robert Morris. This gentleman is about 38 years old. He was unfortunate in losing one of his legs and getting all the flesh taken off his right arm by a scald when a youth.

THE VACATION AND THE DOG.

Chicago, July 30.—I am heartily in accord with the city's campaign to banish the stray dogs from our streets, both for the benefit of the suffering dogs themselves and of the endangered people. But, as usual, the campaign is being carried too far.

Here is our own case: Our dog has not been outside of our own yard since a ride in the car on Memorial day, and in all the five years of his life has never been taken out without a leash. Now for the first time in ten years we feel that we can afford a modest little vacation out of the city, but—what to do with the dog? Apparently we can't take him; we don't want to burden our neighbors with the responsibility and care of him, and we certainly can't afford to pay $10 or so to board him. So it looks as if we still have to give up our vacation, all because the authorities make no discrimination in favor of those people who take care of their pets, but put them all in the class of those who let their pets run wild, to be a menace and nuisance to the public. E. S. S.

GRASS.

Chicago, July 29.—Remember Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt had words about letting the grass grow in the streets. Well, Mr. Roosevelt is not going to let this be said of him this fall. The west half of Ravenswood avenue between Montrose and Wilson avenue, is used very little and consequently each year quite a noticeable amount of green grass appears between the bricks of an otherwise very serviceable and comparatively smooth pavement. During the last few days an enormous force of two or three hundred WPA workers has been moving at a furious clip to remove the greenish smear from the Roosevelt escutcheon. Or maybe I'm wrong. Perhaps it was the AAA reducing the crop surplus.

A. W. STANBERRY.

PHARAOH HAD A BRAIN TRUSTER.

Springfield, O., July 30.—Once upon a time a fellow named Joseph, while brain trusting for a ruler named Pharaoh, was faced by a crop surplus. His handling of the situation, as recorded in Genesis, 41, is respectfully referred to your readers.

Of course, Joseph lived in the horse and buggy days, but if any one can show me how the "Wallace-Tugwell, etc.," technique is any better, I am willing to listen. FRANK L. WILSON.

WE THINK OF HIRING HIM.

Chicago, July 30.—I have never read anything that approaches MacCartie's genius for saying much in few words. Why can't the readers of your paper be made acquainted with his real name and his location or, better still, why does not THE TRIBUNE place him on its staf? His talent for brevity and precision should be made available to all to read. S. H.

FORBIDDEN SWIMMING.

Chicago, July 29.—Please sponsor a campaign to free at least one Chicago beach of life guards. This for benefit of those of your adult readers who choose to swim, not wade.

Now, Chicagoans bathe in compact little herds. Surely this is unhygienic, but let one bather wade beyond breast depth or stray to left or right along the surf, even, and a fellow in a red bathing suit and a white boat blows a whistle and shepherds him back within bounds.

Years ago life guards first learned to swim, then yanked out the drowning. Today they whistle 'em out. Can these beach policemen really swim, or are the jobs purely political? If the latter, why not reduce their method of preventive life saving to its logical absurdity by forbidding swimming altogether? And are all Chicagoans bathing babies who have to be dunked by red shirted nurses?

NEEDS TUCK POINTING.

Chicago, July 20.—[Friend of the People.]—I own a two story brick building next to a three story brick building which has defective gutters. This causes all the water to come into my gangway and also fills up my gutters on my roof, causing great disturbance. There is also a stone loose on the front porch next to my gangway [stone porch] which will some day come down on whoever happens to be walking in my gangway, causing severe injuries. Nothing has been done to remedy this, either.

W. B.

Our inspector reports there is a loose stone on top of front porch and the stone work needs tuck pointing.

The owner has been given notice to reset loose stone on front porch and tuck point stone work where needed.

If this work is not done at the expiration of the time allotted in our notice we will proceed as the law directs.

RICHARD E. SCHMIDT, Deputy,

ILLINOIS GAME CODE.

Highland Park, Ill., July 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In the event a car accidentally strikes a wild bird [such as a red-headed woodpecker] and stuns it, is it permissible to pick the bird up, nurse it back to health, and perhaps keep it? This question arose, and not being very well acquainted with laws on birds, would like your advice. M. L.

Section 18 of the Illinois game code says that: "It shall be unlawful: [a] for any person to catch, or have in possession, living or dead, any song, insectivorous, or non-game seed eating bird." Certain exceptions are cited, not including woodpeckers.

WOMAN NAMED IN ASTOR CASE ASKS FOR RETRACTION

Norma Taylor Demanding Witness Recant.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 31.—[Special.]—Norma Taylor, whose name was mentioned in Mary Astor's child custody suit, today threatened reprisal as a result of testimony that she was one of four women who were frequent visitors at the home of the actress' divorced husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe.

Miss Taylor's mother, Mrs. H. W. Bradley, in whose home on Jackson Heights, the actress is staying, said her daughter had suffered a nervous collapse and would be removed to a sanitarium in Westchester county.

Attorney Sends Message.

"Miss Taylor demands vindication and complete refutation of testimony against her by Nellie Richardson," stated a telegram from her counsel in New York, where Miss Taylor is now. The communication was sent to Dr. Thorpe's lawyers.

"Otherwise she plans action against all responsible for thoroughly perjurious testimony on the part of said witness," the telegram said.

Miss Richardson testified last Wednesday night that while she was nursemaid for 4 year old Marylyn Thorpe, daughter of the doctor and actress, Miss Taylor was at Dr. Thorpe's home several times and "usually" remained overnight.

Tells of Bed Breakfasts.

The nurse also said she had served breakfast in bed to Miss Taylor and Dr. Thorpe in his bedroom.

Dr. Thorpe's attorney, Joseph Anderson, said he expects to "go to the bottom of the reason Miss Richardson testified as she did." He said she probably will be recalled to the stand next week.

The trial, in which Miss Astor is seeking the sole custody of Marylyn—which Dr. Thorpe won along with an uncontested divorce last year—is in recess until Monday.

VAN SCHAACK JR. MUST PAY $300 A MONTH TO WIFE

Cornelius Peter Van Schaack Jr., 27 years old, of Wilmette, president of a sales promotion concern, was ordered by Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski in the Circuit court yesterday to pay his wife, Nancy Mae, 25 years old, $300 a month temporary support money. Mrs. Van Schaack sought $750 a a month and $3,500 solicitor's fees pending disposition of her suit for separate maintenance which she filed on July 23. The lawyer's fee was disallowed.

In chambers the judge tried to reconcile the couple in vain, but asserted he still hoped to solve their difficulties. He deemed the underlying causes trivial and blamed "in-law" complications.

After the session in chambers Van Schaack took the witness stand to deny the assertion of Attorney Max Andalman for Mrs. Van Schaack that he would soon receive a year's payment of $3,600 from a trust set up in the $500,000 will of his late father, a wholesale druggist. He declared that the will set up no trusts, but admitted that he received $30,000 from his mother's estate in 1929.

Judge Klarkowski said his support money order would have no effect on the findings of Judge Philip J. Finnegan on the separate maintenance petition. Attorney Andalman told the court that Mrs. Van Schaack would be hard pressed to conduct the family home at 420 Washington street, Wilmett, and to support her two small children on $300 a month.

GERMANY FREES CHICAGOAN WHO INSULTED NAZI

NURNBERG, Germany, July 31.—(AP)—Ludwig Hoffmann of Chicago, jailed for an alleged insult to Julius Streicher, Germany's leading anti-Semite, was released today with a warning to be more careful of his utterances in the future.

Hoffmann, a German born American citizen, was arrested on July 1 after he was alleged to have used the German word "lump" in referring to Streicher, publisher of the anti-Jewish newspaper Stuermer. The monosyllable may mean in German a simple expression of derision or an extreme insult.

Leniency was promised Hoffmann if he could show he did not know what he was saying when he used the expression. He was born in Nurnberg 31 years ago, lived in Chicago for some time, and returned to Germany to visit relatives.

Fort Sheridan C. M. T. C. Period Ends; 900 Go Home

The Citizens' Military Training camp which opened at Fort Sheridan on July 2 disbanded yesterday and the 900 young men enrolled in the camp departed for their homes in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan. Shortly before the final mess, Brig. Gen. Dana T. Merrill, commandant at Fort Sheridan, inspected the camp and praised the condition of the corps and the excellent record of the men.

YANKEE GUNBOAT ORDERED TO WAR SCENE IN CHINA

British Warships Also Move to Revolt Area.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 31.—The United States gunboat Mindanao at Canton has been ordered to Wuchow, Kwangsi province, to evacuate Americans and missionaries there due to the new threat of civil war precipitated by the defiance of the central Chinese government at Nanking by two Kwangsi war lords, Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi. Li and Pei refused to accept their "exile" from positions of power in Kwangsi to other posts.

The British gunboats Moth and Seamew also have been ordered to Wuchow and three more British warships are ready to proceed to the West river in Kwangsi to evacuate foreigners.

It is reported that Chiang Kai-shek, National government dictator, plans to proceed to Canton personally to direct the campaign against the Kwangsi rebels. An economic blockade has already been enforced and military action is expected.

Canton reports assert that 300,000 troops loyal to Nanking have been mobilized to carry out an enveloping movement against Kwangsi in coöperation with militia.

EVACUATE THREE MONTANA TOWNS IN FOREST FIRES

Havre, Mont., July 31.—(AP)—Three Montana villages were isolated tonight by a raging fire that ate a path four miles wide through the Lewis and Clark national forest.

Roaring flames which turner more than 30,000 acres of once green forest into charred and smoldering snags converged on the evacuated mining towns of Landusky and Zorthan, and on Hays, tiny community on the Fort Belknap Indian reservation. It was feared all buildings, including homes of the miners and Indian agency employés, would be destroyed.

Women an dchildren in Landusky and Zorthan, with a combined population of about 600, were taken to safety in airplanes, autos and on horseback. Last night Hays' population of 400 was evacuated.

SIX JAP OFFICERS GET PRISON FOR PART IN REVOLT

TOKIO, July 31.—(AP)—Six army officers were sentenced today to imprisonment of from four years to life for complicity in the military rebellion of Feb. 26, the war office announced.

Capt. Itaro Yamaguchi was sent to prison for life for aiding the bloody uprising, which cost the lives of three statesmen.

Capt. Yamaguchi earned notoriety in 1934 when he publicly addressed the soldiers of his regiment attacking the anti-militarist policies of Finance Minister Korekiyo Takahashi, one of those assassinated.

A court-martial earlier this month sentenced seventeen leaders of the unsuccessful coup to death and five to life imprisonment. Later it was announced that fifteen had been executed, but did not explain why two others escaped the penalty.

M. L. ANNENBERG BUYS PHILADELPHIA PAPER FOR ABOUT 15 MILLION

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—Moses L. Annenberg, publisher, announced today he has purchased the Philadelphia Inquirer for an amount "in the neighborhood of 15 million dollars." This price, he said, included real estate.

Annenberg said he made the purchase through the Cecelia company, which operates his publishing interests, including the Morning Telegraph, New York; the Miami Tribune, radio and screen guides, and other publications. He is the owner of a syndicate which disseminates racing information and publishes Racing Form.

The Inquirer is one of Pennsylvania's largest and best known papers and has long been a leading Republican organ. Annenberg will take control at once, he said, and announced that the editorial policy of the Inquirer "positively would remain unchanged."

The Inquirer is more than a hundred years old. In 1889 it was purchased by James Elverson and eventually passed by inheritance to a daughter, Mme. Eleanore Elverson Patenotre of Paris, who married a Frenchman. Raymond Patenotre, a son who is a member of the French chamber of deputies, has been active head of the Elverson estate.

CURED OF RIVER BATHING.

A charge of disorderly conduct against Richard O'Connell Jr., 19 years old, 4022 Kenmore avenue, who leaped into the river at the Michigan avenue bridge last Saturday, was dismissed by Judge Leon Edelman yesterday on the youth's promise not to repeat the act.

HURRICANE ROARS ACROSS 75 MILE AREA IN FLORIDA

Thousands Flee Resort Towns; Heavy Damage.

Pensacola, Fla., July 31.—[Special.]—Roaring along on the crest of a wind that reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour at times, a tropical storm swirled into northwest Florida from the Gulf of Mexico today and damaged shipping and waterfront property along a 75 mile stretch east of Pensacola.

Tonight the center of the disturbances had shifted to south central Alabama and was moving northward with greatly diminishing intensity, weather officials said.

No loss of lives or injuries were reported, but thousands of persons fled the stricken Florida area, in some instances leaving towns almost deserted.

The Red Cross was asked to aid many persons marooned by high water. National headquarters of the organization in Washington, D. C. ordered three disaster relief workers to go from here to Valparaiso, Fla., where great havoc was wrought by the hurricane.

U. S. Gunnery Base Damaged.

The wind reached a peak of 100 miles an hour at Valparaiso and caused heavy damage to the United States gunnery base there. Many homes were damaged and small boats driven ashore.

All wharfs were washed away at Fort Walton and the town deserted by most of the 2,000 persons there on vacations.

The city owned fishing docks at Panama City were destroyed, the banana schooner Malva beached, and the vessel Malosa unmoored. Streets and basements were flooded, many trees were blown down, and about 500 persons temporarily abandoned homes there.

Officials of the coast guard said tonight that the tugboat Minnie Lee sank in Choctowatchee bay and that the crew of five is missing.

Other Vessels Missing.

Coast guardsmen sought to ascertain the whereabouts of two other vessels. They are the steamer Tarpon, with a crew of 15, en route from Appalachicolo, Fla., to Panama City, and the 38 foot auxiliary schooner Ketchum of St. Petersburg.

Many persons were reported marooned by high water in their homees at Lynn Haven, a resort near Panama City, and asked Red Cross aid. Civilian conservation camp buildings were unroofed at Niceville.

Although Pensacola was out of the storm area, there was a 40 mile an hour wind here.

Gets 6 Months for Wiring Chair to Shock Landlord

Alfred Milton Anderson, 28 years old, was sentenced to six months in the Bridewell by Judge Leon Edelman in Municipal court yesterday on a charge of assault. Anderson, a radio engineer, admitted that he had rigged up an "electric chair" in his room at 221 West 61st street, to discourage his landlord, Otto Nordberg, 76 years old, from carrying garbage through the room. Nordberg's wife was severly burned when she touched the charged wires on the chair.

Mandel Brothers used more Tribune advertising in the past six months than any advertiser ever used

DURING the first six months of this year, Mandel Brothers placed 503,096 lines of advertising in the Chicago Tribune.

This is the largest volume of advertising Mandel Brothers has ever used in any Chicago newspaper in any comparable period.

It is 16,556 more lines than any other advertiser has placed in the Tribune in the first six months of any year.

76% in the Tribune

As Mandel Brothers has made greater use of Tribune advertising space, sales have recorded the effect of the added Tribune sales power.

For every additional dollar Mandel's spent in advertising during the six months, ended June 30, 1936, the store secured thirty dollars in increased sales.

Chief contributor to this gain was Tribune advertising. Last year in this period the Tribune received 67% of Mandel Brothers' total advertising linage in all Chicago newspapers. This year the Tribune's share was stepped up to 76%.

In Step With Progress

Mandel Brothers' increasing use of Tribune advertising is but one evidence of the forward-driving spirit of this institution which has been recently expressed in another striking way—the complete air conditioning of 82 departments.

Customers now enjoy this new scientific benefit throughout the entire first floor, the fourth, and fifth floors, and the two subway stores.

MANDEL'S SALES GO UP AS STORE TEMPERATURE GOES DOWN!

Mandel Brothers' sales have been particularly good during the past few weeks because of the air conditioning of a large number of departments and the aggressive use of Tribune advertising.

The page announced another step in the program of improvement continuously in effect in this store—increased air conditioning service to shoppers.

Through July 12, Mandel Brothers used 42 more—or 66% more—full pages of advertising in the Tribune this year than in the same period of last year.

Mandel's choice of the Tribune as its first advertising medium parallels the practice of Chicago retailers as a group who place more advertising in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper.

54% More Families

As Chicago's first newspaper, the Tribune has a concentrated reader interest which has built the volume of coverage that advertisers need to get high sales volume. Because the Tribune prints the news, completely and without compromise, it is the newspaper whose circulation keeps pace with the growth of Chicago and suburbs.

The appeal of Tribune news and features is universal. It knows no bar of race, sex, age, or income of interest to advertisers. It is a dynamic influence in all sections of Chicago and suburbs.

In metropolitan Chicago alone, the Tribune reaches more than 645,000 families. This is 237,000 more—54% more—families than any other Chicago newspaper reaches.

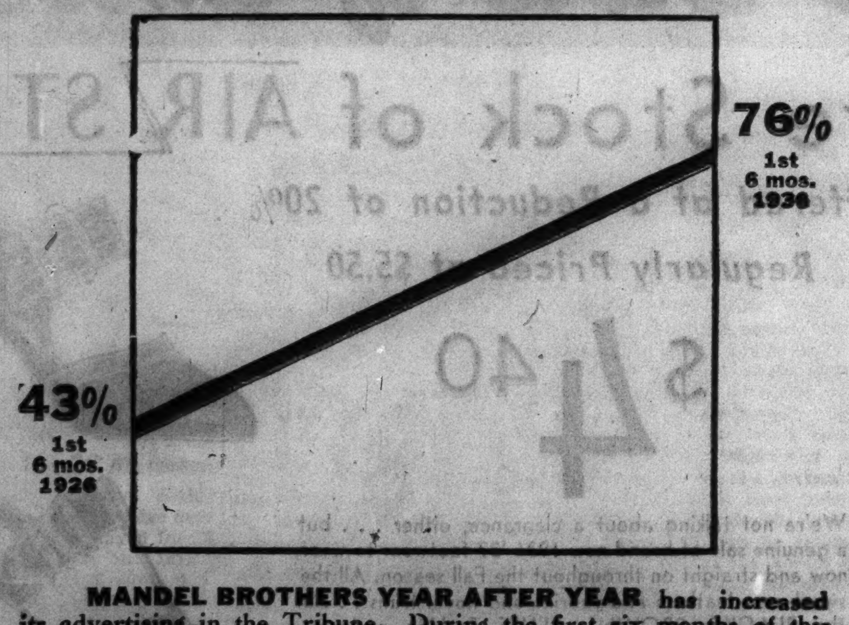
Low Rates Cut Costs!

Because the Tribune gives majority coverage of all metropolitan Chicago buying groups, Tribune advertising pays out better for retailers and for manufacturers and distributors of every kind of product sold at retail.

Tribune rates are among the lowest in the publishing field. Tribune advertising productivity per reader reached is among the highest.

Ask your advertising counsel—or a Tribune representative—to help you plan a program of advertising which can help you set new records in the last half of 1936!

Proportions of MANDEL BROTHERS' newspaper advertising run in the Chicago Tribune



MANDEL BROTHERS YEAR AFTER YEAR has increased its advertising in the Tribune. During the first six months of this year, the Tribune received 76% of all Mandel Brothers' Chicago newspaper advertising. It received 67% in the same period last year.

Where the Tribune led the next Chicago newspaper by 135,304 lines, or 58%, during the first six months of 1926, this margin of leadership has been increased during the first half of this year in which the Tribune led the next newspaper by 416,543 lines, or 481%.

1936 AUTO DEATH TOLL GAINS BY 7 OVER 1935 PERIOD

Increase for 7 Months Is Due to May Record.

Seven more persons were killed in automobile accidents in Cook county during the first seven months of 1936 than in the similar period of 1935, the coroner's office reported yesterday. The death toll this year up to 4 p. m. yesterday was 552. Of this number 426 were killed in Chicago. During the same period 10,183 were injured in automobile accidents within the city limits.

After the accident toll showed a steady decline during February, March, and April, as compared with those months last year, it increased by 34 during the month of May. There were 98 deaths for the month in 1936, and 64 deaths for May, 1935. In June there were six less fatalities than in June, 1935, and in July, up to 4 p. m. yesterday, there were 46 deaths, 24 fewer than in July of last year.

John C. Allen, 46 years old, 831 Wilson avenue, who on Feb. 16, 1935, drove his automobile into a group of pedestrians, killing two men, was sentenced to one to fourteen years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Donald S. McKinlay in the Criminal court. Allen on Wednesday was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury. After sentence was imposed he said he would appeal. He was held last night in the county jail in lieu of $7,500 bond.

Allen, who is a manufacturer of automobile accessories, was arrested at State street and Chicago avenue following a chase by a detective squad led by Sergt. George Shannon, after his car had struck and killed Ray D. Duran, 35 years old, 11 West Erie street, and Charles B. Klafter, 39 years old, 458 North Halsted street, at Dearborn and Erie streets.

Dr. Isador Sarnoff, police physician who examined him, said he had been drinking.

Drop Mrs. Atherton's Case.

A reckless driving charge against Mrs. Elsa Kochs Atherton, 23 years old, 1527 North Dearborn parkway, a wealthy divorcée, was nol prossed before Judge Charles S. Dougherty in the Automobile court yesterday. The state's attorney's office reported that a fainting spell apparently was responsible for the fatal accident in which Mrs. Atherton was involved on July 8 and that she was not criminally negligent.

Police said that Mrs. Atherton's automobile ran past a stop sign at Peterson and Cicero avenues and collided with the car of Henry Herr, a houseman for William P. White, 211 Park avenue, Glencoe. Herr was killed.

In recommending that the case be nol prossed, Assistant State's Attorney Richard Regan said that Mrs. Atherton, who is the daughter of August Kochs, president of the Victor Chemical company, 141 West Jackson boulevard, is subject to vertigo and could not be held responsible for the accident.

Gets 10 Days in Jail.

James M. Buckley, 38 years old, 5719 North Artesian avenue, a salesmanager who was arrested on July 6 for driving erratically in La Salle street, was sentenced to ten days in the county jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated by Judge Edgar Jonas in the Safety court.

John Karpavicz, 50 years old, 2842 North Francisco avenue, father of Alvin Karpis, who Monday was sentenced to life in prison for the kidnaping of William Hamm, St. Paul brewer, was given until Aug. 11 to get state and city licenses for his automobile by Judge Frank M. Padden in the Trafic court. Karpavicz's attorney explained that the car, which belonged to Alvin, bore an Arkansas license. The government gave the car to the father, the attorney said.

Edward Oura, 28 years old, 931 North Francisco avenue, a WPA worker assigned as field clerk for the Chicago park district, was fined $5 for speeding by Judge Padden.

WIFE DIVORCES S. B. WHITE OF HARVESTER CO.

Mrs. Jeanette McAusland White, 105 Delaware place, was granted an uncontested divorce by Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski in the Circuit court yestetrday from S. B. White, secretary of the International Harvester company. She charged cruelty. Mrs. White was granted $175 a month alimony.

The Whites were married on April 22, 1913, in Summit, N. J., and separated last month. Mrs. White testified that her husband struck her on July 11 for failure to keep a dinner appointment, and on July 16 for denting a fender on one of the family automobiles.

By the terms of the decree Mrs. White will receive more than $9,000 insurance upon her former husband's death, and a monthly income from the policies in addition. Each of their four children will also receive monthly incomes from the insurance after Mr. White's death.

EXHIBITION DOGS DENIED RIGHT TO SLIP QUARANTINE

Rabies Tie-Up Too Tight, Say 4 Veterinarians.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, refused yesterday the request of veterinarians to exempt performing and show dogs from the quarantine imposed last Monday which prohibits the transportation of any dogs into and out of the county. The quarantine was ordered on Monday to check the rabies menace and on Thursday was extended to Du Page county by Dr. H. C. Rinehart, state veterinarian.

Recite Owners' Precautions.

The four asserted that the rabies scare has been exaggerated. They declared that all thoroughbred dogs, including performing and show canines, are inoculated against rabies and would not spread hydrophobia if allowed to leave the county.

"The quarantine is almost impossible of enforcement," Dr. Jaffray said. "If it continues it means monetary losses to boarding kennels, breeders, and dog show exhibitors.

"The crux of the situation is in the stray dog problem. If city and county officials had not been lax in picking up strays this condition of rabies would not now exist."

In turning down the request for an exemption of show and performing dogs from the quarantine, Dr. Bundesen said he could not take a discriminatory attitude.

Considers Shooting on Sight.

Dr. Bundesen said there have been more than a hundred dog bites a day reported in recent weeks and unless the total is lowered in 48 hours he will direct the police to shoot on sight all dogs at large and unleashed. At the city pound yesterday 116 dogs were killed with gas.

The veterinarians observed that if the quarantine continues indefinitly the performing dogs in the circus in Soldiers' field will be unable to leave when the show moves on. Moreover, the dog shows scheduled for Aug. 22 and 23 at Springfield and Aug. 30 at Northbrook may have to be canceled.

5TH CORPS AREA WAR MANEUVERS TO OPEN TODAY

Knox, Ky., July 31.—[Special.]—The war maneuvers of the Fifth corps area, which will bring together more than 20,000 troops in the vicinity of Fort Knox, will begin here tomorrow. The operations precede by one week the opening of maneuvers by the Sixth corps near Allegan, Mich. The two which comprise the second army, will stage the biggest war games held in the middle west since the world war.

National Guard and regular army troops from Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky will carry out the maneuvers at Fort Knox, while the units from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin will concentrate in Michigan. Each corps will operate for two weeks.

Aircraft, mechanized and horse cavalry, artillery, and infantry units will participate. Maj. Gen. C. E. Kilbourne, commander of the second army with headquarters in Chicago, will direct the maneuvers.

NEW EVIDENCE IN WENDEL CASE GOING TO JURY

Newark, N. J., July 31.—(AP)—New disclosures set forth in an hitherto secret statement by Paul H. Wendel spurred the federal grand jury today to prolong its investigation of the alleged kidnaping and torture of the former Trenton lawyer.

Even as Gov. Harold G. Hoffman at Trenton was fixing next Thursday for a public hearing on the extradition of two men already indicted in Brooklyn for Wendel's kidnaping, the grand jury here, it was reliably reported, had before it the details of an allegedly "suppressed" Wendel account of the bizarre case which gave Bruno Richard Hauptmann three more days of life.

United States Attorney John J. Quinn, who is interrogating witnesses for the jury, said he was convinced the inquiry would take more than the three weeks originally anticipated. He refused to make any comment on the secret statement.

THREE 'L' RIDES FOR 25 CENTS TO START MONDAY

The elevated lines will start on Monday the new fare rate of three tickets for 25 cents within the city and westward to Desplaines avenue in Forest Park, which now is the limit of the area in which one may ride for 10 cents. Early last month, the Chicago Rapid Transit company announced plans for the special rate. Its announcement yesterday said single fares would remain 10 cents and that passengers who wish to transfer to the surface lines or the motor coach lines must continue to pay the full 10 cents. Suburban rates will not be changed. The 8 1-3 cent fare is the lowest offered by the elevated since its discontinuance of a similar rate in 1928.

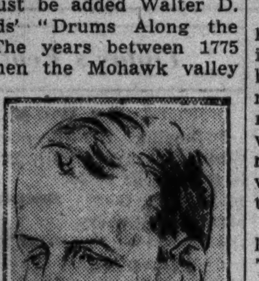
Story of War Along Mohawk Grips Reader

Reviewer Holds It an Excellent Book.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Drums Along the Mohawk," by Walter D. Edmonds [Little Brown, $2.50]. August choice of the Book of the Month club. Published yesterday.

To the shelf of excellent novels revivifying the past of our nation must be added Walter D. Edmonds' "Drums Along the Mohawk." The years between 1775 and 1783 when the Mohawk valley was fought over, literally and figuratively, with the fierceness and the vividness which only hand to hand conflict seems to generate are recorded by a young man who has taken the trouble to live them over day by day—so far as documentary evidence has made that possible—before he set pen to paper to describe them.



WALTER D. EDMONDS.
[From a drawing by Georges Schreiber.]

Walter Edmonds, who may be said to have discovered the Erie canal, so far as its literary possibilities are concerned, found himself fascinated by the material he found about the settlements along the Mohawk which were, if not wholly forgotten by congress, at least unprotected by it, a congress so busy with its new independence that it forgot to stop the British from making war on the valleyites. Mr. Edmonds gathered so much dramatic material that he needed to invent nothing to make a memorable tale. He had hundreds of characters ready made for him . . . and he used the best known of the valley folk, Gen. Herkimer, Capt. Demooth, Benedict Arnold, among many.

For a panorama of the whole valley he invented only twelve characters.

Not the least of the horrors of the book are the records of the savagery of the Indians. There is nothing poor about Lo, the well known Indian, in Walter Edmonds' pages. He is savagery incarnate . . . set on by the British, but well schooled in horror making without any outside help. It has been a long time since Indians have appeared in literature as they looked to pioneers who knew them only to fear and distrust them.

"Beowulf" a Book for Every Reader Who's Interested in Dogs

"Beowulf," by Ernest Lewis [Dutton, $2], is destined for every reader who is interested in dogs . . . mind, I didn't say "loves dogs," because there are many readers who have little sentiment about dogs who would find it interesting.

It is the story of an Alsatian, trained as a police dog, whose master was shot by a smuggler on the German frontier. The dog was taken to England, where he was left by his master when it was discovered he was a sheep killer.

The vicar of a little Cumberland church hunts him to kill him, but saves his life and finally trains him to hunt deer. When on a hunt the young vicar has a terrible fall, loses his eyesight from shock and eventually Beowulf is trained as a Seeing Eye for him.

Mr. Lewis has given his dog hero a little more than canine intelligence at times, and he—Mr. Lewis—is no great writer of the English language, so that "Beowulf" stops far short of being a great dog book. F. B.

Sheer Nonsense, but Fun and Joy with Wodehouse

Nonsense of the sheerest sort is in the twelve short stories which Mr. Wodehouse offers his always devoted public in "Young Men in Spats" [Doubleday-Doran, $2]. His public may be always devoted, because Mr. Wodehouse never fools 'em—he never changes the sleight of hand trick; merely the egg or the rabbit or the playing card or the rubber tacks that he performs it with.

His stories are always after the same formula, dumb boy meets girl, boy acts plenty dumb, boy proves to be not so dumb after all, girl realizes not only his sterling but his glitteringly brilliant qualities. All is well.

The three favorite sets of Wodehouse characters are all to be found in "Young Men in Spats"—the members of the Drones club, those young men who do neither toiling nor spinning, but are arrayed, mentally as well as sartorially, like tailor's dummies; the members of Mr. Mulliner's wide nephewship and friendship, and the golf players.

The golf stories seemed to me a little funnier than some of the others. The first of the Drones' story is pretty funny, though, too. It explains the sudden return to his old haunts of Freddie Widgeon, who fell into the hands of a lady in New York who wanted her window open. The second, "The Amazing Hat Mystery," is the poorest tale P. G. Wodehouse ever wrote.

There is a moral tale about how a young man tamed a shrew and turned her into a good golf player. Good, clean fun, all of the twelve. F. B.

Julian Huxley Finds Diary Kept by His Famed Grandfather

Julian Huxley, distinguished grandson of England's great biologist, Thomas Henry Huxley, recently discovered a diary kept by his famous grandfather when a young man, which has enabled the publication of one of the most unusual and entertaining books of the season. "T. H. Huxley's Diary of the Voyage of H. M. S. Rattlesnake" [Doubleday-Doran, $3] is a fascinating account of four surveying cruises along the Great Barrier reef of Australia to New Guinea and nearby islands.

The diary, plainly not kept with any idea of its ever being published, tells an enthralling story of a bygone day which should be of interest to both scientists and laymen.

Letters of Anne Sedgwick Will Paint Portrait

BY FRANK SWINNERTON.

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—Two interesting books are announced by Constable for early publication, the first, "Anne Douglas Sedgwick: a Portrait in Letters," chosen and edited by Basil de Selincourt; and the second a new mystery novel by Henry Wade, entitled "Bury Him Darkly."

Anne Douglas Sedgwick, who married Mr. De Selincourt nearly 30 years ago, spent the first nine years of her life in America; but she was afterwards hardly ever out of England or France, and her work was cosmopolitan in its appeal. It was also, without preciousness, highly fastidious in the Henry James manner, often very beautiful and always interesting. I am not familiar with her letters; but I know Mr. De Selincourt's work, and I am sure this book will be a very delicate and charming performance.

"Bury Him Darkly" will be wholly unlike it; for Mr. Wade is decidedly a teller of tales, plain, engrossing, and, until the mystery is in due course unveiled, apt to baffle the most knowing of mystery readers. Mr. Wade is not Mr. Wade at all, but Major Henry Aubrey-Fletcher, D. S. O. Under his name he has written "A History of the Foot Guards to 1856," and until 1920 he was a grenadier guardsman. It was as a professional soldier, taking endless route marches in the course of which he needed something to occupy his attention, that he began to invent stories.

It is now possible to ride nearly all over England by omnibus, and Mr. Douglas Goldring has turned to account this excellent method of seeing our country. He has written a book about his travels, called "Pot Luck in England," [Chapman & Hall]; but those who know Mr. Goldring's other books will realize that they may expect more than a mere record of stops and journeys.

Francis Brett Young, who has been traveling through South Africa in a Ford van to gather new material for a novel with a South African setting, has just reached home again after a journey of 5,000 miles. Always busy, Mr. Brett Young carried with him the proofs of "Far Forest"* [Heinemann], which he corrected en route and has brought home with him for the printer.

Oppenheim's 100th Full Length Novel Out Ere He's 70

In October E. Phillips Oppenheim, the demon mystery writer, will celebrate his seventieth birthday. On July 17 he celebrated the publication of "The Magnificent Hoax," [Little-Brown, $2], his 100th full length novel and the fiftieth year since he started writing for publication. His first novel was "tops" in murders. It was called "Expiation," and, boy, did they expiate? By the time he was half way through the book he had killed off all the characters and he had to invent a whole new set to finish with.

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM.

And if you think it takes a mathematical mind to concoct mysteries Mr. Oppenheim now confesses that he left school because he couldn't pass "even the most simple mathematical examination."

It does take mathematical acumen to figure out the wordage in Mr. Oppenheim's 137 published volumes [including short stories]. Alexandre Dumas, who was sometimes called not a man but a syndicate, wrote only 5,900,000 words.

In those 137 volumes there are a round 10,050,000 words to Mr. Oppenheim's credit. Divide that by the worthy fifty years of composition and he seems to have published something like 200,000 words a year in book form. And these words have given unfailing enjoyment and entertainment to his readers.

'Odyssey of Islands' Held the Best Book of Travel This Year

The best travel-adventure book so far this season is "An Odyssey of the Islands," by Carl N. Taylor [Scribners, $3], a fast moving, well written, and extremely entertaining account of daring exploration in little known corners of the Philippines.

With all the ingredients of a successful travel volume, except a map, which is badly needed, for even the latest atlases fail to show where the author went, "An Odyssey of the Islands" makes thrilling reading.

He visits the Bajao sea gypsies [whose medicine men cure him of a severe illness, after fantastic rites], climbs Mount Mayon [the first white man to accomplish this], and fearlessly mingles with hostile tribes in parts of the islands carefully left alone by both officials and seasoned travelers.

But his contacts with head hunters, pygmies, pirates, smugglers, and other Philippine sea and jungle gangsters gave him material for a rattling good travel book—one of the best of its kind. Just after he had finished reading proofs on this book last February, Carl Taylor was murdered in a lonely cabin in New Mexico as he was at work on an investigation of the rites of the Penitentes. A. Some Murder Yarns to Give You Occupation

BY MORTIMER QUICK.

If it's a murder story with no great insistence upon the perfect record of the perfect crime you're looking for, here is a short catalog which may keep you going with a reasonable degree of satisfaction.

The Scornful Corpse [Dodd, Mead, $2] is that of an attractive young woman whose dead body Milward Kennedy makes the center of a mystery which may be political, may be a crime passionel. The police say it's suicide but the man who has his life thrown into turmoil by finding the dead woman in his London flat arrives at a more definite conclusion and takes matters into his own hands, thereby introducing a slightly different angle in mystery novels.

The Crowing Hen [Crime Club, $2], by Reginald Davis, is an account of strange events emanating from an ancient English priory. It is all very queer and supernatural and has to do a good deal of rationalizing before the criminal and the crimes are explained. It has a certain freshness of plot and presentation.

There Was a Crooked Man [Morrow, $2], by George Worthington Yates, is a complicated tale of a huge New York building project. A dead man is found on a terrace above the streets and other dead men follow. The man who solves the mystery is an ancient English lord with a trenchant manner and an oblique mind. There is "love interest" and various cases of the jitters, but it moves along to a not too foregone conclusion.

No less a person than S. S. Van Dine gives cautiously qualified approval to Death Stops the Manuscript [Scribner's, $2], by Richard M. Baker. If you are not put off by the awkward presentation of the first few chapters you may agree with him that the author plays fair, that the story is psychologically sound, that the plot is well concocted, but the death with attendant incidents of an elderly professor has nothing very special to offer in the way of excitement or mystification.

Out of Order [Norton, $2], by Phoebe Atwood Taylor, is a new Asey Mayo story with all the hallmarks. Possibly the acute murder situation on Cape Cod was beginning to affect the summer resort business. Anyway Asey is here pursuing his calling farther afield in the environs of Boston. The story teems with odd individuals and irrelevant chatter and Asey is the same whimsical old codger who always gets his man—or men. It is confusingly readable and comes to a surprising conclusion.

There's Money in Writing Books, but Only for a Few

Many ask whether there is really any money in the business of writing books. The answer is no for most writers and emphatically yes for the popular few. Rudyard Kipling, for instance, is said to have left an estate of more than 3 million dollars, but it is also said that it was the largest fortune ever amassed by an author.

BRIDGIE WEBER, EX-GANGSTER IN MANHATTAN, DIES

Key Witness in Famed Rosenthal Murder Case.

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—Bridgie Weber, 57, who helped send Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and four gunmen to the electric chair for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, is dead.

He died in a hospital bed at Passaic, N. J., from the effects of appendicitis, for which he was operated upon a week ago.

For his passing, a whimsical destiny selected the twenty-first anniversary of the Rosenthal case's climax—the Becker electrocution. Becker was put to death in Sing Sing on July 30, 1915.

In Passaic Weber was known as vice president and secretary of the Garfield Paper Box company.

When Lieut. Becker first determined to have Rosenthal "rubbed out" he selected Weber as the trigger man, according to testimony.

But Weber wasn't enthusiastic, and the responsibility eventually went to four gangsters who preceded Becker to the Sing Sing chair—Dago Frank Cirofici, Whitey Lewis, Harry [Gyp the Blood] Horowitz, and Lefty Louis Rosenberg.

Weber gave Becker $1,000 to help pay for the execution, he said. He admitted having been the "finger man" of the plot.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

It's hard to get our friends and our family to put as much value upon our opinion as upon that of an outsider. You know how it is: A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country.

So it isn't easy to speak with authority to one's intimates. It sounds much more impressive if the same thing is said by another person, or appears in print. And even then, it's difficult to get people to change their viewpoint.

And when it concerns child management, people tenaciously cling to their own ideas and their own ways. When a mother differs from a father, or from her relatives or his, "newfangled nonsense," or a display of hurt feelings usually result from her efforts to raise her child in what she knows to be the best way.

Consequently, being a bit pessimistic on this particular subject, I always am surprised when a mother, who once wrote that her in-laws or her own family were spoiling her child, reports that they at last have seen the light. Sometimes she's been able to discuss the subject with them, but most often she has gotten results by asking them to read some literature on the problem. The printed page is, after all, more potent than the spoken word of some one who is "just family." Here is an instance of what I mean:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: Thank you so much for your kind letter of recent date, and for the pamphlet you sent me. I surely am glad to know that you think I am properly disciplining my child. Your letter came at a time when I was feeling 'low,' and it helped a lot.

"The article on the 5 year olds was especially interesting to me, as I have tried to tell my family that Cynthia should have more freedom and more independence than she has been having. I don't want her to be dependent on adults for every little thing. I had each of them read it, and I believe that they now can see my point of view a little better."

The child in a family of many grown-ups needs a dose of "Wholesome Neglect." A leaflet on this subject will be sent out on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

This simple design is easy to piece and has interesting color possibilities. It may be of solid colors, in combination with print material, or of all print material. Regardless of how it is made the block has everything it takes to make an attractive quilt. "Squares Within Squares" is certain to be popular with the quilting novices. From the scrap bag an intriguing color arrangement may be compounded.

Races, Parties, Concerts for Gay Week-end

Stay at Homes Will Have Happy Time.

BY JUDITH CASS.

SOCIAL circles will have a last gay week-end before activity subsides for the dull days of August and hay fever time. But August is being ushered in by a week-end packed with entertainment, both public and private. Many of the lucky ones who would by now be on their way to distant resorts have postponed their departures to stay for the fun.

The Arlington race track is closing its season with two featured races that will draw huge crowds: The Futurity, worth about $53,000, and the Arlington handicap. The racing season will continue on Monday at the Washington Park track.

Music lovers will take advantage of a full moon tonight to attend the next to the last concert at Ravania Park. The Onwentsia club is giving one of the gayest parties of the season, a dinner-dance to which the committee has brought the cosmopolitan atmosphere of Venice's famous Lido. This large party tonight and a dozen informal parties today and tomorrow for several guests in Lake Forest will assure a gay week-end for the suburb.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson Armour III. have been telephoning their friends to drop in late this afternoon "to see the house," which means that many of the younger racing fans will go to Lake Forest after the 6th or 7th race at Arlington. The party will be an informal housewarming for the new residence of the former Jean Schweppe and Mr. Armour.

Casselberry and Bride Visiting His Mother.

Mrs. William E. Casselberry is going to be at home informally tomorrow afternoon for her son, William E. Casselberry Jr., and his bride of a few weeks, who arrived yesterday by plane from a honeymoon in Mexico to spend a few days in Lake Forest. Mrs. Casselberry's sister and brother-in-law, the Stuart Templetons, will give a little party for the newlyweds if there is time to gather a few friends together after the Templetons find out what plans Mr. Casselberry and his bride have made.

The Alden Swifts will be entertaining for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Warwick Gregory, whom they met on a trip to Australia last winter. The Gregorys, who have been in England, are completing a round the world trip back to Australia. They will spend today and tomorrow in Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Swift are giving a dinner tonight for them, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift have invited the travelers to luncheon tomorrow.

Another visitor is young William Fenwick Keyser, who has come from Baltimore to stay with Nelson L. Barnes Jr., a former classmate at Yale. Mr. Barnes and Mr. Keyser will spend Saturday night with the junior Orville Elias Babcocks in their Lake Forest home, and the young people may go on to the Onwentsia party.

Henry J. Patten Will Give Farewell Party.

Henry J. Patten is giving a luncheon party today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leslie Wheeler, in Lake Forest. The party will be a farewell one for the host, who is leaving in two weeks for Churchill, Canada, where he will embark on a Hudson Bay Fur company boat for a six weeks' trip up to arctic islands. Even if the boat's passenger list is filled there will be only five other passengers.

Mrs. Wheeler is leaving tomorrow for the east to visit the Charles Cushings at Islesboro, Me., and other friends along the Atlantic coast. Mr. Wheeler, Leslie Jr., William H. Mitchell, and young Bill Mitchell left yesterday for Cape Cod to spend a month cruising on a fishing schooner.

Mrs. Mitchell hopes to go away for a week in the middle of August when she will visit her parents, the Charles Garfield Kings, at Southampton, N. Y.

There will be numerous luncheons at the Post and Paddock today for the close of the season. The Warren Wrights will be there to watch his horses run both in the Futurity and the handicap. Joseph E. Widener, Hal Price Headley, and Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Oak Park also have entries in both races, and Mrs. John D. Hertz and Frederick M. Alger Jr. of Detroit have horses in the handicap.

The Benjamin L. Behrs, the Donald R. McLennans, Neil Hurley, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watts will be among those giving luncheons. Others entertaining include the Gustavus F. Swifts, the John E. Wheelers, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Dawes and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Watermulder [Helen Dawes], Mrs. Oliver Picher, the Thomas E. Wilsons, the Robert J. Thornes, the Silas H. Strawns, Armin Brand, Robert F. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hughes,

Sings Tomorrow

Marjorie Livingston, operatic and concert soprano, who will appear as soloist with Cavallo's Symphonic band tomorrow evening in Grant park. Miss Livingston will follow Micaela's air from "Carmen" with the "Carmena" waltz of Wilson.

Mme. Malinoff Wins Throng at Park Concert

Basha Malinoff, a Chicago soprano who has built a considerable reputation for herself on the west coast, appeared as soloist in Grant park last night with Thaviu's band.

Her performance of "Ritorna Vincitor," from "Aïda," impressed the audience so favorably that she was compelled to add "My Hero," the beloved waltz song of "The Chocolate Soldier" as an encore. Mme. Malinoff sings with a dramatic fervor born of her operatic experience, but handles her voice so skilfully that its quality is not marred by over-emphasis.

A little later, Henry Thompson was presented as tenor soloist. He chose the "Morte di Otello," a brave gesture in a city which remembers Charles Marshall's Otello so well, and succeeding in giving a good account of the vocally and histrionically taxing excerpt. Mr. Thompson tossed the tragic masque gaily aside to step into the character of the devil-may-care Duke of Mantua and sing his beguiling "La donna è mobile."

The plasticity of the Thaviu band was convincingly demonstrated more than once last evening. There was an easy rubato in the Waldteufel "Ever or Never" waltz, something that one neither expects nor demands of any but a fine band. And the two traditional changes of tempo in the introduction to "La donna è mobile" were handled in as neat a manner as any orchestra could manage.—E. B.

George Raft Surprised When Virginia Pine Denies Wedding Plans

Hollywood, Cal., July 31.—[Special.]—No one was more surprised than George Raft himself over Virginia Pine's apparent change of attitude regarding marriage.

"That's the first I've heard of it," he said.

"If she feels that way I am sorry about it. I have the greatest respect and admiration for her and she is a most wonderful person. I can't imagine what's wrong.

"It was a blow to me as we had looked forward to the time when I would be free to marry her."

New York, July 31.—(AP)—Virginia Pine, motion picture actress, said today she "hadn't heard anything about" reports that she would marry actor George Raft "if and when he secures a divorce." The marriage might have been possible a year ago, Miss Pine said on her return from England, but now—"I've planned other things." Miss Pine said she intended to get her four year old daughter, Joan Lehmann, and return to England for more picture work.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

And now Bret Harte's heroine of other days has stepped off the shelf and gone into the movies!

So-called "sophisticates" may greet her with a shrug, for her story is a simple one and cleanly and its heart tugs not of a nature to titillate jaded film appetites. But the piece will draw an audience—and a big one—because the story has been beautifully screened under sympathetic and most skilful direction and the acting is sincere and able. Personally I liked "M'liss" a lot.

The locale is a small California town, typical of the many that sprang up like mushrooms with the discovery of gold in the west. M'liss is the motherless daughter of a lovable drunkard father who has seen better days. She's a sensitive young wildcat of a girl, affectionate, untutored, and desperately unhappy.

As the story opens she is fighting to prevent the town authorities from evicting her and her father from her home, which has been taken over for the mortgage, and is to be fixed up as the abiding place of the new schoolmaster—expected to arrive that day.

M'liss, of course, loses out, and she and Dad Smith go to live in an old shack on the latter's petered out mining claim. . .

Returning stealthily to get a forgotten treasure, M'liss encounters Stephen Thorne, the school teacher, an earnest young man, and born ally of the under dog. This meeting is the start of a romance, interrupted by gossip and shadowed by tragedy—but not without its moments of humor.

M'liss struggles with her schooling, her encounters with the town's "best people," her adventures as barmaid—a position Stephen Thorne rescues her from—and her gradual metamorphosis from a stormy petrel into a downy dove, are interestingly delineated.

Ann Shirley "got" her heroine and makes M'liss a very real person, I thought. John ["Little Minister"] Beal, is a pleasant Thorne. Guy Kibbee does a lot with the rôle of Washoe Smith, and I know you're going to like the rest of the cast.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

There's an oil free antiseptic on the market, sun worshippers, that you should know about. It's simply grand for relieving and preventing sunburn. What's more, it isn't the least bit messy, which will be good news to every man and woman who likes to take sun but loathes greasy preparations which attract every grain of sand and every maddening ant to the sun bather's flesh.

We know you've never thought of an antiseptic solution as something to tuck in your beach bag—but this is a carefully tested product, distributed throughout the world, that has worked like a charm. It's widely used in European hospitals and by sports enthusiasts in those countries where there is danger of burns from sun on snow.

It has a nice clean smell and it's absorbed almost instantly. It doesn't sting; you're not conscious of it on your skin—and you can use it on the face. As a sunburn preventive it should be applied before exposure, and always after emerging from the water. If the skin is sensitive—if you know you're a burner—apply it liberally during exposure. You'll tan evenly and you won't know what a blister feels or looks like! There's no danger of frying, since the lotion contains no grease.

For relieving sun burn, if you've been so unfortunate or absent minded as to acquire one, use this as soon as possible and repeat the applications every couple of hours. It relieves the pain and promotes healing in a magic fashion.

It's not expensive, by the way.

Explorers Returning.

Scores of Pleas Each Day Tax Fund.

"We are trying to keep away from relief by earning a dollar here and there," an anxious mother wrote to the Tribune Free Ice fund yesterday.

"But," she added, "I just can't make it stretch enough for ice. I would be so glad if I could have ice when it is hot. I let the water run on the food, but the water is almost hot, so it sours. Would it be possible for you to help us?"

This letter is only one of the scores of pleas that come in daily. A daughter writes asking ice for her tubercular mother. A grandmother asks it for the milk of her two tiny grandchildren. A husband asks it for his sick wife. And, over and over again, mothers ask it for their newborn babies.

"There are six children and the new baby, 5 days old," writes one. "I have seven small children from 10 months to 14 years," writes another. "My baby is sickly, and I would like to keep her milk fresh," writes a third.

For the last twenty-two years TRIBUNE readers have helped countless Chicago babies by contributing to the Free Ice fund. With demands higher than usual this summer, the fund now is running low. Contributions of any size are welcomed, for as little as $1 will keep one baby's milk fresh for a week.

SYNOPSIS.

Shortly after the world war Roger Mallard, handsome young Englishman, is embittered by the loss of hearing in one ear from a war injury. Mal's parents died when he was a youngster. He has been raised by his godfather, William Grimwold, an actor. Grimmy persuades Mal to attend Maude Copley's New Year's eve party, where he meets lovely young Pamella Wyeth, though he forgets her on meeting Zelda Manners, an actress, whose only ambitions are mercenary. A month later Mal marries Zelda. She believes he will become a great actor. Two years go by and Mal has failed to make a living on the stage.

INSTALMENT VI.

A TRAGEDY QUEEN.

"Well—what's wrong now?"

If ever he heard anything, he heard his own voice saying: "I've been sacked."

That brought her whirling about on the rickety bench.

"Why?"

"I missed my first entrance cue."

"That's nothing. It's apt to happen to anybody."

"It's happened to me about ten times—by more than several minutes—so the manager pointed out. He thought I was drunk."

"This puts me in a fine position! Wearing myself out to get you this part. Leaving my own chances in London so you ——"

"Zelda, I told you I couldn't do it ——"

"Did they pay you off?"

"Five pounds."

"And that's all we have?"

He nodded.

"And me—what about me? I came down to this hole so you could have this chance. . . . All these hideous weeks for nothing, and no hope of ——"

"I'm sorry," Mal broke in with desperation, "but my brief spurt of theatrical ambition ended shortly after our marriage."

She stood up like a tragedy queen at this point and put on one of her best acts. She gave a minute résumé of everything that had happened the last two years. It could be summed up into her main accusation—he had cheated her. He was made to understand that her marriage had been merely a reckless gamble on his talent and looks and voice which eventually, if properly handled on his part, should have brought in a fortune. Never would she have consented, otherwise, to have given up her own career for his. "And see where you've landed me!" she cried with a gesture which swept him and the room together as a background and cause of her misery. "I wish to God I had never laid eyes on you!"

He gave her a concurring bow.

And then with Zelda's voice lashing at him—could he ever have thought it sounded like a bell?—he made one last attempt at self-control. He came over to her and held out his hand with a sort of pleading. Although she shrank away theatrically as if she expected him to strike her, he stood his ground and said his say with dogged emphasis.

"Zelda, I can't stick it. I've tried. It's beyond me—now. Let's clear out. I want to go to southern California—work on a ranch. I can arrest this trouble there, they tell me. Grimmy will loan me the money though he can ill spare it. We can be quiet—still out there. Come, let us go and start all over."

"Ranch! Quiet! Still—indeed. Start over! I'm through, I tell you. I'll not work myself to tatters to support a man like you."

He stood stock still, looking at her with level eyes. Something in his towering stillness seemed to give the last goad to her rage.

"Get out!" she screamed at him. "I never want to see you again!"

God—but he was glad to hear this! Dragging a battered Gladstone bag from beneath the bed, he stuffed it, in about two minutes, with his few belongings.

She let him get as far as the door without a word. Then: "Stop!"

He turned back.

He took out an empty wallet, strode across the room and flung it in her lap.

She snatched it up.

"What have you done with the money?"

"Paid our landlady, and other of your debts."

"Fool!" And she let drive at him with a heavy silver hand mirror.

It caught him on the only decent mastoid bone left him by the war, and he and the mirror both came smashing down. It amused him grimly, afterward, that Zelda was more concerned over her shattered mirror and its implications of continued ill luck than over her stunned husband.

When Mal emerged hazily into his first lucid moment since the fever had flared up in him even as he was stretched upon the floor, he found Grimwold beside his bed.

The Gladstone bag, repacked, was gone. Summoned from London by Zelda's wire, Grimwold, who financed everybody to his own undoing, had cordially financed Zelda's departure. He had received in exchange her emphatic and gratuitous promise never to come back.

"Confound the woman!" Grimwold was growling to the doctor. "Blubbering over that goddam mirror. . . . What was she thinking of to let him out on such a night without his great coat? Probably he'd pawned it so she could keep hers."

"Everything's quite all right now, lad."

Grimwold's intense alarm made him outrageously curt with the doctor. "If you're correct in your opinion that the blow did no serious injury to his head—which I don't believe for an instant—why does he keep running such a high temperature and rave in delirium like this?"

The doctor, looking grave, told him why. He said he was afraid that the influenza fever, because of the patient's extreme rundown condition and exposure to the storm, was going into mastoiditis.

"What will that do to him?" Grimwold snapped.

"If he lives—well, he'll be lucky to come out of it with a ruined ear."

"But, my God, man, that's his good one!"

"Rotten luck!" he said brusquely. "I'll help you and the boy all I can, Grimwold. We'll get Mackenzie—he's the best. If he can bring the boy out of it—and I might as well tell you that it will be touch-and-go—I know of a lip reading expert in London who gets extraordinary results. It ought to be easy for a man like Mallard—already well drilled by his profession."

On a night, which Grimwold had decided to make the last of nine months of similar nights, he sat waiting for Mal in the one room they now both occupied at Mrs. Tibbs'. A mild September moon shone blandly down upon the great city. It was after midnight and Mal had not yet come in.

Presently Grimwold heard his uncertain step approaching down the hall. The door opened and Mal put out his hands against the jambs to steady his entrance into the room. His tortured dark eyes were on fire in his haggard face. He reeked of a pub.

Dyeing Hair Serious Step; Work Must Be Done by Expert

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A woman 43 years old, desperately in need of a job, asks advice about having her hair dyed. She doesn't want to do it. But at every employment agency she is conscious of the fact that her streaked gray hair stands between her and success.

In such a case I say, by all means dye it, if the correspondent has the means to have it done expertly and to keep it up smartly. This business of dyeing hair is serious. One dip in the dye pot means nothing. But if a person feels keenly that her hair as it is stands between her and a job, who is to argue her out of it? There's no minimizing the fact that gray hair often does disqualify a job seeker.

But "look at so-and-so," one will say, referring to the unusual one who lands a place in spite of her silvered locks. Looking at so-and-so, you'll see a very, very smartly groomed woman, probably an unusually well dressed one. If the question were put to me whether to dye the hair or whether to keep the gray lock and dress beautifully and be beautifully groomed I'd give unqualified approval to the last named.

But a woman out of a job and needing one badly probably has been out of work so long she has neither the resources for clothes nor the necessary hair grooming expenses. The dyeing might inspire her with a new spirit and consequently a new approach in her job-seeking.

and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McCulloch.

Most of the guests at the Onwentsia club will come in informal costumes, and doubtless many varieties of pajama outfits will be seen on the dance floor, for pajamas are a popular dress at the Italian resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Williams will be greeting Lake Forest friends at the Onwentsia, for the Williamses have come from New York to spend a fortnight here as guests of his brother, Lawrence Williams. Mrs. Lawrence Williams is away this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wiman of Moline will be in Lake Forest for the week-end as guests of the T. Clifford Rodmans. The De Witt Sages, who are staying with the Curtis Munsons, and the Charleton MacVeaghs, who moved to Lake Forest a few days ago, will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Connors, who are entertaining for out of town people in Lake Forest. Mr. Connors, chairman of the entertainment committee, and his wife have invited their guests for cocktails at their home before going over to the club for dinner and dancing.

A diving and swimming exhibition will be presented at 11 o'clock.

Durand Smith is giving a luncheon at the Onwentsia today for Werner Janssen, guest conductor at Ravinia. The John Alden Carpenters are making a flying trip home from their summer place in Massachussetts, arriving tomorrow morning with plans to hear their friend, Mr. Janssen, conduct tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Robert S. Pirie, who went east to see her mother, Mrs. Carpenter, is accompanying the Carpenters back to Chicago.

Ryerson-Ducey Nuptials Today.

Joseph T. Ryerson Jr., son of the Joseph T. Ryersons of Chicago, and Miss Maria Barroll Ducey, daughter of Mrs. John F. Ducey of Boston, will be married at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Northeast Harbor, Me.

The bride, who is petite and blonde, will wear her great-grandmother's wedding gown of cream faille with a small bustle and train, the train lined with yards of plaited cream tulle. She will carry a simple bouquet of lilies of the valley, and her veil will be of tulle. The bride's small cousin, Alston Barroll, will wear a Kate Greenaway dress in deep cream piqué with a blue sash and a Juliet cap of blue velvet for her rôle of flower girl. She will carry a basket of cream pansies and forget-me-nots.

Miss Mary Ryerson, the bridegroom's sister, who is among the bridesmaids, will wear aquamarine taffeta with a leghorn hat and will carry African daisies. The maid of honor, Miss Priscilla Pierce, will wear old rose taffeta, a leghorn hat, and will carry cream stock.

The service will take place at St. Mary's by the Sea, and a reception will follow at Mrs. Ducey's summer home. Gustav Schwab Jr. of New York will be best man. John F. Ducey Jr. will give his sister in marriage. After a wedding trip to California Mr. Ryerson will bring his bride to Chicago to make their home.

Among the Chicagoans who will be present are the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney; his greataunt, Mrs. George S. Payson; his uncles and aunts, the Henry B. Stimsons, the junior Edward L. Ryersons, and the Donald Frosts; his cousin, Miss Nancy Ryerson, and the A. deWolf Erskines, and the Philip L. Reeds, who are living in the east now.

Helen Barkhausen to Be Bride Today.

Another wedding of interest to Chicagoans that is taking place out of town today is that of Miss Helen Barkhausen to Andre James Perry in Harbor Point, Mich. The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in the Barkhausen cottage and a reception will follow. Miss Kate Barkhausen will be her sister's only attendant, and Carroll Quinn of Boston will be best man.

Mr. Perry, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Perry of Fond du Lac, Wis., will take his bride to the Canadian Rockies on their wedding trip, and they will make their home in Fond du Lac.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schulz, the former Mary Dawes, are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, a daughter, on Thursday at the Evanston hospital. The baby will be named Helen for her grandmother, Mrs. Henry M. Dawes.

This is the second grandchild to arrive in the Dawes' family within the space of a little more than a month. Mr. and Mrs. Dawes are going east to see their first grandchild, little Sue Dawes, who was born in June, as soon as the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dawes, return to their home in Rochester from a vacation trip.

BY MARY MEADE.

John and Jean, two children, were playing in the woods one day when what should they see but a funny little elf man stumbling along with a big apple in a knapsack which he had flung over his shoulder. He was so small and the apple was so big that he really was having a hard time.

"Let us carry your load," the children said to the elf. Of course it was no trouble at all for them to carry the apple! They could have carried six apiece easily!

But the little man was very grateful to be relieved of his load, and he readily passed over the apple. "Come on into the woods," he said, "and I will show you what I'm going to do with this apple."

John and Jean were delighted, of course, and ran along into the woods with the tiny man. And that's how they learned to make this salad which is our young cooks' recipe for today. We'll call it "Salad for an Elf."

In a clearing near a hollow stump five other little elf men had gathered, and each one had brought an apple from the faraway apple orchard. They immediately put on little white aprons and little white caps, and set to work. And the children, watching them, took down these notes:

1. Cut six tart apples in half and core them. [The elves had difficulty doing this, as they were so small!]
2. Cook the halves in sirup made by mixing one cup of water and one cup of sugar. Bring the sirup to a boil before adding the apples. Put a few drops of red food coloring into the sirup to make the apples red. [The elves had to climb a ladder to put things in the pan!]
3. Take the apples from the sirup and cool them.
4. Chop dates, nuts, and celery to make one-half cup of each. Mix and spread over the apple halves, which have been placed, core side up, in a shallow pan.
5. Soak two tablespoons of gelatin in one-quarter cup cold water for five minutes. Add one-half teaspoon of salt.
6. Dissolve the gelatin in one cup of sirup from the apples plus one cup of water brought to a boil.
7. Pour gelatin mixture over the rosy apples in the pan.
8. Put salad in cold place to harden. [The elves used a hollow stump for an ice box, bringing pieces of ice from the elf icehouse!]
9. When ready to serve cut in squares and place on lettuce. Top with mayonnaise or fruit salad dressing.

Culottes for Mature Figure

WOMAN'S AND MISS' CULOTTE.

It is seldom that culottes are designed for the heavier-than-average figure, the idea seeming to be that active sports clothes are meant primarily for the slender silhouette. However, it is possible to design a culotte ensemble suitable for the plumper figure, as is evidenced by the pattern shown today, which is styled for sizes as high as 46. Correct lines are the secret, of course. The trousers skirt is cut to fit the hipline perfectly without accentuating the silhouette too much. The legs of the culottes are cut generously, further to lend the illusion of a nicely tailored skirt. The blouse is conservative and yet distinctive. The rever collar acceptable and traditional in shirt waist blouses is presented, but the sleeves are cut in one with the blouse, avoiding the "bound" appearance which sleeve seams often give to overweight arms. Two pockets enhance the blouse, and the scalloped closing has the effect of minimizing bodice breadth.

The original of this model is fashioned of a cool seersucker print in wine and turquoise blue print. Cool green and white is another scheme worthy of consideration. Any of the bright colors, solid or in prints, to be found in the wide array of tubbable cottons are perfect for this outfit.

Style No. 3417 is designed for sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material for both blouse and culotte skirt.

Get Navy O. K. on Gob Scenes of Dance Film

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 31.—They have extras as sailors in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Born to Dance," so the studio retained a retired lieutenant commander of the navy to act as suggester and censor to see that nothing would interfere with the navy's prestige.

The studio even sent Commander Haislip to Washington to make sure the script and situations were approved. Nothing remotely objectionable was noticed when we visited the set of this film, in which Eleanor Powell, Una Merkel, Frances Langford, Buddy Ebesen, Sid Silver, James Stewart, and Virginia Bruce are playing.

Every one will wonder what such a cast of dancers, lookers, and comedians has to do with the United States navy; we did, in fact, and asked about it.

"Well, a lot of sailors get lonesome when they come ashore," our guide said, "and we have the Ziegfeld girls who recently played in 'The Great Ziegfeld' under contract."

Of course, that explained everything.

They make it plausible for the sailors to appear in the picture by having Una Merkel as head hostess of a Lonely Hearts club. Eleanor Powell is a young girl transported to the big city by her ambition, and when her money is gone and homesickness overcomes her she stumbles across a good Samaritan in the person of flip Miss Merkel.

Una's sailor is Sid Silvers, a gunner on a warship; they are married, wise, and good hearted in the picture. Una presides behind a great maple desk that is the main executive office of the Lonely Hearts' club. Jim Stewart is a young naval officer who meets Miss Powell when she enters the meeting place of lonesome people. Buddy Ebesen is an owlish looking enlisted man whose girl friend is Miss Langford. Virginia Bruce is a night club singer.

TRAP PLAYS.

Opportunities for "trap plays" do not occur very often, and the average player is not familiar with them. Perhaps even the meaning of the expression is not clear to all my readers, so I shall define it briefly.

A trap play is one through which an opponent is misled into a losing maneuver—in short, a hoax. It may be a play that purports to show a suit stopper where none actually exists; it may be a play to induce the wrong finesse, as in today's hand. But in all cases, its inspiration and execution can spring only from a shrewd diagnosis of the opponents' problem.

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	1 spade	1 no trp.	Pass
2 no trp.	Pass	3 no trp.	[final bid]

East's psychic spade bid was an effort, a dangerous one, to keep the vulnerable opponents out of what appeared to be, from East's viewpoint, their best game going contract. West smelled a rat when South overcalled the spade with a no trump, and North raised the no trump without casting about for a suit contract. [Probably, his sense of smell was sharpened by the knowledge that his partner was given to psychic bidding.] At any rate, instead of leading his partner's bid suit, West opened the eight of hearts. East won with the king, and returned the ten of diamonds. Declarer covered with the jack, and West won and returned the four of diamonds. Declarer held up his ace until the third round, after which he ran off five club tricks. On the third round of clubs, West [who was sure about the psychic spade bid as soon as he saw dummy's holding in spades, since declarer was marked with the king] proceeded to lay his trap. He realized that the only chance of winning the spade queen depended on making it possible for the declarer to finesse through East, which could not be done if the ten and nine were outstanding, to back up the queen. West therefore discarded the nine of spades, and on the fourth club he let go the ten!

The declarer looked with some suspicion on these provocative discards, but, after all, he was not second sighted, and the spade bid could have been honest. After cashing the club suit he needed three tricks for his contract, and dared not try to establish a heart, since to do so would incur further loss of diamond tricks. So he laid down the spade ace, preparatory to finessing the queen, and, after that, had no play for his contract. To his credit it must be said that when he saw West play a third spade on the ace, he realized he had been "fixed" and disdained the finesse he was now sure would not succeed, thus saving a trick and going down only one on his contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

♠AK83 ♥AK97 ♦AK4 ♣52

Answer: No, there are no more honor tricks than there are losers [six of each]. One spade is the correct bid.

SOBS OUT STORY OF MISERY IN KING AND GUN DRAMA

McMahon to Be Tried on Treason Charges.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 31.—George Andrew McMahon, 32 years old and baldish, limped into the Bow street police court witness box today and wept as he told why and how he threw a loaded revolver into the path of King Edward VIII. of England on Constitution hill on July 16.

McMahon, questioned by his attorney, Alfred Kerstein, and Sir Donald Somervell, attorney general, tearfully explained he had no idea of hurting the king, but just wanted to create an incident which would call the king's attention to his miseries and excite intervention to end them.

After he had been on the witness stand for two hours sobbing his story of the "revolver incident," McMahon was committed to trial at Old Bailey this fall on three charges, two of which involve treason.

The Three Charges.

Magistrate Sir Rollo Graham Campbell ruled that there is ample evidence for a jury to decide whether McMahon, first, was in possession of a revolver with intent to injure life and property; second, whether he presented the revolver near the person of the king with intent to break public peace, and third, whether he produced a revolver near the person of the king with intent to harm him.

McMahon, if convicted, faces sentence to twenty years imprisonment with whippings at intervals at the discretion of the court, but not to exceed three.

McMahon's testimony tended to upset eyewitness accounts submitted by police, particularly that Constable Dick had knocked the gun from the Irishman's hand. The prisoner testified he had thrown the gun into the street and that Dick only grabbed him afterward.

McMahon's lawyer contended that his client had been foolish but that there was no criminal intention. He said McMahon was more of a mind to commit suicide than to kill the king.

Sentenced for Criminal Libel.

McMahon said he had previously been sentenced to one year's imprisonment for criminal libel, a sentence which was quashed on appeal, but that the prison term ruined his prospects for work.

He had presented two petitions to the king for redress against the police and for aid, and finally he wrote and telephoned Sir John Simon, home minister.

At the climax of his story he said he found himself in the middle of a crowd when the king was passing at the head of a cavalcade.

"The people were cheering and very happy," he said. "That brought me to a realization of my own circumstances. I remembered I had hardly the price of a meal. I thought, what is the good of living and was going to shoot myself.

Thinks of Wife.

"Then I realized how distracted my wife would be and cast the idea aside, saying to myself, 'No, I won't commit suicide.' Finally, the idea struck me that if I could draw the king's attention to my wrongs, maybe they would be helped.

"My idea, therefore, was to get arrested and the king would ask about me and demand an explanation. So just as the band was passing and I saw the king emerge from beneath Wellington arch, I put my hand in my pocket, pulled out a gun, holding it by the barrel, and stooped down. When the king passed, I threw it out in the roadway.

Gun Goes Ahead of King.

"It slithered along 15 feet ahead of him and never endangered his life. My whole idea was just to make a gesture and to get the king to rectify my wrongs."

McMahon's petitions to the king were read in court. They complained about unjust arrest and imprisonment. One petition read:

"In my weakness I gave in to drink. I am now experiencing the tortures of a damned soul."

McMahon agreed he should not have thrown the revolver but cried:

"The idea came on me suddenly. My mind was so disturbed."

M'HENRY OPENS ITS CENTENNIAL WITH PAGEANT

The town of McHenry, in McHenry county, yesterday began a three day centennial celebration marking the 100th anniversary of its founding in the Fox river country shortly after the close of the Black Hawk war.

On yesterday's program was a pageant, written by Marie Agnes Foley and Irving Vendig of Chicago, depicting the history of McHenry county and the town. Figures in the pageant were Col. William McHenry, an officer in the Black Hawk war, for whom the town was named; Dr. Christy G. Wheeler, the first settler in McHenry county, and the Rev. Joel Wheeler, who in 1837 conducted the first religious service and opened the first school in the county.

Today an ox barbecue will be held and former residents of McHenry will be welcomed back as guests of the town.

BRITISH KING TO HAVE 'UNTAPPABLE' RADIO ON HIS HOLIDAY YACHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 31.—"Untappable" radiotelephone equipment is being installed in the yacht Nahlin in which King Edward VIII. of England plans shortly to take a holiday cruise in the eastern Mediterranean. If Edward is required urgently to attend to state business, it will be possible to telephone him directly from London.

The equipment includes a special device to insure that Edward's voice will be picked up only by the shore station through which the Nahlin will work.

The king is expected to board the yacht at Dubrovnik, Jugo-Slavia, in about ten days.

8 PORTO RICANS FOUND GUILTY IN SEDITION TRIAL

Get Prison Terms of from 2 to 6 Years.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 31.—A Porto Rican jury today found eight Nationalists, including the party's Harvard educated leader, Pedro Albizu Campos, guilty of a conspiracy to overthrow the United States government in the island by force. They were sentenced by Federal Judge Robert A. Cooper to prison terms ranging from two to six years as a nationalist crowd outside the courthouse yelled "Down with Yankee imperialism!"

It was the second trial for the eight defendants as the first jury had disagreed.

The group had been indicted on three counts—to overthrow or oppose the government by force, to incite rebellion or insurrection, and to recruit soldiers to oppose the United States government by force.

Albizu Campos, with Luis Velazquez, treasurer of the Nationalist party; Juan Antonio Corretjer, general secretary; Julio Velazquez and Juan Gallardo Santiago was found guilty on all counts.

The three others, Clemente Soto Velez, Erasmo Velazquez, and Pablo Rosadosortiz, were convicted on two counts.

Notice of appeal was filed by defense attorneys, with Albizu Campos, who had acted as his own attorney until his conviction, standing nearby to prompt the maneuvers.

The case originated in a clash between nationalists and police last October in which several persons were slain. Following this fight, Col. E. Francis Riggs, chief of insular police, was murdered, presumably in revenge for the killing of nationalists in the October clash.

DR. J. L. MURRELL WILL DIRECT M. E. YOUTH PROGRAM

The Rev. Dr. Frederick C. Eiselen, executive secretary of the Methodist Episcopal board of education, 740 Rush street, announced yesterday the election of the Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Murrell of Miami, Fla., as head of the denomination's youth program.

Dr. Murrell will succeed the Rev. Dr. Blaine E. Kirkpatick, who recently was left without reappointment by the board for reasons which were unannounced. It was stated in religious journals, however, that Dr. Kirkpatrick had been accused of radical leadership. The Rev. Owen M. Geer, aonther former youth leader, was also left without reappointment.

Dr. Murrell was a member of the naval flying corps during the world war. He was ordained to the ministry in the Illinois conference in 1922. He has served pastorates in Illinois, New York, and Florida. He is a district superintendent in Miami, but will resign Sept. 1, to assume his work with the church board of education.

Special Clearance

of Our Town and Country Type Suits

$29

Right in the middle of the season when sport clothes are worn in town as much as they are out, we put on our first clearance of out-and-out town and country clothes. Doing it now we'll get as much out of it as you will. Summer stocks thinned out earlier than usual for one thing, and for another the space we are always after, at this time of year, to take care of the new Fall arrivals. You benefit by this early start in the selection of materials, patterns, and the styles that are available. Being the odds and ends gleaned from every higher price group, there is not, of course, every size in each pattern and style, but with a selection as large as this, the chances of not finding something to your liking are pretty slim.

The Semi-Annual

Sale of Men's Shoes Starts This Morning

Hundreds of men in this town will tell you that there are two times a year in which to buy shoes, and both those times are during our Semi-Annual Sale. It's a thrifty buying habit of long standing, and one that few men, after their first experience with Semi-Annual Sale prices, fail to acquire.

$5.65, $7.65, $9.65, $10.65 and $11.65 a pair

Every shoe in the entire stock participates in this sale, from the new Fall shoes to Summer whites, and reduced in price with the rest of them are our famous Drakes, Matrix shoes, Arch Sustainers, The Craftsman, our hand-made shoe, and every shoe in the C.P.S. Special Group.

Deep-Tone Shirts

Here are the button down and 3" point collar deeptones that have acquired a secure place under the summer sun for the smart manner in which their deep colors contrast with light colored summer clothing. At this special sale price are shirts tailored of a handkerchief weight material, whose sheerness emphasizes its cool qualities, if not its sturdiness, which is well able to withstand wear and launderings with the fortitude of much sterner stuff. In another group are deeptones tailored of a new shirting, with the same characteristic breeze inviting mesh weave of handwoven hopsack. Both materials in blue, green, maroon and brown.

TEN NAMED TO RACE TODAY IN ARLINGTON FUTURITY

Stake Value May Total $52,635.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Arlington Park Jocky club will open two more generous bags of gold this afternoon and then will lock its gates at the end of a most brilliant racing season.

The gold this afternoon will go to the winner of the Arlington Futurity, which will probably bring to the front the 2 year old champion of the year, and to the winner of the Arlington handicap, which has attracted an overnight field of the best older horses in training.

Ten were named to start in the Futurity, which will be over six furlongs, and if all accept the issue at post time this afternoon the race will have a gross value of $52,635. The net prize to the winning owner will be $41,540, and if he is the breeder of the horse he will receive $1,500 additional.

Handicap Worth $12,950.

The Arlington handicap, which is at a mile and a quarter, attracted an overnight field of nine. If they all go to the post, and it seems likely that they will, the gross value of the race will be $12,950.

The final entries for the two races had no sooner been made public yesterday than the betting was under way, and it was indicated immediately that the entry which will represent Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Milkyway farm stable, which includes Case Ace, Murph and Jawbreaker, will rule as a topheavy favorite in the Futurity. The odds are expected to be at about 6 to 5 at post time this afternoon.

The post of honor in the Arlington handicap went to Mrs. Emil Denemark's Corinto. Where Away and Hollyrood were held as about equal second choices. There was also considerable backing for Azucar, which won a $100,000 Santa Anita handicap a couple of seasons back. He has trained in an excellent manner for the engagement.

An Intersectional Race.

The Futurity, richest race of the year run in Chicago, and one of the two richest 2 year old fixtures decided annually in America, truly is an intersectional affair. Supply House represents California, but won his fame in the two spectacular victories he scored in New England. Kentucky has two powerful colorbearers in Apogee, the Lassie stakes winner, and Old Nassau. The eastern standard bearer will be Joseph E. Widener's Advocator, and Texas has a speedy filly in the race in Jewell Dorsett, owned by John Theall's Lone Star stable.

The rest of the starters are the property of Chicagoans. Mrs. Ethel V. Mars owns Case Ace, Murph, and Jawbreaker; Warren Wright the colt Privileged, and Mrs. Emil Denemark the fast running Orientalist, son of Wise Counsellor.

Jocky Alfred Robertson, head rider for Mrs. Mars, who has been having a terrible time all week trying to decide whether he has a better chance to win the Futurity with Case Ace or Murph, was no nearer a decision last night than he was a week ago. So in the entry list his name appears as the rider of both. "I wish I could ride both of them," Robertson said last night. Trainer McGarvey did not reveal the name of the jocky who will serve as Robertson's assistant in Mrs. Mars' quest for the rich Futurity prize.

Expect Capacity Crowd.

The running of the two valuable features which makes this the biggest racing day of the year in Illinois will again attract another capacity crowd to the Arlington course. Breeders and owners are here from every part of the country to see the re-

JAPAN AWARDED 1940 GAMES AS OLYMPICS OPEN

Million to See Ceremonies Today.

BERLIN, July 31.—(AP)—Tokio's victory over Helsingfors in an exciting contest for the award of the 1940 Olympics today climaxed a rapid flow of events prefacing the spectacularly planned program opening the 11th Olympic games at the Reichsportfield tomorrow.

While dress rehersals paved the way for the world's biggest and most elaborately staged sports show, the frock coated diplomats of the international Olympic committee decided the next games would go half way around the world four years hence, voting 36 to 27 in Japan's favor on a secret ballot.

The spirited two day debate and electioneering, marked by a Finnish appeal to return the games to Spartan simplicity, ended in a much more decisive vote than had been expected.

The United States delegates, William May Garland of Los Angeles and Avery Brundage of Chicago, together with a virtually solid block of North and South American countries and British empire support helped clinch the decision for the Japanese.

Garland Swings Vote.

The sideshow aspects and the expressed fears of many athletic chieftains that the Games were getting "out of hand" as well as topheavy, divided nationalities into two distinct camps. Thus Finland acquired support not only from sources disturbed by such ceremonial pomp as the Berlin games are witnessing, but also from Europeans motivated by political or economic reasons. The glamor, as well as the practical terms, of Japan's offer, however, outweighed other considerations.

The prime mover in Tokio's support was Garland, who urged the value of carrying the Olympic torch around the world. Brundage declared, "We are delighted."

"From our standpoint it made no real difference whether Tokio or Helsingfors was chosen," he added. "We'll be delighted to go to Japan because we know the Japanese are fine sportsmen."

One of the decisive factors in support of the Japanese bid was an offer of a transportation subsidy of a million and a half yen [about $485,000] to offset costs of traveling in the far east.

Winter Games Award Deferred.

Award of the winter games was deferred because of a dispute between the International Olympic committee and the International Skiing federation over questions of amateurism. The federation had voted to permit paid trainers or coaches to enter Olympic competition as amateurs, but the I. O. C. rejected this proposal on Case Ace, which will team up with his stablemates, Murph and Jawbreaker, to make a mighty fast combination in the Arlington Futurity today. These horses, which make up the Ethel V. Mars entry, are expected to be the favorites in the betting on the rich stake. Some of the best older horses in training will race in the Arlington handicap, also on today's program. This will be the final afternoon of the meeting.

Mrs. Zuppke, Wife of Illini Coach, Dies

Muskegon, Mich., July 31.—(AP)—Mrs. Robert C. Zuppke, who abandoned a promising musical career to marry the man who was to become one of the nation's leading football coaches, died here today after a long illness. She was 63 years old.

In the 28 years she was married to Bob Zuppke, she saw him rise from high school football coach in her home town, Muskegon, to the top of his field as coach of the University of Illinois teams which have frequently been Western conference champions.

At Illinois Since 1913.

Member of a prominent Muskegon family, Mrs. Zuppke was tutored in music in New York and Chicago. She first met Zuppke in 1906. He had come from the University of Wisconsin to his first coaching job. Two years later they were married.

Since 1913 they had been at the University of Illinois.

It was to Mrs. Zuppke that the coach told his troubles when the going was tough for the Illini. Throughout his career she shared his successes and reverses. Through her long last illness he sat at her bedside.

Mother Is Ill.

Mrs. Zuppke is survived by her 89 year old mother, who is ill and has not been informed of her daughter's death.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon with the Rev. John K. Collidge, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiating. Burial will be in Muskegon cemetery.

RED SOX SCORE 7 TO 3 VICTORY OVER WHITE SOX

Foxx Leads Hitting with Homer, Triple, Double.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

A fellow named Jim Foxx made a big shot of himself yesterday in the battle for third place, current attraction at Comiskey park. He hit homer No. 30 with two on. He hit a triple for another run and a double that netted nothing. His contributions alone were enough to pilot the gold plated Boston Red Sox to victory over the White Sox in the opener of a four game series. The score was 7 to 3.

A couple of pitching gentlemen who have been around a long time were in action at the start, but one of them was missing before the finish. Unhappily for 15,000 ladies day guests and 5,000 cash patrons, the absentee was Ted Lyons, who departed after seven innings, leaving behind an average yield of one run per inning. Surviving was Robert Moses Grove whose left arm has been creaking for many years. But it was good enough on this occasion to choke off the Chicagoans on seven hits, most of them scattered.

Foxx Starts Early.

Because of the aforementioned Foxx, Lyons went into a spin right at the start and never recovered. No. 30 appeared in the first inning after two singles, a fairly positive indication that something was missing from Ted's répertoire. The Chicagoans tried to make a fight of it by bouncing back with three hits and two runs in their opening stand. But developments proved that this was to be Grove's only turbulent inning of the afternoon.

Thereafter he was separated from only one run and that happened because of errors. Meanwhile Lyons was getting it, finally passing out so that Bill Shores, a recent import, could make a successful debut.

Grove's insistence on keeping himself practically free from serious trouble had a depressing effect on the average of Rip Radcliff and Luke Appling, the two south siders who are up with the leaders. Rip was turned back on one hit in five attempts. Appling's net was one hit in four, the hit being a double that assisted in the profitable first inning. And Jack Hayes, who had run up a string of fourteen straight hitting games, had to be satisfied with one pass.

Foxx Hits Homer in First.

Cooke and Cramer arranged the setting for Foxx's cleanup smash that started Lyons off under a three run handicap. Cooke did his part by opening the first inning with a single to center. Cramer singled to the same spot. Manush popped to Hayes and Foxx then put home run No. 30 on exhibition, the ball plunked down into the upper deck in left field. Lyons was able to throttle the next two batters.

Grove's three run lead remained in-

Grimm Scolds Cubs; Seeks New Players

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 31.—Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs, after a heated clubhouse session, announced today that he will go to Newark, N. J., tonight to scout First Baseman Phil Weintraub and Outfielder Buster Mills, both of the Rochester club of the International league which will play the Newark Bears under the lights.

Weintraub Chicago Boy.

Jack Doyle, veteran Cub scout, reported to Grimm this morning that both players are going at top speed, Weintraub having been among the league's leading hitters most of the season. Mills is a headlong type of spirited player something of the style of Pepper Martin of the Cards.

Weintraub is a Chicago Jewish boy and very popular among a wide circle of friends there. If purchased Phil probably will replace Grimm at first base immediately. Whether Phil Cavarretta is being offered as a part of the potential transaction was not made known. It is said Cavarretta will not be retained if Weintraub is purchased.

It was reported that in his pregame clubhouse tirade Grimm accused certain players of being afflicted with a "prima donna complex."

Cubs Lack Team Play.

Team play, long the Cubs' strongest asset, has been missing at times and it is said there recently have been occasions when players have failed to exert themselves in protecting certain teammates on errors. This condition, bordering closer on dissension than anything the Cubs have known during the Grimm régime, four years old next week, has been thoroughly uncovered and its is reported that ringleaders were warned today that the state of affairs must be corrected at once. Shortstop Bill Jurges, Second Baseman Billy Herman, and Outfielder Augie Galan were mentioned especially among those whose play has been indifferent.

FRENCH PITCHES FOUR HIT GAME TO TAKE DUEL

Champions Bunch Their Safeties.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 31.—Larry French this afternoon held the Giants to four hits as the Cubs salvaged the final game of the series here, 3 to 1. The Cubs themselves did not feast on base hits, making only six off Harry Gumbert, who entered the contest with a record of nine victories and two defeats.

Four of the six hits came when they meant something, however. A walk to Ethan Allen, a single by Bill Herman, a sacrifice by Gabby Hartnett, and a single by Frank Demaree gave the Cubs two runs in the fourth, and a single by Charley Grimm, a walk to Augie Galan, and another single by Herman gave the Cubs their concluding run in the fifth.

The Giants ducked a shutout because one of their four hits was a homer with which Hank Leiber led off the fourth inning. Not a Giant reached base after the fourth, and not one in the span got the ball out of the infield except Leiber, who flied to Demaree with one out in the ninth.

Lecture Peps Up Team.

Manager Grimm presided at a stormy clubhouse session before today's game and the change in the team was electric. Though the hitting was skimp, the play was peppery—the liveliest of the trip.

The Cubs thus set out for three games in Boston still in possession of first place, and had pushed the pennant claiming Giants back seven games. They now have won nine out of 16 from the Giants. The Cubs also rose to the .500 mark on the present trip.

The Cubs' offensive prior to their two run splurge in the fourth inning consisted of two walks, one to Herman with two out in the first inning and one to Hack with one out in the third, which was wiped out in a double play. Then came the productive fourth. Allen walked and Herman singled to left. Ethan and Bill moved up on Hartnett's sacrifice and scored on Demaree's line single to right center.

Leiber Hits Homer.

The Giants also did their first scoring in the fourth. It was accomplished when Leiber opened the inning with his No. 6 homer, a sizable smack into the upper deck of the left field stand. Herman made a great play back of second to rob Leslie of a hit. Then Jackson singled to right and Mancuso walked. Bartell obligingly tapped into a double play, started by Hack.

The Cubs added a run in the fifth and had runners on first and third when the session ended. Grimm opened with a single to center and moved up on French's sacrifice. Galan walked and the runners paused while Allen flied to Ott. Herman then came through with his second vital single to left, Grimm scoring and Galan reaching third. Whitehead threw out Hartnett.

The Cubs appeared to have something moving in the sixth when a double play spoiled it. Demaree walked, advanced on Hack's sacrifice and reached third while Bartell was punting Jurges' grounder. Then Grimm hit into a double play, Leslie to Bartell to Leslie.

Giants Go Out in Order.

The Giants, in going out in order in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings, failed to knock the ball out of the infield.

With one out in the eighth Hartnett singled to left for the sixth Chicago hit. Demaree tapped in front of the plate and Hartnett was forced at second. Hack rolled to Whitehead.

Davis batted for Gumbert in the Giants' half and fouled to Hartnett. Moore grounded to Herman and Whitehead popped to Jurges.

Castleman pitched the ninth and retired the Cubs in order. Jurges grounded to Bartell, Grimm fanned, and French popped to Jackson.

CARDINALS BEAT DODGERS, 8 TO 6, ON DEAN'S HIT

Dizzy Drives In 2 Runs in the Tenth.

Brooklyn, July 31.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean won his own ball game today, singling in the winning runs in the tenth inning to give the Cardinals an 8 to 6 victory over the Dodgers and enable the gas house gang to remain one game off the National league pace.

Although giving up 11 hits, Dean was tight in the pinches, striking out nine batters and walking but two, to score his 17th victory of the season against eight losses.

Boston, Mass., July 31.—(AP)—Wally Berger's two home runs today did little to aid the cause of the Boston Bees as the hard-clouting Pittsburgh Pirates blasted two Boston pitchers for 14 hits to win, 10 to 5. The Pirates got to Jim Chaplin for five runs in the fifth, and added three runs in the ninth inning off Bob Reis. Weaver was relieved by Hoyt in the seventh inning after Berger drove his first homer into the left field stand with two out. Up again in the ninth, Berger hit No. 17.

YANKEES DEFEAT INDIANS, 11 TO 7, BEFORE 22,000

Cleveland, July 31.—(AP)—The New York Yankees murderers' row stopped the rush of the Indians in the opening of their series today, firing a 16 hit barrage for an 11 to 7 victory to stretch their American league lead to 8½ games.

Pennant fever hit Cleveland along with the Yanks. A crowd of several thousand waited in line long before game time, and the gates had to be closed an hour before the battle started, with the 22,000 capacity of League park reached.

Lou Gehrig and company battered four Indian pitchers, starting with Mel Harder, and were never headed after the second inning. Gehrig hit his 33d homer of the season and Red Rolfe his seventh for the Yanks, while Hal Trosky, clubbed his 30th out of the park with a mate on base in the last of the ninth.

JOHN M'DIARMID WINS SEABRIGHT TENNIS TOURNEY

Seabright, N. J., July 31.—(AP)—John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., defeated 17 year old Joseph Hunt of Los Angeles, Cal., 9-7, 6-2, 6-2, today to win the 49th annual Seabright invitation tennis tournament.

In the women's doubles final Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., and Sylvia Henrotin of France defeated the Wightman cup team of Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles and Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn of Philadelphia, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

McDiarmid also reached the final of the mixed doubles, paired with Gracyn Wheeler of Santa Monica, Cal. They defeated Millicent Hirsh, New York, and Hal Surface, Waldo, Mo., 6-3, 5-7, 6-3. Their opponents tomorrow will be Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, who trounced Mme. Henrotin and Mangin, 6-4, 6-3.

tact until after two had been retired in Chicago's opening half. Haas scratched a single through Cronin and had to leg it around to the plate on a triple aimed close to the line in right by Bonura. Appling doubled to right and Bonura scored. Manush captured Hayes' fly for the third out.

Lyons tumbled into serious difficulties again in the second but rallied in time to confine the damage to one run. Werber blew open the inning with a two bagger down the left field line. Berg, who speaks seven languages but never mastered the hitting art, tripled to the score board in left, Werber scoring. But Lyons set down Grove, Cooke and Cramer so Berg didn't get home.

Sox Get Another Run.

The Chicagoans couldn't get a dividend on Sewell's triple with one out in the second or Kreevich's single with none out in the third. But they did manage to pick up a run without a hit in the fourth, leaving the Red Hose one ahead. Hayes and Piet walked but Hayes permitted himself to be picked off second by Berg for the first out. Sewell bounced to Werber who fumbled. Lyons' grounder to Cronin forced Sewell at second and in attempting a double play, Kroner threw wild, Piet scoring on the error. Radcliff's tap to Cronin closed the inning.

After the second Lyons got along pretty well until the sixth, when Foxx was heard from again. Foxx led off with a three base drive into right center and scored when Kroner followed with a single. Cronin tapped to Lyons, whose throw to Hayes forced Kroner at second. Upon arriving at second Kroner used his hands on Hayes to break up a double play, but Umpire Ormsby refused to heed a protest about interference. Cronin took second on an infield out and scored on Berg's single, giving Boston a 6 to 3 edge.

Red Sox Score Again.

Foxx was dispensed with on an intentional pass in the seventh, but this didn't prevent the accumulation of one more run by Boston. Lyons assisted them by giving a pass to Cooke to open the inning. Cramer singled to left. The two runners advanced on Manush's bunt. The pass to Foxx loaded the bags. Kroner then spanked a long fly to Kreevich and Cooke registered. Cronin flied to Kreevich to end the inning and also conclude Lyons' luckless assignment.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR WAKE: Back in 1882 Jerry Monroe's Variety theater was located at Polk and State streets. Over the State street curb Jerry hung a carbon point arc-light, one of the first in Chicago.

If you were a newsboy selling afternoon papers on Jerry's corner you knew his habit of posing before his theater, usually near the ticket taker, with thumbs in the armholes of his refulgent vest which encircled his ample bosom and also his ample heart.

On the evening of a rainy day when your sales were few you put a few bedraggled papers under your arm and went up to Jerry saying: "Mr. Monroe, I didn't sell many papers this afternoon. Will you pass an old friend in to see the show?" Jerry, looking down at you quizzically, then put his broad right hand between your narrow shoulders and steered you toward the ticket taker, raised his left hand, and said, "This is a friend of mine," and in you went.

You then could take any seat vacant, and you heard voluptuous May Howard sing her songs and the voluble John W. Kelly, "the Rolling Mill Man," chatter his chin. Great old days!

Matt Gorman.

Wake: Pedestrian Weston, after walking from Portland, Me., to Chicago in 100 days, arrived here on Thanksgiving day, 1868. He stopped at the old Sherman house. We crowded on the Clark street side to see him. He came out on the balcony holding a child in his arms, saying to the crowd, "This is what I am walking for."

Earlier on, the Clark street front of the Sherman house were shade trees. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE was located across the street, in the second story of a frame building. Around the corner, on the north side of Randolph, Col. Woods' museum was located. I saw there the original Siamese twins, Tom Thumb, Jenny Warren, and Chang, the Chinese giant, 8 feet 2 inches tall.

Playing in the theater connected with the museum were Frank Aiken, John Dillon, Frank Lemoyne, and Jenny Hight, who played "The French Spy" in tights. I venture she was the first actress seen in that kind of a costume by many of the boys. In an Irish drama, "Peep o' Day Boys," John Dillon sang "The Wearing of the Green" and another popular Irish song of the time, "The Shan Van Vought."

Silver Spray Wins Race at SheridanShore

Silver Spray, a Sheridan Shore Yacht club Star boat sailed by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Kendig, won the fifth contest of the club's annual race week yesterday.

The victory was a surprise, as Silver Spray has not been among the leaders in the series prior to yesterday. Clive Jenkins' Blue Mist was in second place at one time, but finished third behind Twin Star, Lockwood M. Pirie's entry.

At the half way point of the triangular race Silver Spray was 1 minute and 52 seconds ahead of Twin Star. It sailed out on the leeward run to finish the second half with a lead of 1:56 over Twin Star.

Twin Star Leads Series.

At the finish of the race the regatta committee announced that Twin Star still led in the series. The new Pirie yacht has 206 points, due mainly to the two races in has won in race week so far. Twinkle Ditto is second with 181 points.

Hold Final Races Today.

The final races will be held today off Wilmette. Wednesday's postponed race is to be run this morning, while the regularly scheduled seventh and last contest will start this afternoon.

Dietrich Picked to Pitch Today Against Marcum

Bespectacled Bill Dietrich whose first start for the White Sox was a victory over the Athletics last Tuesday, will try his hand on the Boston Red Sox this afternoon. Johnny Marcum will be the Boston nominee.

The Red Sox will have to get along for a few days without the help of Rick Ferrell, their No. 1 catcher. Rick suffered a bump on his right thumb during Thursday's game at St. Louis.

Sugar Cain and Vernon Kennedy will be put in charge of Jim Dykes' pitching tomorrow in the double-header with the Boston gang. The bargain bill will conclude the White Sox home chores until Aug. 11.

Along with his sore arm John Whitehead has developed a stomach complaint. He's been out of uniform for a couple of days.

Manager Joe Cronin handled a dozen chances at shortstop but the total was a long way from a record unless a record could be made out of the fact that he took care of that much work without committing an error.

Carleton to Pitch Opener Between Cubs, Bees Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 31.—Tex Carleton, strengthened by a rest that extended through the Philadelphia and New York series, will pitch tomorrow's opener against the Cubs' beloved cousins, the Boston Bees. Lanning is scheduled to pitch for Boston.

The Cubs won a dozen of 15 games played this year against the Bees.

Three games will be played in the Cubs' two day visit to Boston. The double-header is Sunday immediately after which the Cubs will depart for Chicago, where on Tuesday they will open a four day series against the Cardinals.

COACHING SQUAD OF STARS NO EASY JOB, SAYS HANLEY

It's a Race Against Time, but What Material!

[This is the seventh of a series of articles by Dick Hanley, former Northwestern coach, who helped to direct the first College All-Star team in 1934. Mr. Hanley now classes himself as a La Salle street coach, one of that group which take delight in second guessing the football coaches in the fall.]

BY DICK HANLEY.

From the comparative safety of La Salle street I venture the opinion that material is much more important than coaching technique. It always was.

A great coach can only demonstrate his superiority when he has excellent man power. The best he can hope to accomplish with mediocre material is an occasional surprise victory over a stronger opponent.

The staf which will direct the College All-Stars against the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 1 will have material that is material.

What then comprises the problems of coaching such a group? System of play? The answer is "No." Any one of a dozen styles of play can be utilized successfully. Coaching a football team is a race against time. Particularly this is true when one coaches an all-star aggregation. Consequently the attack used should be a comparatively simple one.

Choose Basic Offense.

These lads have been taught to respect certain styles of playing during their playing careers and they naturally question the superiority of other styles. Therefore the coaching staf should elect a basic offense which can be a satisfactory compromise for all.

The only alternative to this plan would be a suggestion made a year ago, namely, to divide the squad and permit two or three teams, each coached along offensive lines with which they are familiar, to take the field at intervals. This might complicate the coaching problems, but what a thrill this move would provide for the fans.

Imagine the complications a move such as this would make for the individual and collective Lions. They would have to spend twice as much time on their defensive plans as is normally required. Correspondingly their time allotted to offense would be pared. Brainy and experienced as they are, it is extremely difficult to switch from one style of defense to another during the heat of the battle.

Job for Coaches.

The coaches named to handle the All-Stars are not going to have an easy job.

From experience I know that the coaches must first gain the squad's confidence. National reputations mean nothing in the players' young lives. Personality and ability to speak the boys' language means everything. The ordinary problems of temperament, clashing personalities, and petty jealousies present on his own squad are multiplied many times. But after all, so is the ability, man power, and versatility of his supporting cast.

HIMELBLAU AND BERKENSTEIN WIN AT BRYN MAWR

Al Himelblau and George Berkenstein led the field in the Hey-Day, Bryn Mawr Country club's annual invitational tournament, on Thursday. Himelblau won the members' gross prize with a 76, while Berkenstein paced the guests with a 77. A field of 275, one of the largest in the history of the event, competed. Low net foursome honors for the day went to a quartet composed of Maurice Pickus, Lou Cohen, Howard Chapman, and Emil Kahn. Their aggregate net was 298.

JAPAN AWARDED 1940 GAMES AS OLYMPICS OPEN

the grounds that it would violate Olympic rules.

Count Henri Baillet-Latour of Belgium said the dispute would be settled at the next I. O. C. meeting a year hence.

Meanwhile Nazi Germany's vast Olympic machinery revolving around its $25,000,000 sports structure moved with precision toward the opening ceremonies tomorrow which precede the start of competition Sunday.

The latest arrivals brought the total athletic army mustered for the games to 4,844 men and women representing fifty-three nations.

Expect Million Spectators.

Fully a million spectators will witness at least a part of tomorrow's twelve hour program of ceremonies, youth assemblies, receptions, and parades leading up to Chancellor Hitler's formal opening declaration before a capacity crowd of 100,000 in the main stadium.

For more than an hour before the opening hour, 4 p. m. [10 a. m. Chicago time], the entire six mile stretch of main highway from the Brandenburg gate to the stadium will be closed to all trafic except official groups headed by the Fuehrer and the international Olympic committee.

U. S. Representatives Ready.

Meanwhile a week's disturbances within athletic ranks including three American and one Polish disbarment, the disciplining of a Uruguayan for violating training rules, and a conflict between rival Brazilian delegations, ended with the competitors straining at the leash.

From all except the women's section of the American camp came encouraging word that the athletes had rallied from the combined effects of their boat ride and bad weather since their arrival.

Primed to look their nattiest in tomorrow's parade, upwards of 300 Americans will be led into the stadium by Alfred Jochim, Union City, N. J., gymnast, as standard bearer, flanked by two other four time Olympic representatives, James W. O'Connor of Venice, Cal., and Fred Lauer of Chicago, both members of the water polo team, as color guards.

Elaborate Stadium Program.

The traditional Olympic ceremonies, although surrounded by an extraordinary mass demonstration and carefully planned displays, will mark the elaborate stadium program. Chancellor Hitler's simple pronouncement that the 11th Olympic meet is opened will be the signal for guns to boom a salute, the release of 30,000 pigeons, and a musical overture featuring Strauss' "Olympic Hymn."

Rudolf Ismayr of Germany, 1932 Olympic middleweight weight lifting champion, will take the Olympic oath on behalf of all the athletes. The oath, representing the highest ideals of amateurism and sportsmanship, says:

"We swear that we will take part in the Olympic games in loyal competition, respecting the regulations which govern them and desirous of participating in them in the true spirit of sportsmanship for the honor of our country and for the glory of the sport."

Fire Atop Tower.

The oath will be taken after the Olympic torch is escorted into the stadium to light the fire atop the Olympic tower and an olive branch brought from Greece, has been presented to Hitler by S. Loues of Greece, winner of the marathon in the first modern revival of the games at Athens in 1896.

The "hallelujah chorus" from Handel's "Messiah" will be played as the athletes make their exit. The customary marching order will find Greece in front, followed by the other visiting nations in alphabetical order, with Germany's team, as hosts, bringing up the rear.

Competition will start Sunday in five of the nineteen sports on the Olympic program.

Relay Team in Doubt.

Fifteen Americans who will compete in the opening track events, including the finals in the shot put, high jump, and 10,000 meter run, and trials in the 100 meter dash and 800 meter run, took things easily today. They will be excused from the opening ceremonies and parades.

With the makeup of the 1,600 meter relay team still in doubt three far westerners, Al Fitch of Southern California and Archie Williams and Harold Smallwood of California were given time trials. Fitch was clocked in 47.9 seconds, Smallwood 48.1, and Williams 48.6, all somewhat disappointing to the coaches.

For the first time in several days Glenn Cunningham ran through several laps briskly without feeling any soreness in his legs. The British 1,500 meter ace, Stanley Wooderson, showed a distinct limp in his first workout on the Olympic village track, but his coach insisted Wooderson's bad ankle responds quickly after warming up and won't handicap the favorite in the metric mile.

TOKIO CELEBRATES.

TOKIO, Aug. 1 [Saturday—(AP)—The award of the 1940 summer Olympics games to Tokio was celebrated in Japan today as inspiring international success and hailed as the first major gesture of world friendship toward Japan since the beginning of the diplomatic isolation growing out of the Manchurian conquest in 1931.

Premier Koki Hirota stated, "I am most delighted at the choice of Tokio, which undoubtedly is partly due to other nations arriviing at a better understanding of Japan and the Japanese people."

Boxers Near Best Form for Olympics

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 31.—"Our boxers are shaping up very well and they are training under ideal conditions," Roy Davis of Chicago, chairman of the American Olympic boxing committee, declared today.

"It took the boys a few days to get the kinks out of their systems after the crossing, but in our workouts they are coming up very well," Davis said. "All of them must lose some weight before they go on the scales but it is not too much and we can get it down in ample time since the real fights don't start until Aug. 10.

"Carl Vinciquerra, our light heavyweight, is one who will have to diet most assiduously because he must take off seven pounds. The others have to lose less so we do not fear any disqualifications for wrong weights."

Train In Secret.

In Hindenburg hall of the Olympic village the American boxers train daily between 3 and 4 o'clock behind closed doors. All the boxing teams are training in secret to be able to surprise their opponents when the big day of the fight comes.

Only in the mornings when the boys are out for roadwork do the experts catch an idea of their form and they say it is good. The Americans, though, have heard of one competitor who is said to be overwhelming—one of the Belgian heavyweights.

Davis and Coach Johnny Behr have taken the boys to town on special excursions and shopping tours but they are generally safely tucked away in their cottage "Leipzig" by 10 o'clock in the evening. The return home of Howell King and Joey Church helped improve the atmosphere in boxing quarters since they were extremely nervous and depressed.

Mateulewicz Loses Chance.

Ray Mateulewicz of Duke university, who was moved up as alternate, is doing well and Davis tried everything in his power to enter him in the games, but the lists were closed on July 26 and there is no possibility of including him.

The boys got a lot of fun out of shopping. An 11 D shoe for Wilfrid Smith, CHICAGO TRIBUNE sports writer, is one of the prize purchases. Ord Fink broke out with a pair of German shoes adorned with hair covered lether.

Johnny Brown, Andy Scrivani, Chester Rutecki, and Vinciquerra had hoped to go to Rome to see the pope after the games, but the American Express company asserts it knows nothing of such an arrangement and the boys are worried they may not be able to make the trip. While in camp the Catholic boys will be able to attend a special Olympic service in Hindenburg hall in which the bishop of Berlin will officiate personally.

Weather Is Cool.

The weather has improved and Coach Behr thinks the climate will not affect the boys' fighting. It has been so cool and damp that the coach asked the Germans to heat the cottages. This was done and also heavy wool blankets were distributed.

Brundage Wants Sex of Women Athletes Certified

Berlin, July 31.—(AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, today recommended that all women entered in the Olympic games be subjected to a sex examination but the international committee promptly voted to refer the matter to the various individual sports federations for decision and proceedure. Brundage's motion is designed to make certain that entrants are duly qualified.

Italian Prince Leads Party to Berlin's Games

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 31.—The contingent of princes and crowned heads who will witness the Olympic games is gradually filling up. King Boris of Bulgaria is expected next week, but Crown Prince Humbert of Italy arrived today almost at the same time as Reichsfuehrer Hitler, who returned to the capital from his vacation in south Germany.

Crown Prince Paul of Greece preceded the Italian crown prince by a day while Prince Paul, regent of Jugo-Slavia, is expected in Berlin next week. Crown Prince Michael of Rumania, the former boy king who was replaced by his father, has told friends he still hopes to get his father's consent to witnes the games incognito.

The German princes, who will receive and entertain the foreign princes, with most of whom they are related, are remaining discreetly in the background. Only Prince Louis Ferdinand, son of the former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, is busy receiving in the name of the German Lufthansa Air Line. He has devoted much of his time to helping Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife have a good time in Germany. As soon as they are gone he will devote himself to the visiting princes.

Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister is coming to Berlin to represent his country, while it is asserted that Kurt Schuschnigg, Austrian chancellor, also will visit the Olympic capital. New friction which has developed between Austria and Germany may change his plans.

The Olympic teams are busy rehersing their solemn march into the stadium at the opening ceremony tomorrow. The question of how to salute has been a serious problem for team leaders. Many of them do not want to be accused of imitating the Nazi salute which could happen if the teams adopted the so-called Olympic salute.

The Americans had at first planned to raise their white blue banded straw hats in a flourishing gesture, but that was dropped because it lacked snap. They now plan to swing their hats to the left of their chests and hold them there rigidly with eyes right as they pass the fuehrer.

HUME RETURNS TO WASHINGTON CREW FOR DRILL

GRUNAU, Germany, July 31.—(AP)—With Donald Bruce Hume stroking the boat again after a two day layoff due to a chest cold, the University of Washington eight oared crew rowed its first time trial over the 2,000 meter Olympic course today.

Due to Hume's wobbly condition, Coach Al Ulbrickson held the Pacific coast Huskies to not more than 28 strokes a minute, thus accounting for the fact they were clocked in 6 minutes 43 seconds—slow time compared with the course record of 6:09.2 set by Hungary. Ulbrickson said he was perfectly satisfied with their performance.

Ulbrickson estimated that a beat of at least 36 strokes a minute will be necessary to retain the Olympic crown. The Australians already are approaching that figure in their trials and they appear to be well ahead of the twelve other crews now in camp. The French, Austrian, and Czechoslovakian crews arrived today. Great Britain's oarsmen are due tomorrow. Since their first look at the Italians, however, the Huskies have just about decided that there is where their opposition lies.

DAVIS BEATS PEASE.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., July 31.—(AP)—Ed Davis of Peoria, pulled the first upset of the sixth annual middle states tennis tournament today, whipping Gordon Pease of San Antonio, 10-8, 13-11.

KRUTILLA PLAYS JUDELSON TODAY FOR CITY CROWN

Both Play Brilliant Golf in Semi-Finals.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Since the rules of match play golf tournaments stipulate the inclusion of a semi-final round, Johnny Krutilla of Lansing airport yesterday complied with the code as quickly as possible by dashing off a 14 and 13 decision over Tom McInerney of the Home club in the 32d annual city amateur championship at Jackson park. In the other 36 hole semi-final, Hymie Judelson of Harlem attempted to be as accomodating as Krutilla in going through the formality of reaching the final, but he encountered sterner opposition in Louie Tolman, Ridge County club champion, before winning, 5 and 3.

Krutilla Marches On.

Thus Krutilla and Judelson, both strangers to the title picture of the town's oldest golf show, will battle today in the 36 hole championship match. Krutilla, a 20 year old Austrian steel worker who has been a constant menace in local public links golf, reaches his first big time final, while Judelson is appearing in his second, having held the Metropolitan title.

Krutilla's most notable achievement in reaching the showdown was his 4 and 3 fourth round victory over Harold Mathisen, champion the last two years, while Judelson's coup was the ellmination of Fritz Jordan after the latter had put out Pete Miller, 1928 winner and 1935 finalist.

Match Becomes Formality.

The Krutilla-McInerney match became a formality in every sense of the word after the morning 18 holes, which found Johnny 10 up on McInerney, the while Judelson was working out a five hole edge over Tolman, Krutilla needed only five holes of the afternoon session to clinch a spot in the final. Judelson, after going six up at the afternoon turn, found Tolman somewhat obstinate coming in, and it took Hymie another six holes to call it a day.

Owens' Broad Jump Accepted as World Mark

BERLIN, July 31.—(AP)—Ten world track records, including Jesse Owens' 26 feet 8¼ inches broad jump, and five record equaling track and field performances were approved today by the International Amateur Athletic federation record committee, of which Avery Brundage of Chicago is chairman.

Owens' great leap, which put into discard the previous mark of 26 feet 2⅛ inches, made by Japan's Chuhei Nambu in the 1932 Olympic games, was the only new American mark approved, although Ralph Metcalfe and Eulace Peacock's 10.3 for 100 meters and Al Moreau's 14.2 for the 110 meter hurdles were indorsed as record equaling performances.

Owens' 20.3 seconds for the 220 yard and 200 meter sprints were not acted upon. However, they are slated for consideration and probable approval at the next records committee meeting Wednesday.

Owens' other record performances, including 22.6 for 220 yard low hurdles, 9.4 for 100 yards made on the same day he set the broad jumping and furlong marks in the Big Ten conference meet at Ann Arbor, Mich., May 25, 1935, were not placed before the session.

Outstanding world records approved included the discus throw of 174 feet 1⅝ inches by Willi Schroeder of Germany last year, and the javelin throw of 251 feet 6 inches by Matti Jarvinen of Finland two years ago. The Finnish star tossed the javelin 253 feet last month, but his application for approval has not yet been acted upon.

The 30 seconds performance of Josef Kovacs of Hungary for 300 yards in Budapest a year ago, six-tenths of a second faster than the previous mark, also was approved.

Record feats made in America recently and not presented at today's meeting included Indiana Don Lash's two mile run in 8:58.3; Georgia Forrest [Spec] Towns' 14.1 for 110 meter hurdles, and 7,800 points in the decathlon set by Glenn Morris of Fort Collins, Colo., in the American Olympic tryouts; George Varoff's 14 feet 6 inch pole vault, and the high jumps of 6 feet 9¾ inches by Cornelius Johnson and Dale Albritton.

These records will not be referred to the I. A. A. F. for action because the Amateur Athletic union of the United States has not yet acted on the marks made this year.

BOOTLESS WINS SPRINT EVENT AT ARLINGTON PARK

Cavour Scores in First Race and Pays $100.

Col. Edward R. Bradley's silks were carried to victory by Bootless in the Winchester purse which featured the racing program at Arlington Park yesterday afternoon.

The son of Black Toney-Mary Eloise drove up from behind at the top of the home stretch and beat ex-Ald. Billy O'Toole's Understand by two and a half lengths. Morris Vehon's good filly Threadneedle finished third. The race was for 3 year olds.

The Bradley gelding was a stoutly backed favorite and after running the seven furlongs in 1:25 paid off in the betting at $4.80 for a $2 ticket.

The long shot players got away to a flying start yesterday when Cavour, a California bred 2 year old owned by the Rosedale stable, bounced home in front and paid off at $100.40 for a $2 ticket in the first race. Another long shot, Pep Talk, finished second and paid $43.40 to place.

Because the Bomar stable's nominations to Washington Park stakes were lost in the mail, P. A. Markey, part owner of the Detroit stable, obtained consent of the Illinois state racing commission and the Washington Park stewards to renominate in three stakes to be run at the south side course.

Billy Bee was nominated by Markey for the Chicago handicap and Lakeside handicap, and Yellow Tulip was nominated for the Prairie State stakes for 2 year olds. Racing Secretary Charles McLennan has assigned 118 pounds to Billy Bee in the Chicago handicap, which will be run on Monday.

On the eve of the running of the Arlington Futurity, Racing Secretary Charles McLennan reminded horsemen and breeders that nomination blanks for the 1937 race [foals of 1935] are being distributed. This race will close its nominations on Sept. 15.

Jocky Tommy Luther has been engaged to ride P. M. Pike's Supply House in the Arlington Futurity today and will come on from Suffolk Downs to fill the engagement.

Jocky Eddie Arcaro suffered a new attack of the miseries again yesterday and canceled all his riding engagements. He will be in action today, then will move to Saratoga with Warren Wright's Calumet Farm stable horses.

RACING COLONY OFF TONIGHT FOR WASHINGTON PK.

Eye in Sky Installation to End Preparations.

This is move-in day at Washington Park, where Chicago's next race meeting will open Monday, extending thirty-one days through Labor day. With the conclusion of racing at Arlington Park a caravan of more than fifty vans will leave this evening for the south side track.

The totalisator, most modern betting machine in use, was getting a last check and additional features were being added to the huge odds board yesterday. The public address system, including the microphone at the starting gate, was pronounced ready for the meeting, and the steel workers have turned over the 122 foot eye in the sky tower to the technicians who are to install the camera.

The installation of the eye itself is the last important work to be done before the first field goes postward at 2:20 o'clock Monday afternoon. A few minutes after the conclusion of Arlington's eighth race today, Harry I. Day and his crew of specialists will begin dismantling the extensive apparatus that removes all doubt about the finishes.

Several trucks will be required to transport the camera equipment to Washington Park where it will arrive late tonight. Tomorrow will be devoted to putting it in place, a major job in itself considering the height of Washington's camera booth and the weight of the equipment.

The public is invited to Washington Park's open house tomorrow to inspect the grounds and get a look at the biggest of the eyes in the sky.

Ten Named for Arlington Futurity Today

newal of the Futurity and nearly all of the reserved seats in the grandstand and clubhouse enclosure sections had been sold last night.

This is the fifth running of the Arlington Futurity and the eighth running of the Arlington handicap. The first Futurity in 1932 was won by W. R. Coe's Ladysman. The next year Charles T. Fisher's Fire Star was the winner. A year later another filly, Toro Nancy, came along to win the rich prize for Norman W. Church of California. Last year the race was run over a heavy track, and Grand Slam, owned by the Bomar stable of Detroit, turned up as the surprise winner at long odds.

Discovery Holds Record.

The Arlington Handicap was first run in 1929. Misstep carried away the prize. Other winners of the long race were Pigeon Hole, Sun Beau, Plucky Play, Equipoise, Riskulus, and Discovery. The latter has the best time for the race. He ran the mile and a quarter carrying 136 pounds last year in 2:01 1-5.

The Arlington Futurity this year has produced the best racing ever offered there and the running of the two sweepstakes today will provide a fitting climax to a dazzling meeting.

CAVOUR, raced wide, began to improve his position after a quarter, easily disposed of PEP TALK in the final eighth and drew out fast in the late stages, but had little left. PEP TALK, a strong factor from the start and under stout restraint until the final quarter, quickly opened up a good lead, but could not withstand the winner's rush and tired in the final sixteenth, but outstayed ROYAL COUNTESS.

SECOND RACE—One mile. Purse, $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

MARY CARDINAL, on extreme outside early, raced to the lead with a rush approaching the stretch and continuing well under light weight, held sway thereafter. BLUE BUD, under energetic riding from the start but slow to respond, came boldly on the outside through the final quarter. PAYNE, never a great distance back, saved ground where possible and held on with good courage.

Winner trained by B. A. Jones. Went to post at 3:20. At post 1 minute. Start good, for all but Odd Blue, from permanent stalls. Won handily.

GALLIENNE made the early pace under snug restraint, drew out into a long lead after reaching the stretch, then weakened, but held WHITE GINGER safe without need of strong urging. WHITE GINGER, reserved off the pace and saving ground where possible, entered contention gradually and stood a long drive gamely. MERRY CAROLINE, well rated, was placed to strong urging after reaching the final quarter and held on with good courage.

SLEEPY JOE, hustled into command and taken under restraint after crossing to inside when leaving the chute, gamely withstood LE MISERABLE'S extended challenge and weakened after drawing clear entering the final eighth, but was not seriously endangered. OUT PUT, well up from the start, and under vigorous riding on the stretch turn, bore over soon after reaching the final quarter and closed strong after coming to outside in the last eighth. LE MISERABLE, forced to race wide after the first three-eighths, challenged gamely on the stretch turn

BOOTLESS, raced wide from the start, moved to the leaders quickly after reaching the turn, opened up a long lead with a rush approaching the final eighth and easily held sway thereafter. UNDERSTAND, away fast but unable to hold the advantage, was far back for five-eighths, then rallied and coming with fine speed through the final quarter, outfinished THREADNEEDLE. Lattter, under stout restraint for five-eighths, closed strongly under timid handling.

SIXTH RACE—One mile. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 1-5, :47, 1:12 3-5, 1:38 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bon Centime $9.60 straight, $5.80 place, $4.20 show; Fanfern $10.40 place, $5.60 show; Lookabout $5.20 show. Winner trained by N. Burger. Went to post at 4:43. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; place same.

BON CENTIME, factious at the post, but away well and rushed in the early stages to secure the inside position as FANFERN alternated with him in making the pace, was given a breathing spell on the turn and standing pressure gamely the entire final quarter outstayed FANFERN. Latter, on outside throughout and in hand for about five-eighths, held on with good courage though unable to get up. LOOKABOUT was under strong riding the final three-eighths and also held on courageously.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

LADY GREENOCK, forced very wide on the first turn and reserved off the pace, responded strongly when called upon and racing into a good lead, won in hand, but pulled up lame. NIGHT FLOWER, rated along under light restraint for three-quarters, could not withstand the winner, but held on well. STROPHE, outrun early, saved ground when beginning to move up on the second turn, came to outside in stretch and closed boldly.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by E. G. Hoffman. Went to post at 5:40. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; place same.

JUSTA SHEIK improved his position gradually, was forced to come around the leaders, wore down STORM ANGEL and was ready to draw clear. The latter took command early, set the pace under mild reserve, responded gamely when urged, but was not good enough. CANTERON, prominent most of the way, closed gamely.

WHOLESALERS' TRADE EXPANDS IN LAST WEEK

Some Lines Are Sold Far Ahead of Output.

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—Heavy consumer buying, which currently is running at the best rate in six years, is forcing up wholesale volume and general industrial activity, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., declared today in its weekly trade review.

Apparently impervious to the influences ordinarily dominant at this period, prospects of summer curtailment of industrial operations have yet to become discernible, the review said. During the week more divisions set their rate to a higher gear, as orders mounted and insistence grew for deliveries two to four weeks earlier than originally scheduled.

Many Sold Far Ahead.

"In some of the cotton textile branches," the study said, "orders cannot be taken for shipment prior to October, and most of the furniture factories are sold up to the end of September. Some of the typewriter manufacturers are two to four months behind shipping dates, and makers of radios and pianos are trailing their orders, despite weekly increases in schedules.

"In nearly all wholesale lines merchandise was assembled in preparation for the heaviest consumer demand experienced since 1929. As stocks of summer goods neared depletion requests for immediate delivery were numerous, many retailers planning to advance their usual September openings to mid-August.

"The reinstatement of orders canceled a month ago by some of the country merchants also was a factor in holding the week's wholesale volume 20 to 35 per cent over the 1935 comparative.

Mark-Down Sales Unnecessary.

"Extending the momentum gained in the week preceding, buying at retail recovered the vigorous pace of May and June. Summer apparel and millinery stocks have been depleted in many stores, eliminating the necessity for mark-down sales for the first time in years, and fresh fall merchandise is being displayed.

"Much of the week's buying was centered in jewelry, silverware, radios, and pianos. August furniture events were opened auspiciously, with floor coverings and house furnishings included in the offerings. There was an abrupt rise in sales of canned goods and packaged foods.

"The majority of the cities reported sales 5 to 10 per cent larger than a week earlier. This lifted the estimated volume of retail distribution for the country as a whole 12 to 20 per cent ahead of the average for the corresponding 1935 week."

TAX INCREASE TO RAISE RENTS, SAY REALTORS

General 10 Per Cent Boost Scheduled.

BY AL CHASE.

H. H. HAYLETT.

Higher taxes will be passed along to the tenant through advanced rentals, it was disclosed yesterday at an "emergency meeting" of the renting and management division of the Chicago Real Estate board. Representatives of various neighborhood real estate organizations announced that an approximate 10 per cent increase in rents is scheduled for Oct. 1 throughout the city. In some localities increases will range to 17 per cent, it was said.

This will be the second rent increase this year, boosts of 10 to 15 per cent having been put into effect on May 1 in certain classes of apartments. Realty men agreed that the rise in the 1935 tax bill justified passing along the burden to the renter.

Declares Boost Waranted.

"The 1935 tax rates are higher than in 1930, and 1936 will be about $1 above 1935," said Howard H. Haylett, manager of the Chicago real estate board. "Some one has to foot the bill. The tax increase for 1935 is sufficiently high to warant a rental increase. And until the public becomes tax conscious we can hope for little help from the taxing powers. There has never been in the last six years a time when property owners were more justified in asking a rent increase."

Carl L. Kingsbury, president of the South Side Renting Men's association, the members of which manage approximately 40,000 apartments, said that letters already have been mailed notifying tenants of Oct. 1 rent boosts. About 60 per cent of the flats have been raised $2.50 to $3, he said. Twenty per cent have been boosted $5 and 20 per cent are not increased.

Many Notified of Increase.

Burt R. Kiely, chairman of the board of governors of the renting and management division, who presided at yesterday's meeting, said apartment renters on the north side were notified of a general 10 per cent increase on Oct. 1.

Louis L. Schorsch, president of the Northwest Side Real Estate board, said that in addition to the spring boost of 10 to 14 per cent, apartments of the same type in his area would have their rents again raised 15 to 17 per cent.

George J. Kappes of the North Side Real Estate board, said he favored a 25 per cent increase as a result of the tax increase. Arthur Kruggel of the Chicago Real Estate board, said he would like to see a 20 per cent boost in the fall.

Glenn C. McBride of the Chicago Title and Trust company, said that all brokers handling that company's properties had been notified to ask a 10 per cent increase beginning Oct. 1.

"No Concerted Action."

"There has been no concerted action to boost rents," said Kiely. "This meeting is merely to discuss the effects of higher taxes on rents. We really will be helping the public if we advance rents for it's only by higher rents that we can put real estate back on its feet, and with realty prosperous again the country will be prosperous.

"A 10 per cent increase is reasonable when one understands that Chicago rentals are substantially lower than other big cities. In Washington rentals are 96 per cent of the peak; in New York they are 75 per cent and in Chicago they are only 51 per cent."

SPAULDING BLDG. BONDS WILL BE REDEEMED TODAY

Redemption in cash today of the entire new bond issue of the Spaulding building, at the northwest corner of Milwaukee and Spaulding avenues, amounting to $248,000, plus semi-annual interest for the six months ended July 31, 1936, was announced yesterday by M. A. Rosenthal, trustee under the trust deed securing the bonds.

Under the reorganization plan the original holders of 6¼ per cent bonds underwritten by S. W. Straus & Co., received new [illegible] per cent cumulative first mortgage sinking fund income bonds on a par-for-par basis. The mortgagor, the Sheldon Building corporation, redeemed $20,000 of bonds, leaving $248,000.

The redemption is being made through a refinancing loan provided by an eastern insurance company.

Montgomery Ward Buys 30 Millions of Illinois Goods

Montgomery Ward spent approximately $30,000,000 in Illinois last year for merchandise purchases alone, company officials announced yesterday. The merchandise thus purchased is sold by the company in its 500 retail stores, 47 states and through the nine mail order houses.

Drouth News Causes Break in Stock List

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 31.—Soaring prices for grains and other commodities, placing emphasis on more alarming drouth news, disturbed stock market traders today and resulted in irregularly lower prices. Losses of a point were numerous, and some of the more unsettled issues lost 3 to 5 points. Volume for the session remained around the average for the week, with approximately 1,600,000 shares traded.

Observers reported that the rank and file of the financial community was becoming more cautious on the possibility that the market was in an overbought condition. Much of the day's dealings was what commentators term selective as special situations developed to affect the positions of individual issues.

Can Shares Are Weak.

Shares of can companies were exceedingly weak on belief that short crops of vegetables as a result of the drouth would reduce their business volume. American Can lost 5¼ and Continental Can gave up 3 points.

The less satisfactory drouth reports also exerted their influence on the farm implement section. Case at one point showed a loss of 6 points and was off 4½ points at the close. Deere receded 3⅜, International Harvester lost 1¾, and Oliver Farm dipped 2.

Stocks displayed firmness in the opening hour, but pressure on the farm implements and motors unsettled the list as the session progressed, and profit taking was most in evidence in the final hour, with only a few stocks able to resist the weakening tendency.

Rubber and alcohol issues and some of the sugars managed to move against the trend. Goodrich, Goodyear, and U. S. rubber advanced fractions to a point. U. S. Industrial Alcohol rose 2½ points. Gains in the sugar section averaged more than a point.

Motors Sell Lower.

Motor shares had a report of decreased production to contend with and found the going rough. Chrysler sold off more than 2 points, and General Motors suffered a loss exceeding a point. Shares of steel companies were uneasy with big steel losing more than a point. Bethlehem lost a fraction.

Another excellent car loadings statement and prospects of higher earnings for July following a substantial increase in revenues for the first six months of the year failed to lift the average of the carrier section. Losses in the group were confined for the most part to fractions.

Oil shares dipped, with Standard of New Jersey giving up over a point. Mail orders weakened. Westinghouse and Eastman Kodak were good "blue chips." Western Union continued to recede on the news from Spain. Utilities finished lower.

Transfers of stocks on the exchange in July totaled 34,747,654 shares, compared with 21,428,647 shares in June. In July, 1935, the month's sales were 29,427,720 shares. Bond sales this month were $281,059,000, par value, compared with $220,549,000 in June and $235,675,000 in July last year.

ROADS OWNING RIO GRANDE SEEK TO KEEP CONTROL

New York, July 31.—(AP)—The proposal of a group of insurance companies that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad be given a share in control of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad appeared to have met an obstacle today. The reported unwillingness of the Western Pacific and the Missouri Pacific to give up any of their Rio Grande equity at this time seemed to block immediate progress for such a plan.

Missouri Pacific, which is controled by the Van Sweringen interests, and the Western Pacific each own a half stock interest in the Denver and Rio Grande, which is in bankruptcy. Western Pacific also owns the entire capital stock of the Western Pacific railroad, an operating company, also in bankruptcy.

It is understood in Wall street, however, that further consideration will be given later to unification of the Rio Grande and Western Pacific properties, which would have to be worked out before the Burlington would assume part control of the former.

YOUNG ELECTED RESERVE BANK VICE PRESIDENT

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago yesterday announced the election of C. S. Young as vice president, and the retirement of C. R. McKay, deputy governor and vice president, on Sept. 1. McKay is retiring on pension.

Young, who has been acting assistant federal reserve agent, will have charge of the bank supervision and examination department in his new capacity. Carl Schelling has been appointed assistant reserve agent. Bernard L. Rether has been appointed to the same position with the Detroit branch of the bank.

McKay has been a member of the bank's organization from its inception in 1914. The bank's announcement said that he is entitled to a "substantial pension" under the system's retirement plan.

Low Rail Fare Return Limit Will Be Extended to 30 Days

Effective Oct. 1 western railroads will extend the return limit on reduced fare round trip tickets to thirty days, it was announced yesterday. Under present tarifs round trip fares of 1.8 cents per mile in coaches and 2 cents in first class equipment have a ten day time limit. If a longer return limit is desired 2 cents a mile in coaches and 2½ cents in other cars is assessed. Extension rates over the thirty day limit will be dropped.

Peoples Gas Increase in Net Tops 3 Utilities

GEORGE A. RANNEY

A sharp increase in net income for the second quarter of the current year and a modest rise in profits for the first six months was reported yesterday for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company. Commonwealth Edison company reported net earnings slightly higher for the quarter, but lower for the six months, and Public Service of Northern Illinois made small gains for both the quarter and six months.

Second quarter net of Peoples Gas amounted to $627,780, equal to 94 cents a share on 664,421 shares outstanding, compared with $389,872, or 58 cents a share on 675,774 shares in the corresponding period a year earlier, George A. Ranney, chairman, reported.

Peoples Gas Net $1.97 a Share.

For the first half year profit totaled $1,309,977, equal to $1.97 a share on 664,421 shares, compared with $1,207,198, or $1.79 on 657,774 shares in the 1935 period. In the twelve months ended June 30, last, net income was $1,173,768, or $1.77 a share, compared with $1,715,753, or $2.54 a share.

Ranney said court action will be instituted by the company if its plea for a proposed increase in rates is denied by the Illinois commerce commission. The schedule asked provides for an increase of approximately 3 per cent in certain rates to offset a rise in operating expenses, estimated at $800,000 for 1936, brought about by imposition of the Illinois 3 per cent occupational sales tax.

Seek Increase in Minimum.

The proposal also asks for a minimum bill of 90 cents instead of 60 cents, now in effect, in any month in which consumption of gas for general or residential use is less than two therms.

In submitting his report Ranney said no provision was made for federal income taxes or surtaxes on undistributed profits for the first half of this year, because deductions allowable on account of the refinancing program recently completed will, it is believed, offset net income which would otherwise be taxable. Provision of $51,025 was made for possible payment by subsidiaries of federal surtaxes on undistributed earnings.

Ranney said that continued progress is being made by the company in the sale of automatic water heaters, gas operated refrigerators, space heating equipment and gas ranges.

Edison Quarter Net Rises.

Commonwealth Edison company, in a report signed by James Simpson, chairman, announced net income for the second quarter of 1936 of $2,200,779, equal to $1.37 a share on 1,609,063 shares outstanding, compared with $2,142,423 or $1.33 a share on a slightly smaller capitalization a year earlier. For the six months ended June 30, profit was $5,384,086, or $3.35 a share, compared with $5,503,114 or $3.42 a share in the same period of 1935. The six month figure is slightly higher than was shown in a preliminary report a week ago.

Simpson said total taxes for the quarter were equal to $2.17 a share, well in excess of the $1.37 available for stockholders.

Public Service Company of Northern Illinois reported second quarter profit of $464,749, equal to 74 cents a share on 624,919 shares outstanding, compared with $436,895 or 70 cents on 625,988 shares in the same 1935 period. Six months earnings were the same as previously reported, amounting to $1,301,001, equal to $2.08 a share, compared with $1,265,481 or $2.02 a year earlier.

Chicago Bank Clearings in July Most for Years

Bank clearings in Chicago during July were the highest for that month in five years and with the exception of June, this year, the largest for any months since October, 1931, the Chicago Clearing House association announced yesterday. Total clearings for July were $1,347,075,882, compared with $1,358,503,162 in June and $1,124,982,846 in July of last year. In July of 1931 clearings totaled $1,576,503,854, and in October, 1931, $1,378,737,061.

BUILDING PERMITS IN JULY AGAIN PASS TWO MILLION MARK

For the second time this year monthly building permits issued by the city building department exceeded the two million dollar mark in July. Permits with an estimated value of $2,199,655 were issued for 180 buildings, according to Building Commissioner Richard E. Schmidt. This total compared with 159 permits with a value of $2,021,131 in the preceding month and 113 permits valued at $1,294,990 in July, 1935.

TWO BUDD FIRMS TO ISSUE BONDS OF 12½ MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., July 31.—(AP)—Registration statements were filed today by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company and Budd Wheel company, both of Philadelphia, for the issuance of securities totaling $12,500,000 in connection with a plan to liquidate the Budd Realty corporation.

The manufacturing company proposed to issue $10,500,000 of first mortgage convertible 4½ per cent bonds and 525,000 shares of no par noncumulative common stock, which would be reserved for conversion of the bonds. Warrants would be issued to common stockholders entitling them to purchase the bonds.

Of the proceeds, $5,500,000 would be used to acquire 75 per cent of the Budd Realty corporation's property, $3,580,000 would be used for payment of a first mortgage to the reserve bank of Philadelphia, approximately $1,200,000 would be used for the redemption of outstanding obligations and $330,000 for payment of accrued rental to Budd Realty corporation.

The Budd Wheel company proposed to issue $2,000,000 of first mortgage convertible 4½ per cent bonds and 133,333⅓ shares of no par noncumulative common stock to be reserved for bond conversions. Bond purchase warrants would be issued to stockholders. Proceeds would be used to acquire 25 per cent of the Budd Realty corporation property and to increase working capital.

HOLDS SEVERAL UTILITIES EXEMPT FROM U. S. RULE

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey today granted injunctions restraining United States attorneys for the southern and eastern districts of New York, the postmasters of New York and Brooklyn, and the United States marshals for the two districts from enforcing the provisions of the public utility act of 1935 against the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc.; New York Edison, Inc.; Brooklyn Edison, Inc.; Central Union Gas company, New Amsterdam Gas company, their officers and directors, and against the Cities Service company and its affiliates.

Judge Caffey ruled that section three of the act provided for excepting such corporations from the regulatory provisions thereof. He declined to pass upon the constitutionality of the law, ruling that as it does not apply to the plaintifs and that the question, as far as they are concerned, is an abstract one.

Had Only 1 Order During Depression, Now at Capacity

Columbus, O., July 31.—(AP)—After receiving only one order since 1930, Ralston Steel Car company officials said today four orders for a total of 1,900 cars now on their books would provide steady work for a full force of 700 employés the remainder of 1936.

Frank A. Livingston, president, said the only order received during the depression years was one for 750 cars, about two months' work, in 1934.

Sharply higher earnings during the second quarter and first half of 1936 were reported yesterday by more of the larger companies.

Curtis Publishing company, Philadelphia, reported a net profit of $2,320,664 for the quarter ended June 30. After dividend requirements on the 7 per cent preferred stock, this was equal to 45 cents a common share, without provision for undistributed profits surtax. It compared with $1,787,207, or 15 cents a share, in the preceding quarter, and $1,994,448, or 27 cents a share, in the like period of 1935.

In the first six months of this year net profit of $4,107,871, or 60 cents a share, on, the common stock, compared with $3,773,297, or 42 cents a share, in the first half of last year.

This compares with $898,437, or 49 cents a share on the preferred, in the preceding twelve months.

Continental Gas and Electric corporation and subsidiaries reported net income of $3,801,691 for the twelve months ended June 30. This was equal to $20.15 a share on the 7 per cent prior preference stock, against $2,419,912, or $12.89 a share, in the preceding twelve months. The company is controled through a subsidiary by United Light and Power.

American Light's Profits Rise.

American Light and Traction company and subsidiaries had net income of $5,179,421 in the twelve months ended June 30. This was equal after preferred dividend requirements to $1.58 on the common stock, compared with $3,885,366, or $1.11 a share, a year ago.

St. Joseph Lead company reported for the six months consolidated net income of $647,175, without provision for undistributed profits surtax, equal to 33 cents a share on the capital stock, against a net loss of $78,399 in the first half of last year.

BUTTER AND EGG PRICES HIGHEST FOR SIX YEARS

Potatoes and Cheese Also at New Peaks.

A new wave of speculative buying in reflection of drouth ravages yesterday carried butter and egg futures to the highest prices in six years and potatoes and cheese futures to the best levels since trading was inaugurated on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. At the same time lard futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were whirled up to fresh tops for the season.

Gains were small for the most part but sufficient to boost prices, which have been steadily mounting for the last several days, above former top levels.

The advance on the Mercantile exchange was accompanied by the heaviest trading of the year, with sales of butter amounting to 208 cars, eggs 249 cars, potatoes, 34 cars, and cheese, one car.

November Butter 35½ Cents.

November butter pushed ahead ½ cent per pound to 35½ cents, where it closed. October eggs gained ⅛ cent to 27¼ cents a dozen. October potatoes climbed 5 cents a hundred pounds to $2.25 and the January delivery advanced 7 cents to $2.64. November cheese rose ¾ cent per pound to close at 19½ cents, its best level for the season.

Liberal withdrawals of butter and eggs from cold storage, coupled with continued dry weather in leading producing areas and reports that production of both commodities is steadily decreasing, inflamed speculative imagination. Little attention was paid to advices from New York that purchases of butter are being made from Holland and Lithuania.

Fresh Butter and Eggs Rise.

Fresh butter advanced ¾ cent to 34¾ cents per pound in the Chicago cash market. This was 4 cents above the level prevailing on July 1. Fresh eggs gained ¼ cent to 24½ cents, also a rise of 4 cents during the month.

Lard Prices at New Highs.

All deliveries of lard established new top prices for the season with the single exception of the July contract, trading in which was suspended with the close of the month yesterday. Buying orders from the east were heavy and prices advanced 25 cents per 100 pounds before profit taking pressure and selling by cash commission brokers checked the upturn.

Prices reacted near the close when corn started to recede, but final quotations represented net gains of 5 to 20 cents, the widest advance being scored in the July delivery. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

AUTO OUTPUT FALLS SLIGHTLY IN LAST WEEK

Automobile production in the United States and Canada declined slightly this week, according to two leading statistical agencies.

Ward's Reports, Inc., placed output at 97,755 cars and trucks, compared with 99,329 last week and 69,615 for the same week last year.

Cram's Reports, Inc., said output amounted to 95,970 assemblies, against 96,863 a week earlier and 69,415 last year.

Ward's estimated August output will amount to 250,000 units. While three plants are terminating production on the present 1936 series of cars this week, next week's production is not likely to fall more than 10 per cent, the agency commented.

Rise in Corn Sets Record for 88 Years

The advance in corn prices during July established a new all-time record in the 88 years of existence of the Chicago Board of Trade. On July 1 the September delivery sold at 66⅛ cents and yesterday at $1.02 per bushel, showing a gain of 35⅞ cents.

There have been several instances when the range in corn prices has been greater than during the last month, but they represented downward movements. In July, 1920, the July delivery sold between $1.74 and $1.32¾ per bushel, a range of 41¼ cents between the high and low. In September, 1919, September contracts dropped from a high of $1.77½ on Sept. 1 to a low of $1.30½ on Sept. 12.

H. C. Donovan, crop expert, returned yesterday from an inspection tour between Springfield, Ill., and Ottumwa, Ia. In a report to Thomson & McKinnon he said condition of corn was very spotted, ranging from a total failure in the west to a reasonable promise as far as outward appearance went in some of the eastern sections.

The number of barren stalks in the latest planted fields is pronounced, he said, with only 5 to 10 ears per 50 hills in some sections. He expressed doubt whether the yield of grain can reach one-third of a normal crop in the sections covered.

Farmers are cutting corn in central Illinois to feed live stock. Their pastures have been burned by the severe heat and drouth. Although a good hay crop was harvested earlier in the season, the green corn fodder can be used to better advantage now than later when the stalks are dried out and the hay must be saved for winter.

Wet weather was reported again yesterday over a large part of Europe and fears of a wet harvest for wheat were a factor in causing an advance of about 5 cents per bushel in wheat futures in Liverpool. They sold at a new high since 1930.

The European wheat crop this year, exclusive of Russia, is estimated around 1,480,000,000 bushels, or 80,000,000 bushels less than in 1935 and the smallest since 1932. Following the latter year Europe imported 582,000,000 bushels of wheat and non-European countries took 188,000,000 bushels.

For the season which ended yesterday, aggregate world's imports were only 494,000,000 bushels, which included 37,000,000 bushels from Canada to the United States.

The average price of wheat in exporting countries at the present time is more than double that which prevailed in 1932-'33, when it was around 54 cents per bushel in Liverpool, and only 51 cents per bushel at Kansas City.

Threshing of spring wheat will be started soon in the southern sections of the three western Canadian provinces, according to the Canadian National railway weekly report, the earliest on record. Estimates on yield range from nothing up to 20 bushels per acre.

Rain is urgently needed for filling coarse grains. The effect on oats and barley has been even more disasterous than on wheat. Prospects are still for a fair flax seed crop.

SEVERAL BANKS TO RETIRE STOCK SOLD RFC TODAY

Among the larger banks which will make retirements today of preferred stock held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation are the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, the American National Bank and Trust company, and the National City bank of New York.

The Continental will retire 5 million dollars of the 50 millions par value held by the RFC. The American National will retire $100,000 of a total of $750,000, and National City will redeem all of the 50 millions held by the RFC.

Other banks which recently made retirements were the First National of Chicago, the Chase National of New York and Manufacturers Trust of New York, the latter being in notes.

Nearly All S. O. of N. J. Stations Leased to Dealers

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—It is understood that Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has virtually completed the leasing of its service stations to dealers throughout its territory. The company gave as a principal reason for taking this action the difficulty of continuing profitable operation under the many substantial and petty taxes to be paid.

CORN ABOVE $1 FOR FIRST TIME SINCE LATE 1930

All Grains Rise on Wave of Buying.

The dollar quotation for corn futures returned to the blackboards yesterday on leading grain exchanges for the first time since September, 1930, while cash corn in the sample market of the Chicago Board of Trade sold at $1.15½, the highest price since 1925. The records show this has been the greatest bull market in July in the history of the Chicago exchange.

A wave of speculative buying yesterday lifted prices of all grains for future delivery, both here and abroad, to new high levels for the season. Corn led with an extreme advance of 4 cents per bushel to $1.02. The upturn was the maximum permitted for one day under exchange regulations and marked the tenth time in the last twenty-six business days that the "limit" has been reached.

Wheat Rises in Chief Markets.

Wheat prices moved up 3 to 5¼ cents in leading markets and oats advanced more than 2 cents before heavy profit taking caused a rapid recession from the top. Net gains on wheat in Chicago were about ½ cent, while corn was up as much as 3½ cents, oats 1 cent, rye ½ cent, and barley 3 cents.

Gains in wheat in other North American markets ranged from ½ to 5 cents, the latter gain being on durum wheat at Duluth, which was up the limit permitted for the day. Cash No. 1 amber durum there was quoted as high as $1.61 per bushel in car lots, the highest price in a number of years. There is said to be a world-wide shortage of durum wheat this year. Liverpool wheat futures continued skyward, closing 4 to 4¼ pence higher. Increased speculative buying and the low Canadian crop estimates served as the principal influences.

Operators Have Big Profits.

Large profits were said yesterday to have been piled up by operators who bought grain early last month and the converting of the big winnings into cash was regarded as largely responsible for the recession from the best prices yesterday.

Closing trades on wheat on the active deliveries in leading markets and for corn and oats in Chicago, with the high and low levels last month, follow:

Expect Heavy Corn Imports.

According to reports in the trade yesterday Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's recent prediction of heavy corn imports from Argentina, as the result of the drouth in the United States, will be realized. It was estimated American interests purchased 1,000,000 bushels of Argentine corn yesterday and about 15,000,000 bushels were said to have been taken for shipment by the end of October.

There was no change in the character of reports on the corn crop yesterday. Steady deterioration was indicated, and the same condition applied to the Canadian spring wheat crop.

Closing trades on the September delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yester.	Thurs.	Week ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$1.10⅜	$1.10½	$1.03½	$1.01⅛

Rye	.79⅝	.78⅝	.72⅝	.68

Canadian Export Sales Large.

Export sales of 3,000,000 bushels of Canadian cash wheat were reported to have been made yesterday, including additional amounts of durum to Mediterranean countries, presumably to Italy, which was said to have been in the market in the last few days. The wheat trade will lack the initiative usually given by the Liverpool market today and Monday, as the English market will be closed for "bank holidays."

FREIGHT TRAFIC CLIMBS ALMOST TO 1931 VOLUME

Revenue Loadings Last Week 731,062 Cars.

Loadings of revenue freight on American railroads during the week ended last Saturday were 731,062 cars, the highest level reached since the week of Oct. 19, 1935, and the third largest since October, 1931. The total last week continued to run just under the comparable 1931 level, which was around 760,000 cars a week, but topped all intervening periods by a wide margin.

Last week's total represented an increase of 10,660 cars, or 1.5 per cent, over the preceding week, an increase of 135,490 cars, or 22.7 per cent, over a year ago, and an increase of 121,020 cars, or 19.8 per cent, over the corresponding period of 1934.

Volume Near 1931 Level.

Volume last week lacked only 10,690 cars, or 1.4 per cent, of catching up with the movement for the comparable week in 1931. For the seventeenth consecutive period the weekly aggregate established a five year seasonal peak.

New locomotives on order July 1 this year included 67 steam and 23 electric and Diesel, compared with 6 steam and 22 electric on July 1, 1935; 40 steam and 107 electric on July 1, 1934, and 58 steam and 30 electric and Diesel on June 1 this year.

20 MILLION LOSS OF BIG TRUST IS REVEALED BY SEC

Many Deals Are Hidden from Stockholders.

Washington, D. C., July 31.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission, investigating investing companies, asserted today that Interstate Equities corporation of New York, since merged into Equity corporation, had losses totaling $20,566,527 during the period when Bancamerica-Blair corporation was the directing force behind the company.

Of this total, $5,044,840 represented syndicate losses the true nature of which was not disclosed in any of the reports made by the corporation to its stockholders, counsel for the SEC asserted. The total loss represented a shrinkage in the initial capital from $25,000,000 to $4,443,478.

Long String of Losses.

The evidence today disclosed that Interstate Equities was a participant in more than a score of syndicates from September, 1929, to May, 1932, the period of Bancamerica-Blair domination. Charles G. Wiggin, who was a vice president of Interstate during the Bancamerica-Blair control period, testified that in 44 stock operations the loss exceeded $100,000 in each instance. The syndicate losses ranged from $89,000 in the matter of a contract involving nearly $5,000,000 of the Piedmont Hydro-Electric company, an Italian concern, to more than $1,400,000 which was Interstate's part of a loss suffered in a General Foods stock transaction engineered by Bancamerica-Blair.

Wiggin admitted that the SEC was stating a fact when it asserted that these syndicate transactions were not revealed as such in reports to stockholders and that the stocks which Interstate acquired in these losing deals were transferred to the investment portfolio. He did not believe, he said, that a corporation was obligated to reveal its bookkeeping methods to stockholders or any one else.

Principal Syndicate Losses.

Interstate's losses in the principal syndicates during the Bancamerica-Blair period of sponsorship were: Argentine Navigation company, $21,219; Consolidated Railroads of Cuba, $516,351; Cuba company, $308,191; General Foods corporation, $1,432,678; General Theaters Equipment, Inc., $467,890; the Glidden company, $112,676; Piedmont Hydro-Electric [Italy], $89,983; Punta Alegre Sugar company, $132,669; Rio Grande Oil corporation, $395,677; St. Louis-San Francisco railway, $455,622; Simmons company, $325,165; Tidewater Associated Oil company, $793,953.

In a few syndicates Interstate realized a profit, these syndicates involving stock of the Aeolian company in which the profit was about $80,000; American Piano, $57,000; Douglas Aircraft, $4,395; Fox Film, $97,000, and Phillips Petroleum, $19,200.

I. C. C. Concludes Hearings on New Rail-Truck Service

C., July 31.—Hearings on the proposal of the Keeshin Motor Express company of Chicago, described as the nation's largest trucking organization, to establish joint rates with the Chicago Great Western railroad on freight moving both by rail and highway were concluded today by the interstate commerce commission. Luther M. Walter, attorney for the Great Western, told the commission the combination trailer-flat car survey would "merely give back to the railroads a share of the trafic now moving by highway."

Chicago's June Trade Shows Largest Increase Over 1935

A survey of Chicago business for June, issued yesterday by the Chicago Association of Commerce, disclosed that the month was the best in comparison with 1935 of the current year. For the first time in 1936 nearly every major branch of activity covered in the monthly review showed a gain over the preceding year.

The only two figures running behind 1935 were those representing money values involved in new building contracts and real estate transfers. However, in each instance, there were more individual transactions during the month.

Small Building Increases.

The drop in dollar importance in these lines was ascribed by the association to the fact that in 1935 large companies were discounting economic improvement in their property expansion, while now the small homeowner and business man is entering the real estate and building field.

One of the sharpest improvements recorded over June, 1935, occurred in department store sales, which climbed 10 per cent. Another large gain was shown by public utility concerns in Chicago.

The trend in the live stock field also was noteworthy, the association said. For several months comparisons have shown less live stock handled by packing houses. In June an increase of 7 per cent occurred over the same period a year ago.

Consolidated Biscuit.

Please give me information on Consolidated Biscuit company. I saw in the papers they were consolidating and the Chicago exchange had approved listing of their stock.—Mrs. L. T.

Answer: Consolidated Biscuit company came into being last March in the merger of the Hampton Cracker company of Louisville with the Davidson Biscuit company of Mount Vernon, Ill., which was incorporated in 1920.

The Davidson capitalization of 100,000 common shares of $1 par value and $250,000 of 5½ per cent first mortgage bonds became the basis of the new company's financial structure.

Acquisition of Hampton was accomplished by issuance of 113,000 new common shares and 1,353 shares of $7 preferred stock, the latter of which was acquired from proceeds of sale of an additional $200,000 of bonds.

On June 7 the acquisition of Thinshell Products, Inc., of Chicago, was announced for $1,164,000 cash and 28,334 shares of Consolidated stock.

Present capitalization consists of $790,000 in 5½ per cent bonds and 323,000 shares of stock. The stock is listed on the Chicago Stock exchange and the New York Curb. Quarterly dividends of 15 cents a share were begun Dec. 23, 1935, by the Davidson company.

The company is now the fourth largest concern in its field in the United States.

Combined net sales of the three units which now form the company were $7,637,000 in 1935 and net income before charges and taxes was $393,000. On the basis of present capital structure this would be equal to 92 cents a share.

Pines Winterfront.

Investors' Guide: Please send me what information you have as well as your rating of the stock of Pines Winterfront.—E. F.

Answer: The principal business of the company is the manufacture of automobile radiator shutters. Operations have been unprofitable for the last five years. Recently the company announced that it was discontinuing several unprofitable lines and adding new ones.

The company's financial position has been unfavorable in recent years. To raise the net working capital the stockholders recently approved the issuance of $175,000 of 6 per cent two year notes. Large stockholder interests underwrote the issue.

Losses reported by the company for the fiscal years ending April 30 over the last five years follow: 1936, $182,000; 1935, $263,000; 1934, $81,000; 1933, $559,000; 1932, $290,000.

The stock is highly speculative.

AM. TELEPHONE TO CUT RATES ON DISTANCE CALLS

Expected to Save Users $6,000,000 Yearly.

A reduced schedule of rates for long distance telephone conversation, which, it is asserted, will save users about $6,000,000 annually, has been filed with the federal communications system by the American Telephone and Telegraph company, it was announced yesterday.

The rate cut, which affects all interstate telephone calls, will become effective Sept. 1, and is the seventh reduction in ten years. The new rates are applicable to long distance calls of more than 240 miles.

The announcement said that similar reductions are being made by many associated companies of the Bell system, which will bring the total yearly savings to long distance telephone users to more than $7,350,000.

Long Distance Calls Increase.

The reduction, the company said, was made possible by the present upward trend in long distance useage and by "operating results from the company's policy of continuous development and research."

Under the new schedule Chicagoans may make a three minute day call to New York for $2.50, compared with the old charge of $3. The night rate will be cut from $1.65 to $1.45. A New York-San Francisco day call will cost $7.50, compared with $9.

In addition overtime charges on all person to person calls for six minutes of conversation will be the same as the station to station overtime charges for the same distances.

The reduction will effect a saving of as much as 20 per cent in the charges for some calls, the announcement said.

Proposed Rates from Chicago.

New station to station rates for three minute calls between Chicago and several other cities follow:

	Day		Night
	Present.	Proposed.	Present.	Proposed.
St. Louis	$1.25	$1.15	$ .75	$ .65
New York	3.00	2.50	1.65	1.45
Miami	4.25	3.75	2.50	2.10
Los Angeles	6.25	5.50	3.50	3.25
Detroit	1.15	1.10	.70	.65
Minneapolis	1.60	1.40	.90	.85

Illinois Bell Telephone company officials here yesterday pointed to the steady reduction in long distance toll charges in the last ten years. The proposed rate of $2.50 between Chicago and New York compares with $4.65 in 1926. A call from New York to San Francisco, which will cost $7.50, then was $16.50 for three minutes.

Matthews, assistant freight trafic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad at Chicago, will retire today after fifty-four years with the company.

All Grains Climb on Wave of Buying.

soy bean crop in Illinois yesterday was officially reported at 65 per cent of normal, against 79 per cent on Aug. 1, last year. The record breaking drouth, it is believed, will result in a much larger acreage of beans being harvested for hay than was originally intended.

A Board of Trade membership sold yesterday at $4,500 net to the buyer, an advance of $100 from the previous transfer.

KANSAS CITY MARKET SOARS.

Kansas City, July 31.—(AP)—The corn futures market reached its highest levels here since September, 1929, today as prices shot up the full 4 cent limit at the opening. Profit taking nipped part of the advance but there was sufficient speculative buying to hold prices well above the preceding close.

September corn sold up to $1.03⅜. Since early last month, when drouth clamped its hold on the corn belt, prices have nearly doubled and had risen 42 to 47 cents a bushel during that period.

Wheat futures joined in the bullish movement and marked up the highest levels since 1933 September deliveries reached $1.14¼.

CANADIAN WHEAT HIGHER.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 31.—[Special.] — Winnipeg wheat futures touched the highest level in three years today under impetus of heavy buying. Prices finished ¼ cent lower to 1⅞ cents higher, with gains of nearly 4 cents at the high point reduced by late profit taking. The July future was quoted at $1.10¾. Trading was extremely active.

It being the last day of July, the Canadian wheat board made all short sellers come through with the price or the wheat. Some Winnipeg grain exchange firms suffered considerable loss. The board temporarily is continuing the minimum price of 87½ cents until the world situation clears. The minimum price to farmers came to an end today, as fixed by statute.

CORN PRODUCTS WINS IN SUGAR PATENT FIGHT

Federal Judge John P. Nields of the United States circuit court in Wilmington, Del., on Wednesday upheld the contention of the Corn Products Refining company that its patented process for the production of corn sugar is being infringed upon by Penick & Ford, Inc., its principal competitor, attorneys for the former concern announced here yesterday.

The decree enjoins Penick & Ford from further use of the process and orders an accounting of the profits that the firm has realized under it, they said.

Percival H. Truman, Chicago patent attorney who represented the Corn Products company, said that the decision lays the basis for the collection by the company of substantial damages from Penick & Ford. He declined to estimate the profits realized by Penick & Ford on the process, or the amount of damages that the court may award to his client. He indicated, however, that substantially more than a million dollars is involved in the case.

CHICAGO STOCKS FIRM; 11 REACH NEW 1936 HIGHS

Favorable Earnings Lead to More Activity.

Reaction to favorable earning reports was again reflected in yesterday's session on the Chicago Stock exchange. Volume crossed the 100,000 share mark for the first time since last March 3, totaling 103,000 shares. Prices were mostly higher, despite late profit taking in some issues.

Eleven stocks hit new peaks for 1936. They were Abbott Laboratories new shares, Bastian-Blessing, Crane, General Candy, Godchaux Sugar B, Noblitt-Sparks, Pines Winterfront, Quaker Oats preferred, Sangamo Electric, Williams Oil-o-Matic, and Zenith Radio.

Crane, Quaker Oats Rise.

Notable gains among these issues were 2¼ points in Crane and 3½ points in Quaker Oats preferred. Zenith hit its highest level since 1929 at 39⅝, but profit taking carried the issue off 1¼ points.

Heaviest trading was in Butler Brothers, which accounted for 14,200 shares, and closed ¼ point higher. There were 109 issues traded, of which 46 closed higher, 41 declined and 22 closed unchanged.

The exchange's monthly report on transactions showed a volume of 1,268,000 shares for July, compared with 820,000 shares in June and 935,000 shares a year ago.

Volume Larger This Year.

Since the beginning of the year volume has totaled 11,065,000 shares, which compares with 4,471,000 shares in the first seven months of 1935 and is within 12 per cent of the total volume of 12,483,000 shares for all of last year.

Dividend payments made during July by corporations listed on the exchange totaled $15,366,071, compared with $12,050,793 a year ago. Total dividend payments for the year to date amounted to $86,507,198, against $64,475,131 in the like period of 1935.

MOST CLASSES OF LIVE STOCK FIRM IN TONE

Most classes of live stock displayed a stronger undertone yesterday and in spots sold for a little more than on the preceding session.

Farmers' returns from top grades of hogs equaled the highest of the year, prices showing the week's full upturn with selected 210 pound averages of uniform weight as high as $11.30, the top. The average at $9.95 indicated 5 cents advance.

Only a few lots of steers and yearlings were offered yesterday, and these brought strong to slightly higher prices considering quality. No highly finished animals were in the run, the best here topping at $8.60, with the bulk at $6.40 to $8.50. Fed hefers strengthened in sympathy with the higher trade for steers.

Lambs were in demand at stronger rates, city butchers giving the $10.75 top for 83 pound stock, while packers bought downwards from $10.50, both interests paying the best prices of the week.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

What Threshers Eat.

July 31, 1936.

The threshing crew has been busy at the Yorkville experimental farm for the past few days, so the farm women have had to go to their cellars for extra jars of vegetables and fruits in order to feed the gang of men who swarm into their dining rooms every noon. We were watching two of the farm women prepare a typical midday meal for the crew the other day, so we have a good idea as to the amount of food consumed.

There was roast pork in the oven, escalloped corn was being prepared, more than half a peck of potatoes were peeled and ready to be cooked and mashed, and lemon pies were already out of the oven. Other items on the menu included fresh baked bread, peach pickles, and coffee. There also was an angel food cake for men who didn't want pie or who wanted both pie and cake.

We counted 14 men in the threshing ring, each doing his particular part of the job of getting the oats to the granary. Eight men were handling wagons, driving their teams back and forth to the fields, loading the shocked grain into the wagons and unloading it into the threshing machine. One man was running the steam engine which provides the power for the thresher, another was hauling water in the tank wagon to the steam engine. Still another worker was on the thresher—running the blower, keeping the machine oiled, and acting as general repair man on the job. Three of the crew were working on the two trucks which were hauling the oats to the granary.

The Tribune farm is the fourth one which has been visited by this crew. The farmers out here have a regular threshing ring . . . a circuit of farms where the grain it harvested in a coöperative manner. So the boys go from one farm to another with the outfit. From the Tribune farm the crew will move on to its fifth and last location in the ring where the old steam engine will be fired up again.

Report Fires on Farms.

Clarence was telling us the other day that numerous fires have been reported by farmers in the Yorkville area. In one 24 hour period there were fires on three Kendall county farms. One of these fires was within a half mile of the experimental farm and another occurred about six miles away. There was property damage on all three farms. The extreme dryness of the fields was given as one reasons for the fires.

There was also one small fire on the Yorkville farm itself, but serious damage was prevented by the quick work of one of the farm women and her small sons. The fire evidently started when a motorist threw a cigaret out of his car window, burning about two acres of dry grazing ground. Mrs. Art Wade noticed the fire and saw that it was endangering an 80 acre field of oats. She didn't have time to get help from the men, who were working in another section of the farm, so she called her boys and they went to work. They used wet burlap bags tied to sticks and brooms to fight the fire, finally getting it under control. If it had gained much more headway it would have burned the 80 acre field of shocked oats.

The fire menace is so serious because of the dry condition of fields and woods that the farm manager has asked all the workers on the farm to be especially careful about smoking when at work. In fact, everybody out here refrains from smoking anything when driving across the farm in trucks or wagons or while doing any work in the fields.
